CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1911.

GENERAL REPORT.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY JOHN CAMPBELL EARL OF ABERDEEN,
K.T., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O.,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND,
&c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

We, the Commissioners appointed under the Census (Ireland) Act, 1910, 10 Edward VII. and 1 George V., Cap. 11, have the honour to lay before Your Excellency our General Report and Tables relative to the population of Ireland on the night of the 2nd day of April, 1911.

The Census Act of 1910 in its general provisions follows the terms of the Census Act of 1900, save that it directs that in the case of married persons particulars should be obtained of the duration of marriage and the number of children born of the marriage and the number of such children living. The Act further directs that the forms and instructions should, subject to such modifications as were required by the Act, be to the like effect and contain the like matters and particulars only as those issued under the Census Act of 1900.

In the General Report of the Commissioners of 1901, and in previous reports, very complete accounts have been given of the history of the Census in Ireland, and also detailed particulars of the methods adopted and the arrangements made for collecting the necessary information. As the procedure on the present occasion has been similar to that heretofore adopted we have not thought it necessary to refer to it in detail.

The only additions to the forms were those rendered necessary to obtain the newly-required information as to duration of marriage and number of children.

As on previous occasions, the duties of Enumerators were discharged by members of the Royal Irish Constabulary and the Dublin Metropolitan Police, supervised by the District Inspectors and Officers of those Forces.

The country was apportioned into 208 Enumeration Districts, controlled by 202 officers of the Royal Irish Constabulary and 6 officers of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, who acted as Superintendents. Under their control were 3,608 Enumerators, 3,448 members of the Royal Irish Constabulary and 160 of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, the average number reported on by each Enumerator being 1,217 persons.

Under this organization the work of distributing, collecting, summarising and forwarding the forms filled by the public to the Central Office, together with the forms filled by the Enumerators, proceeded smoothly and rapidly.

All the necessary forms had been distributed on 31st March, 1911, and the collection of the Returns commenced on 3rd April, 1911. On the 18th May, 1911, we were able to submit to Government, for presentation to Parliament, the Preliminary Report, with Abstract of the Enumerators' Summaries, shewing the total numbers of the inhabitants in each County and Province, their Religious Professions, the numbers of Families and Inhabited Houses, with comparative figures for each decade from 1841 to 1911, as well as figures for the several Parliamentary Divisions in 1911, and for the City of Dublin, Urban Districts of Rathmines and Rathgar, Pembroke, Blackrock and Kingstown, as well as Provincial Towns which at last Census had a population exceeding 10,000. A series of comparative figures for the Dublin Metropolitan Police Area from 1881 to 1911 was also given.

On the 28th August, 1911, Your Excellency, accompanied by the Right Honourable the Chief Secretary, honoured the Commissioners by visiting the Office and inspecting the progress of the work.

The detailed analysis of the Householders and other forms occupied the attention of a total staff of 224, consisting of 3 Superintendents, 4 Assistant Superintendents, and 2 Deputy Assistant Superintendents, with the necessary Accounting and Correspondence Staff, and 75 Clerks, male and female, and 100 Boy Assistants. The Superintending Staff were selected from the General Register Office, and the positions of Clerks were filled by competitive examination after nomination, or open competition in the case of the Boy Assistants. All the examinations were held by the Civil Service Commissioners, who issued special certificates in the case of the Clerks.

The office work was divided into five principal Sections, which dealt with House Accommodation, Ages, Religious Professions, Occupations, and Vital Statistics.

The results of the analysis were published, as on former occasions, in separate volumes for each County, and for the County Borough of Dublin and for the County Borough of Belfast, the particulars for the other four County Boroughs being given in separate Tables in the Book for the County in which the County Borough is located.

The matter contained in the County Books was brought together by Provinces and issued to the public in the form of Provincial Summaries.

In the Tables attached to this Report we have brought together the several County and Provincial Tables, and in the first forty-one Tables shew the figures for all Ireland of the several matters dealt with in the corresponding Tables of the Books for the County or Province.

The remaining Tables give a more complete analysis of the results for the whole of Ireland under the several headings, and deal with additional matters relating to the health of the people, their Education, Birthplaces, etc., and with the condition of the occupants of Public Institutions. There are also a series of Tables shewing, by certain age periods, the duration of Marriages, the number of children born, and the numbers who had died before Census Night. These Tables contain information now for the first time collected.

We have also appended an analysis of Agricultural Holdings, by size and valuation, for the several Unions, Counties, and Provinces, as well as for the whole of Ireland.

We propose very briefly to indicate the leading features of this Census as compared with former enumerations, but, having regard to the findings of the Parliamentary Committee on Official Publications, published in 1906, we do not propose to embody in the text of our Report any repetition of the figures detailed in the Appendix Tables when it can be avoided.

The two following pages contain a Summary of the whole Country similar to that already given for the Provincial and County Divisions, then follow our remarks on the other Tables classified under the headings :—

I. Area, Houses and Population.
II. Ages.
III. Civil or Conjugal Condition.
IV. Occupations.
V. Birthplaces.
VI. Sick and Infirm.
VII. Inmates of Public Institutions.
VIII. Religious Professions.
IX. Education.
X. Irish Language.
XI. Emigration.
XII. Miscellaneous.
XIII. Land Census.
XIV. Particulars as to Marriages.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Area.—Ireland covers an area of 20,854,722* statute acres, of which 4,888,134, or 23·4 per cent., are in the Province of Leinster; 6,100,643, or 29·3 per cent., in Munster; 5,491,485, or 26·3 per cent., in Ulster; and 4,374,460, or 21·0 per cent., in Connaught.

Population (Table 2.).—The number of persons in Ireland, according to the Census of 1901, was 4,458,775, and according to the recent Census, 4,390,219 (2,192,048 Males and 2,198,171 Females), or 1·54 per cent. less than in 1901.

Provinces (Table 6.).—The following Statement shows, by Provinces, the number of persons in 1901 and 1911, and the increase or decrease during the decade:—

PROVINCES.	Population.		Increase or Decrease between 1901 and 1911.
			Number.
	1901.	1911.	Increase.	Decrease.	Rate per Cent.
Leinster,	1,152,829	1,162,044	9,215	.	0·8
Munster,	1,076,188	1,035,495	.	40,693	3·8
Ulster,	1,582,826	1,581,696	.	1,130	0·1
Connaught,	646,932	610,984	.	35,948	5·6
Total,	4,458,775	4,390,219	.	68,556	1·5

From the foregoing Statement it will be observed that there was an increase of 0·8 per cent. in the Province of Leinster, but a decrease in each of the other Provinces, viz., 3·8 per cent. in Munster, 0·1 per cent. in Ulster, and 5·6 per cent. in Connaught.

Families and Houses (Table 8.).—The number of distinct Families in Ireland at the time of the late enumeration was 910,748, the average number of persons in a family being thus 4·7. The number of Inhabited Houses was 861,879, showing an average of 5·0 persons to each house. In calculating these averages the Special Inmates of Public Institutions have been omitted.

Occupiers of less than 5 Rooms (Tables 9 and 10.).—The number of Occupiers (or Heads of Families) in occupation of less than five rooms in 1911 was 635,399, or 69·7 per cent. of the total number of Families in the Country, and of these 173 were occupiers of part of a room only; 58,250, or 6·4 per cent., of the total number of Families in the Country were occupiers of one room; 194,135, or 21·3 per cent., occupiers of two rooms; 228,588, or 25·1 per cent., occupiers of three rooms; and 154,253, or 16·9 per cent., occupiers of four rooms.

The number of Tenements of One Room in the Country was 58,334, comprising 17,157 cases in which the room had only one occupant; 29,554 where the room had 2, 3, or 4 occupants; 9,666 cases in which there were 5, 6, or 7 occupants; and 1,957 cases where the occupants exceeded 7 in number, including 230 cases of 10 persons, 95 cases of 11 persons, and 39 cases of 12 or more persons in the room.

Civic Areas.—Towns having in 1911, a population of 2,000 and upwards, are classified as Civic Areas. The Country contains 109 such Areas. In 1901 the population of these Areas amounted to 1,387,682. In 1911 it was 1,470,595, showing an increase of 82,913 persons, or 6·0 per cent.; but in the remainder of the Country there was a decrease of 4·9 per cent.

Pauperism (Table 12.).—The number of persons returned in 1901 as receiving relief under the Poor Law System was 101,297, or one in every 44 of the population; of this number 42,932 were inmates of Workhouses, and 58,365 were in receipt of Outdoor Relief. In 1911 the number returned was 77,184, or one in every 57 of the population; 38,313 of these being in the Workhouses, and 38,871 on Outdoor Relief, which figure includes 2,544 children Boarded-out, and 102 in Certified Schools.

The Sick (Table 12).—In 1901 the number of persons in the Country returned as Sick, on the night of the Census, was 35,649, or one in every 125 of the population. In 1911 the number so returned was 30,919, or one in every 142 of the population; of the latter number 10,819 were at their own homes, and 20,100 were in hospital.

Marriages, Births, and Deaths (Table 14).—For the purposes of Registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, the Poor Law Union forms a "Superintendent Registrar's District." Each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the Poor under the Medical Charities Act; these Dispensary Districts, save in a few instances, are identical with the Registrars' Districts. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of District Electoral Divisions.

* Including 481,293 acres under the larger rivers, lakes and tideways.

According to the returns of the Registrar-General, the number of Marriages registered in Ireland during the ten years ending 31st March, 1911, was 227,628, equal to an average annual rate of 5·1 per 1,000 of the population.

The number of Births registered during the ten years was 1,023,211, affording an average annual rate of 23·1 per 1,000 of the population.

The Deaths registered during the decennium amounted to 764,811, being equal to an average annual rate of 17·3 per 1,000.

Birthplaces of the Inhabitants (Table 25).—Of the Persons enumerated in Ireland in 1911, 24·3 per cent. were born in the Province of Leinster ; 23·3 per cent. in Munster ; 34.7 per cent. in Ulster ; 14·1 per cent. in Connaught ; 2·9 per cent. in Great Britain ; and 0·7 per cent. were born abroad.

Religious Professions (Table 29).—The following Statement shows, according to Religious Professions, the Inhabitants of Ireland in 1911 :—

RELIGIOUS PROFESSIONS.	1911.
	Number of Persons.	Per-centage of Total Population.
Roman Catholics, ...	3,242,670	73·9
Protestant Episcopalians, . . .	576,611	13·1
Presbyterians, ...	440,525	10·0
Methodists, ...	62,382	1·4
All other Denominations (and Religion unascertained), ...	65,652	1·5
Information Refused, . . .	2,379	0·1
TOTAL, ...	4,390,219	100·

From the above Table it will be seen that of the total Population of the Country in 1911, 73·9 per cent. were Roman Catholics ; 13·1 per cent. Protestant Episcopalians ; 10·0 per cent. Presbyterians ; and 1·4 per cent. Methodists. In 1901 Roman Catholics formed 74·2 per cent. ; Protestant Episcopalians, 13·0 per cent. ; Presbyterians, 10·0 per cent. ; and Methodists, 1·4 per cent., of the population of the Country.

Education (Tables 30 and 33).—In reckoning the number of Illiterates the age of 9 years has now been substituted for the age of 5, which was formerly adopted.

On this basis the details for the population aged 9 years and upwards, for Ireland, are :—

—	Population, 9 years and upwards.
	Numbers.	Proportion per cent.
Read and Write, ...	3,154,544	87·6
Read only, ...	115,054	3·2
Illiterate, ...	331,317	9·2
TOTAL, ...	3,600,915	100·

For comparative purposes the figures for those between the ages of 5 and 9, who can read and write, are shown in Table 30.

It is satisfactory to note that had the earlier age of five been taken as the starting point on this occasion, as in former years, it would have appeared that the per-centage of those unable to read or write, which was 18·4 in 1891, and 13·7 in 1901, had fallen to 11·9 in 1911.

Irish Speaking Population (Table 37).—The number of persons in the Country returned as being able to speak the Irish Language in 1911 was 582,446, representing 13·3 per cent. of the total population of the Country. Of these 16,873 could speak " Irish only," and 565,573 could speak Irish and English.

School Attendance (Table 38).—The number of pupils attending School in Ireland, according to the Census of 1901 (week ending 11th May), was 675,342. In 1911 the number returned (for week ending 13th May) was 704,807.

Emigration (Table 41).—The number of Emigrants during the ten years ending 31st March, 1911, who stated that they were from Ireland, amounted to 345,159 (171,875 males, and 173,284 females) ; the number for the decade ending 31st March, 1901, was 430,993 ; for that ending with March, 1891, 768,105 ; for that ending with March, 1881, 629,130, the total for the sixty years ended 31st March, 1911, being 4,191,552.

I.—AREA, HOUSES, AND POPULATION.

The territorial divisions of Ireland dealt with in the present Census are the same as for the preceding Census, when the Administrative Areas created under the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, were adopted for the statistical tables.

In the Townland tables, as in 1901, the old Civil Divisions (i.e., Baronies and Parishes) in which each townland is situated have been shown, in order to maintain the means of reference to the publications of earlier Censuses then instituted.

Further, with the view of facilitating reference between the areas embraced in the corresponding tables in the County Books of this and the preceding Census, a new Reference Index has been compiled, which gives the distinguishing number of each District Electoral Division in Ireland in the arrangement followed in Table VII.—the Townland Table—on each occasion. This index has been included with the Supplement, which we have prepared, to the General Topographical Index for Ireland (revised and re-issued after the Census of 1901), which sets out the territorial divisions in which alterations have taken place during the intercensal period. This Supplement will be published separately.

In addition, similar indexes, showing the District Electoral Divisions arranged by Counties and County Districts, have been already issued with the Summary Tables for each Province.

The Townlands, which are the units from which all the other territorial divisions are made up, are the smallest recognised divisions in the Census Publications and on the Ordnance Survey Maps. There were 60,679 townlands at the date of the Census. Table VII. of the County Books gives statistics of Area, Houses, Population, and Valuation for each townland.

The District Electoral Divisions (formerly Poor Law Electoral Divisions) consist of groups of townlands, and in no case does a District Electoral Division extend into more than one County. These Divisions numbered 3,673 at the date of the Census.

The Dispensary Districts were created under the provisions of the Medical Charities Act, 14 & 15 Vic., c. 68. They consist of groups of District Electoral Divisions, and were formed with regard to area and population. The Registrars' Districts, of which there were 828 on 2nd April, 1911, are, in general, co-extensive with the Dispensary Districts.

The Poor Law Unions are multiples of Townlands, District Electoral Divisions, and Dispensary Districts, and are conterminate with the Superintendent Registrars' Districts. They number 158, and vary in size from 347,835 to 41,089 statute acres. 112 are situated wholly in one county, 38 in two, while 8 extend into three counties.

The County Electoral Divisions are the divisions of the County for the purpose of election of members of the County Council under the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898. They consist of a certain number of the District Electoral Divisions, and are arranged with a view to the population of each County Division being, as nearly as may be, equal.

The County Districts, which consist of groups of District Electoral Divisions, were formed under the Local Government Act of 1898. They are divided into Urban and Rural Districts, each with a separate Council.

The Baronies were generally constituted from the ancient Irish divisions. They are composed of groups of townlands, and prior to 1901 the townlands composing the barony were grouped in the Census publications according to the parishes or portions of parishes in which they were situated. These areas have now ceased to be used for administrative or fiscal purposes.

The Civil Parishes are composed of groups of townlands, and, though no longer of importance from a statistical point of view, the names of both baronies and parishes have, as already stated, been retained for purposes of reference in the Townland Census; and a Table is given in each of the County Books showing the population of the Civil Parishes according to Religious Profession, as was done on the last occasion.

The Counties of Ireland as formerly existing were composed of groups of baronies. Under the operation of the Local Government Act, 1898, the boundaries of several counties were altered for the purpose of facilitating local government. In our tables, except where otherwise stated, the Administrative Counties then formed are those to which reference is made.

Ireland is divided into four Provinces consisting of groups of counties.

In addition to the above-mentioned territorial divisions, we give Statistical Tables for the Parliamentary Divisions, which are mainly formed under the " Re-Distribution of Seats, 1885, Act," and for the Ecclesiastical Dioceses and Provinces.

The area, houses, and population, in Ireland, in 1911, and some previous Census years, with the increase or decrease in the respective intercensal periods, are shown in Tables 1-3 and 42-6 appended to this Report.

The population of Ireland on the 2nd April, 1911, was 4,390,219, occupying 861,879 inhabited houses, on an area of 20,253,100 statute acres, exclusive of 601,622 acres under water, but inclusive of 2,960,072 acres under plantations, bogs, barren mountain, roads, fences, town-sites, waste, &c.

At the previous Census taken on 31st March, 1901, the population of the country was 4,458,775, and the number of inhabited houses was 858,162.

As will be observed from Table 2, during the last decennium the decline in the population was by far the smallest recorded at any Census since 1841, being a decrease of 68,556, or 1·54 per cent. of the population in 1901, as compared with a decrease of 5·23 per cent. in the preceding decennial period (1891-1901). The latter period, with the exception of the ten years, 1871-1881, had shown the previously lowest per-centage of decrease during seven decades.

The average number of persons to an acre in 1911 remains the same as in 1901, viz., 0·21, equivalent to 4·6 acres to each person.

If from the total land area we omit plantations, bogs, barren mountain, waste, and other uncultivated tracts, we find the acreage of the arable and pasture land of Ireland, in 1911, was 17,293,028, and the population to each acre 0·25, or 3·9 acres to each person.

In 1911 the civic areas of Ireland—that is, all towns of not less than 2,000 inhabitants—numbered 109, with a population of 1,470,595, as against 107 with a population of 1,384,929 in 1901, and 110 with a population of 1,244,113 in 1891.

The rural areas of Ireland (in other words, the remainder of the country) had a population of 2,919,624. In 1901 it was 3,073,846, and in 1891 it was 3,460,637.

The figures show an increase of the town population, accompanied by a decrease of the rural.

The number of inhabited houses in Ireland on the night of the Census, in 1911, was 861,879, being an increase of 3,717 over the total returned in 1901. This represents an actual increase of 0·43 per cent., whereas for each preceding decennial period decreases of 1·4, 4·8, 4·9, 3·4, and 4·9 per cent., respectively, were shown. During the same decades the population decreased at the respective rates of 1·5, 5·2, 9·1, 4·4, 6·7, and 11·5 per cent. The average number of persons to each house is now 5·0, compared with 5·2 in 1901, while there were 5·4 persons to a house in 1891, 5·6 in 1881 and 1871, 5·8 in 1861, and 6·3 persons to a house in 1851.

In 1911, as on previous occasions, the houses were classified in four divisions—1st, according to extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, according to quality, as shown by the number of windows in front; and 3rd, according to solidity and durability, as shown by the material of the walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e., its actual state. A reference to Form B 1 (Appendix) will show the principle upon which this has been done.

In the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses built of mud or perishable material, having only one room and window; in the third, a better description of house, varying from one to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good farm-house, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first class, all houses of a better description than the preceding.

The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz. :—

First Class accommodation, consisting of 1st class houses occupied by one family.

Second Class accommodation, consisting of 2nd class houses occupied by one family, or of 1st class houses occupied by two or three families.

Third Class accommodation, comprising 3rd class houses with one family each, or 2nd class houses with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.

Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

As stated in the General Report for 1881, the classification adopted on previous occasions was departed from in 1871 to a certain extent, many houses which in former Censuses would have been tabulated in the 3rd class being then included in the 4th, while the latter was sub-divided into two groups, one consisting of 4th class houses built of brick or stone, the other of mud cabins. The classification followed in 1841, and at each succeeding Census (except 1871), has been continued, and the houses now included in the 4th class are exclusively those built of mud or perishable materials.

From Table 49 it will be seen that in the Rural Areas there was, in 1911, an average of 1·03 families to each house of the 1st class, of 1·01 to each house of the 2nd, and of 1·00 to houses of the 3rd and 4th classes. For the Civic Areas* the average number of families to each house in 1911 was—1st class 1·59, 2nd class 1·10, 3rd class 1·02, 4th class 1·00. The average number of families to each house in 1901, for the Rural Areas, was 1·05 in 1st class houses, while the averages for the 2nd, 3rd, or 4th classes have not changed. In 1901, in the Civic Areas, the averages per house were—1st class 1·65, 2nd class 1·13, 3rd class 1·02 and 4th class 1·01.

The number of inhabited 1st class houses rose during the decade to 84,406 in 1911, from 75,225 in 1901, and the 2nd class increased in the same period by 61,791 while the 3rd class diminished by 62,474, and the 4th class fell to 5,092 in 1911, from 9,873 in 1901. The 2nd and 3rd class houses taken together number about the same in the present as at the former Census, showing a net decrease of less than 700 in the combined classes. In 1911 the 1st and 2nd class houses were 77 per cent. of the entire number, while in 1901 they were 70 per cent., in 1891, 62 per cent., and in 1881, 53 per cent. The 3rd and 4th class houses at the recent Census numbered 194,228, and these were inhabited by 194,911 families. In 1901 there were 261,483 houses of these classes inhabited by 262,609 families ; in 1891, 333,206 houses with 335,763 families ; and in 1881, 425,140 such houses containing 431,119 families. In 1911 the figures for the lowest (or 4th) class houses and the families inhabiting them were 5,092 and 5,101, respectively, or a little more than one-half the number in 1901, when they amounted to 9,873 houses with 9,905 families. These figures, again, were less than half of the numbers returned in 1891, while compared with the dwellings of this class enumerated in 1861 there are less than 6 per cent. now in existence.

The above figures show an increase in 2nd class houses of 61,791, and a decrease in 3rd class houses of 62,474. An examination of the details shows that this is in great part attributable to the fact that under the method of classification adopted the houses recently built under the Labourers' Acts have been brought within the 2nd class—a class originally intended mainly for dwellings of the character of good farm houses. The method of classification or the definition of second class houses will, therefore, require modification in the future, having regard to the general improvement in the houses of the country.

* See note (*) at foot of Table 49.

The total number of inhabited houses in Civic Areas increased during the last decade by 19,935, or 8·6 per cent., while the number of 3rd and 4th class houses decreased by 4,089, or 17·9 per cent.

In the rural districts the total number of inhabited houses decreased by 16,218, or 2·6 per cent., and the number of 3rd and 4th class houses by 63,166, or 26·5 per cent.

In addition to the particulars regarding house accommodation obtained and classified in the same manner as on previous occasions, details, which were obtained for the first time in 1901, have again been collected regarding the number of rooms occupied by any occupiers who at the time of the Census were in occupation of less than five rooms. Statistics showing the information resulting from this enquiry are given in Tables 9, 10, and 50.

Table 9 shows the total number of Occupiers (or Heads of Families) in occupation of less than five rooms, and from it we learn that the total number of such occupiers in Ireland was 635,399, or 69·7 per cent. of the total number of families in the country; and of these 6·4 per cent. were occupiers of one room, 21·3 per cent. occupiers of two rooms, 25·1 per cent. occupiers of three rooms, and 16·9 per cent. occupiers of four rooms. In 1901 it was found that 682,434, or 75·0 per cent. of the total number of families, occupied less than five rooms, while of these 8·7 per cent. were occupiers of one room, 26·7 per cent. of two rooms, 24·7 per cent. of three rooms, and 14·9 per cent. of four rooms.

Table 10 gives the number of tenements of one room, and the number of occupants of such tenements in Ireland. The total number of such tenements was 58,334—equal to 6·4 per cent. of the total number of families in the country, as compared with 79,149, or 8·7 per cent., ten years previously.

In Table 50 are shown, for each of the six County Boroughs and for the Town of Galway, the total tenements and the tenements of less than five rooms, distinguishing those occupied by various numbers of persons. In Dublin County Borough, in 1911, 75·8 per cent. of the total tenements of all kinds were tenements of less than five rooms, compared with 79·0 per cent. in 1901. In Belfast 33·7 per cent. of the total tenements were tenements of less than five rooms, while in 1901 the percentage was 45·7. In Cork the tenements of less than five rooms amounted to 68·0 per cent. of the whole, as against 69·5 in 1901. In Limerick out of the total number of tenements those of less than five rooms formed 72·4 per cent.—the percentage in 1901 being 75·4. In Waterford the tenements of less than five rooms were 65·7 per cent. of the total of all kinds, and in 1901 69·5 per cent. In Londonderry the tenements of less than five rooms were 54·6 per cent of the entire number, having fallen from 61·4 in 1901. Lastly, in Galway, the tenements of less than five rooms were 61·0 per cent. of the total tenements in 1911, while in 1901 they amounted to 66·5 per cent.

During the decade the actual numbers of one-room tenements in the several cities, &c., declined by 614 in Dublin, 249 in Belfast, 109 in Cork, 161 in Limerick, 15 in Waterford, and 82 in Galway, while Londonderry showed an increase of 25.

The principal points noticeable in this brief survey of the results obtained in the portion of our inquiry relating to houses and house accommodation are:—

That the average number of persons to each inhabited house is now less than at any previous Census;

That the actual number of inhabited houses has increased during the last decade;

That during the decennial period there has been a further substantial increase in the better class houses, accompanied by a corresponding reduction in houses of the inferior grades; and

That while the per-centage of tenements of less than five rooms to the total number of families has fallen, the percentage of occupiers of three and four rooms has increased, in addition to which it will be seen from our tables that in the case of tenements of one room the number of persons per tenement has diminished.

It is, therefore, manifest that a material improvement has taken place in the housing conditions of the people generally during the decade under review.

In Table 47 the Counties of Ireland are arranged, first, according to the actual numbers of the population, and, second, according to the density of the population in 1911; and Table 47A shows the County Boroughs similarly arranged. The largest number of inhabitants, 315,431, is returned for the County of Cork; and the smallest, 36,252 persons, for the County of Carlow, which, with the exception of the County of Louth, is the least in extent of the Irish Counties, and contains only a little over 1 per cent. of the entire area of the country.

The second county in order of population is Down, with 204,303, inhabitants; there are seven counties with more than 150,000 and less than 200,000 inhabitants; five with more than 100,000 and less than 150,000; sixteen with more than 50,000 and less than 100,000, and two (Longford and Carlow) with less than 50,000.

The Metropolitan County of Dublin is first in order of density of population with 0·79 persons per acre, and Armagh next with 0·39 per acre; Down third with 0·34 persons per acre, and Louth fourth with 0·32 persons per acre; there are four counties where the average number of persons to an acre was 0·20 and less than 0·30; fourteen where it was 0·15 and less than 0·20, and ten where it averaged less than 0·15.

The respective populations of the County Boroughs range from 27,464 for Waterford to 386,947, the population of Belfast; and the number of persons per acre from 15·81 in Londonderry to 38·53 per acre in Dublin.

Table 48 shows the counties of Ireland arranged in order of per-centage of increase or decrease of population between 1901 and 1911.

The only counties in which there has been an increase are Dublin and Kildare; the populations of which, respectively, are 9·41 and 4·82 per cent. above those for 1901.

The counties showing the largest decrease in population are Leitrim, Roscommon, and Clare, the respective decreases for which are 8·31 per cent., 7·70 per cent., and 7·21 per cent. of their populations in 1901.

Increases in the population of all six of the County Boroughs took place during the intercensal period, extending from 0·72 per cent. in Cork to 10·82 per cent. in Belfast.

Taking the provinces in 1911, Leinster has increased its population by 0·8 per cent. during the previous decade, while Ulster shows the smallest per-centage of decrease, viz., 0·1 per cent.; Munster comes next with 3·8 per cent., and Connaught has the greatest per-centage of decrease, viz., 5·6.

There was an increase in the number of inhabited houses in both Leinster and Ulster in 1911, as compared with the number in 1901, equal to 2·79 and 0·93 per cent., respectively, but in the two other provinces there was a decrease, that in Munster representing 0·50 per cent., and in Connaught 3·28 per cent.

In Table 51 are shown the total area, houses, and population, in 1911, for each Poor Law Union, together with the names of the administrative county or counties in which the Union is situated.

Table 52 exhibits the area, houses, and population, together with the number of electors in the Parliamentary Divisions of Counties and Boroughs in Ireland on the Census night.

With the exception of Carlow, which only returns one member to Parliament, each of the Parliamentary Counties is divided into two or more Divisions, each returning a member, and, exclusive of the University of Dublin, which returns two members to Parliament, there are in Ireland 9 Boroughs returning collectively 16 members to Parliament.

Of the County Parliamentary Divisions the smallest, as regards area, is that of South Dublin, which contains 21,820 acres. North Mayo, which comprises 510,007 acres, is the largest. The County Division with the greatest population is that of North Dublin, which contains 95,240 persons, with 12,286 Parliamentary electors. The next is South Dublin, with 89,354 persons, and 11,399 electors. The County Divisions with the least population are those of North and South Longford, which contain, respectively, 22,121 and 21,699 persons, with 3,631 and 3,695 Parliamentary electors. The Borough Parliamentary Division with the largest population is that of East Belfast, which contains 135,788 persons, with 17,176 Parliamentary electors, while the Borough of Newry has only a population of 12,841 persons, and 1,837 Parliamentary electors. The Borough of Cork is (with the exception of the University of Dublin) the only constituency in Ireland which returns two members to Parliament; it has a population of 102,435 persons, and 16,156 Parliamentary electors.

In all the Parliamentary Boroughs, except Londonderry, the Parliamentary and Municipal boundaries differ, considerable districts outside the Municipal area being included in the former. As stated at page 34 of the Report of the Census Commissioners for 1871, wherever at the date (1869) of the passing of the Act, 31 and 32 Vic., Cap. 49, the municipal boundary extended beyond the Parliamentary, the latter was made conterminate with the former, but, on the other hand, where the Parliamentary boundary extended beyond the Municipal, no alteration took place. As no subsequent changes in Municipal areas affected the ParliamentaryBoroughs, it results in the cases of Belfast and Dublin, in both of which considerable enlargement of Municipal territory has since taken place, that portions of adjoining County Parliamentary Divisions are found extending inside the Municipal boundaries.

The Tables next in order, Nos. 53-7, show, by Provinces, the area, houses, and population of Cities and Towns of not less than 2,000 inhabitants, together with the origin of their local government, if any, and this information is supplemented by Table 58, where towns, having local government, whose population did not reach 2,000, are given.

The various Irish municipalities are regulated either under ancient charters modified by the Municipal Reform Acts, 3 & 4 Vic., Cap. 108, and 5 & 6 Wm. IV., Cap. 76, or the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 17 & 18 Vic., Cap. 103, the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, and in some instances by special Acts of Parliament.

The civic communities are divided in our tables into five classes.

The Cities and Towns included in the first class are given in Table 53, which shows the area, houses, population, &c., of Cities and Towns containing over 50,000 inhabitants, and of this class there are in Ireland 3 only—Dublin, with 304,802 inhabitants; Belfast, with 386,947, and Cork, with 76,673. During the ten years between the Census of 1901 and that of 1911, the population of Dublin has increased by 14,164, that of Belfast by 37,767, and that of Cork by 551.

The second class, Table 54, consists of the Cities or Towns containing from 20,000 to 50,000 inhabitants. Of these there are 5, viz., the two Urban Districts of Rathmines and Rathgar, and of Pembroke, in the vicinity of Dublin; the Cities of Limerick and Waterford, in the Province of Munster, and Londonderry, in Ulster.

Table 55 shows that there are 14 towns containing 10,000 and less than 20,000 inhabitants, and of these 5 are in the Province of Leinster, 5 in Ulster, 2 in Munster, and 2 in Connaught.

In Tables 56 and 57 are shown, first, towns containing 5,000 and less than 10,000 inhabitants; and, second, towns containing 2,000 and less than 5,000. There were in Ireland, on the Census night, 23 of the former and 64 of the latter. The Province of Leinster contained 8 of the towns returned in Table 56, Munster 7, Ulster 7, and Connaught 1. Of the towns returned in Table 57, 19 are in the Province of Leinster, 17 in Munster, 22 in Ulster, and 6 in Connaught.

Towns with local government, but not containing 2,000 inhabitants, are given in Table 58. Of these there are 23 in Ireland. They are locally governed under the provisions of the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 17 and 18 Vic., Cap. 103.

The area, houses, and population of the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, and the Dublin Registration Area, as respectively constituted at the date of the Census, are set forth in Table 59.

SHIPPING.

A Summary of the Shipping for each Province will be found in Table 13. The total number of vessels returned was 1,659, and the total number of persons on board, 4,492.

The enumeration of shipping extended over a period of one week from the Census night, and included all vessels arriving in Irish waters during that week, the occupants of which were not enumerated elsewhere.

II.—AGES OF THE PEOPLE.

With regard to Ages, the outstanding feature of the present Census, as compared with previous Censuses, is the great increase in the number of people returned as being over 65 years of age; the numbers are :—

	Between 65 and 70.	70 and upwards.	Total over 65.
1891	88,648	212,019	300,667
1901	97,191	187,315	284,506
1911	145,871	295,027	440,898

The above figures would tend to show that in previous Censuses the old people were not aware of their age, and must have in a large per-centage of cases underestimated it. The Old Age Pensions Act led a considerable number of them to ascertain their correct age, and, in consequence, a large increase is shown in the number of people sixty-five years of age and upwards, and a considerable decrease in the age periods, 50-55, 55-60, and 60-65.

By referring to Table 60, it will be seen that the number under 30 years of age shows a marked diminution as compared with 1901, while those between 30 and 50 have increased.

An interesting comparison is made between the two Censuses in Table 61, by reducing the population to a basis of 100,000, the general results of which may be briefly stated thus :—

	1911.		1901.
Under 20 years	39,260	...	40,952
20-55	44,263	...	44,789
55 years and upwards	16,477	...	14,259
	100,000	...	100,000

From the foregoing it will be seen that in every 100,000 of the population we have a decrease as compared with 1901, of 1,692 in the number under 20 years, and of 526, in those between 20 and 55 years and an increase of 2,218 in persons aged 55 and upwards.

Centenarians are dealt with in Tables 64 and 65. As compared with 1901, the total number shows a decrease of 183, the figures being :—

	1901.		1911.		Decrease.
Leinster	67	...	47	...	20
Munster	189	...	84	...	105
Ulster	139	...	117	...	22
Connaught	102	...	66	...	36
Total	497	...	314	...	183

III.—CIVIL OR CONJUGAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

According to the Census of 1911 there were in Ireland 1,531,821 males aged 15 years and upwards, and of these 850,437, or 55·52 per cent., were unmarried; 589,861, or 38·51 per cent., were husbands; and 91,523, or 5·97 per cent., were widowers; and of the 1,557,759 females of the same ages, 751,738, or 48·26 per cent., were unmarried; 601,281, or 38·60 per cent., were married; and 204,740, or 13·14 per cent., were widows. Table 66 shows for both 1901 and 1911 the conjugal condition of the population at different age periods and the proportion per cent. of the unmarried, married, and widowed. From this table it will be seen that, compared with the Census of 1901, the proportionate numbers of unmarried males and females fell from 69·71 and 64·49, respectively, to 68·92 and 63·33. This decrease was accompanied by increases in the per-centages for married men and women, the respective numbers for husbands being 26·29 in 1901, against 26·91 in 1911, and for wives 26·19 in 1901, against 27·35 in 1911. The per-centage of widowers rose from 4·00 in 1901 to 4·17 in 1911, while the proportionate number of widows remains the same, namely, 9·32.

As very few people in Ireland between the ages of 15 and 20 are married, and as persons at that period of life constitute a large portion of the population, it has been considered desirable to exclude all persons under 20 years of age from our survey of the conjugal condition of the inhabitants of the various divisions of the country.

Table 67, which gives the proportion of single, married, and widowed persons in each province and county, and in the county boroughs of Dublin and Belfast shows that of the males in Ireland, aged 20 and upwards, 48·3 per cent. were bachelors, 44·8 per cent. husbands, and 6·9 per cent. widowers, and that the females were distributed as follows :—Spinsters, 40·4 per cent.; wives, 44·4, and widows 15·2. The large preponderance of widows, as compared with widowers, is in accord with results shown by previous enumerations, and is due, in great part, to the much more frequent instances of re-marriage amongst widowers, the Registrar-General's Reports for 1901 to 1910 showing that the re-marriages of widowers in the decade amounted to 19,459, while the number of widows re-married was 8,359 only.

In the Province of Leinster the proportion of unmarried males in the population, aged 20 and upwards, was 51·5 per cent.; in Munster it was 50·3; in Connaught, 47·4; and in Ulster, 44·7. The provinces do not come in the same order with regard to unmarried females, and there is a greater range between the highest and the lowest per-centages, viz. :—In Leinster the spinsters were 42·8 per cent.; in Ulster 41·1; in Munster, 39·6; and in Connaught, 34·5.

In ten counties in Leinster, in four in Munster, in five in Ulster, and in one in Connaught, the bachelors formed more than one-half of the male population aged 20 years and upwards. The highest per-centage (61·5) was for County Kildare, owing principally to the large number of unmarried in the military quartered on the Curragh. In four counties bachelors formed 40 and under 45 per cent. of the total number of males aged 20 and upwards, and in eight they were between 45 and 50 per cent. In Belfast the proportion was 35·6 per cent.—the lowest in Ireland—and in Dublin County Borough, 45·0.

Spinsters, aged 20 and upwards, were, relatively, most numerous in the County of Dublin, where they amounted to 51·5 per cent. of the total number of females of those ages, and were proportionately fewest in Mayo, in which county the per-centage was 32·6. In three other counties, also, viz.—Kerry, Galway, and Leitrim—the per-centage was under 35, and in twenty-seven it was between 35 and 45. The per-centage for the County Borough of Dublin was 39·6, and for Belfast, 38·0.

The proportion of husbands in every hundred males, aged 20 and upwards, ranged from 33·5 in the County of Kildare, to 57·8 in the County Borough of Belfast. In the County Borough of Dublin the per-centage was 48·4.

Married women in the County of Dublin were only 35·5 per cent. of the females, 20 years and upwards, which is the lowest county rate for the whole country, while the corresponding rate for Mayo was 50·6, the highest county rate in Ireland.

The per-centage of widowers among the male population, aged 20 and upwards, varied from 5·0 in the County of Kildare, to 7·8 in Down, and the proportion of widows among the females of the same ages ranged from 13·0 per cent. in the County of Dublin, to 17·4 in the County of Galway.

Table 68 shows for each province the number and proportion per cent. of unmarried, married, and widowed persons among the population, 15 years of age and upwards. This table also shows the corresponding numbers and per-centages for the two preceding decades.

Table 69 gives the number and per-centage of unmarried, married, and widowed in the female population between the ages of 15 and 45 years. This table shows that of 980,466 females within the age-limits named, 623,043, or 63·5 per cent., were unmarried; 337,366 or only 34·4 per cent., married, and 20,057, or 2·1 per cent., widowed. The very low proportion of married women, namely, 34·4 per cent., shows that the natural increase of the population must, of necessity, be small. The table gives details for each Province and County, and for the County Boroughs of Dublin and Belfast.

The proportion of married persons, as compared with the Census of 1901, has increased; the relative number of married persons of the reproductive ages, although still under the low proportion of 1891, is, nevertheless, an improvement on that of 1901; in the several decades, 1861-1901, the highest proportion of married people was to be found in the Province of Connaught; in 1911 Ulster had the largest per-centage.

IV.—OCCUPATIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

The classification of the Occupations is the same as that adopted on former occasions, consisting of 6 classes, which are sub-divided into 24 orders and 80 sub-orders.

I.—The Professional Class (Orders 1, 2 and 3)—This Class comprises persons occupied in the General or Local Government and in the Defence of the country, as well as those engaged in Professional Occupations, and numbers 141,134 persons, of whom 37,531 are females. These figures show an increase of 10,099 on the numbers for 1901, which is about equally divided between the males and females.

In the First Order are 35,289 persons engaged in the General or Local Government of the country, of which number 31,980 are males, including 11,643 members of the Police forces.

The Second Order, which includes members of the Navy and Army, as well as the pensioners of these services, shows a slight increase on the numbers for 1901, although there is a decrease of 938 in the case of the Navy.

The Third Order comprises the liberal and learned professions, at the head of which are placed in succession the members of the clerical, legal, and medical bodies. The numbers in this order show an increase for the decade of 7,886, being 2,325 males and 5,561 females. The principal male occupations showing increases are—Dentist, Professor, Teacher, and Civil Engineer; and the female—Schoolmistress, Nun, Hospital Certificated Nurse, and Midwife. In previous Censuses the great majority of nurses was tabulated under Hospital and Institution Service (Class II., Order IV., Sub-Order 2).

The Roman Catholic Clergy, who in 1901 numbered 3,711 members, in 1911 were 3,924. The Clergy tabulated under the heading Protestant Episcopalian, numbered 1,617 in 1901, and 1,575 in 1911. The Presbyterian Clergy show a decrease of 18—from 685 to 667—and Methodists of 33—from 277 to 244. The clergy of the religious bodies tabulated under the head of "All other Persuasions" have increased by 24, being 171 in 1911, and 147 in 1901.

Barristers and Solicitors increased by 30, the number in 1901 being 2,216, and in 1911, 2,246.

Physicians and Surgeons have slightly increased. They rose from 2,221 to 2,259. Amongst these at the latest enumeration are included 33 qualified female Practitioners, while at the former there were 20 so returned. The females connected with the Medical Profession have risen from 2,093 in 1901 to 6,679 in 1911. This number is principally composed of trained nurses, etc.

The number of persons concerned in teaching shows an increase of 1,619—the 20,585 in 1901 becoming 22,204 in 1911. By far the largest number in this sub-order are schoolmasters and schoolmistresses, with their assistants; the remainder are professors, lecturers, tutors, and governesses.

"Literary and Scientific Persons" number 7,688. Of these, 6,249 appear under the heading Student, the remainder being made up of Authors, Journalists, Reporters, and persons engaged in scientific pursuits, etc.

Civil Engineers and Surveyors have increased from 1,387 to 1,692. Persons tabulated in the sub-order "Artists" have increased from 4,261 to 4,570.

II.—Domestic Class (Order 4).—This Class comprises 170,749 persons, or roughly ten per cent. of those having stated occupations, and of this number 144,918 were females. The numbers of Domestic Coachmen or Grooms show a decrease of 1,954, the figures being 7,959 in 1901, and 6,005 in 1911. Domestic gardeners show an increase of 208, while male domestic servants increased from 8,828 in 1901 to 9,542 in 1911.

Those described as Domestic Servants form the great majority of the females in this Class, but show a decrease from 166,672 in 1901 to 125,783 in 1911. The other principal female occupations in this class showing decreases are:—Charwomen, Washing and Bathing Service, and Hospital and Institution Service; but, as already stated, the decrease in this latter occupation was caused by the inclusion of nurses in the Medical Profession (Class I., Order III., Sub-order 3). The number of illiterate females in the Domestic Class decreased from 23,336 in 1901 to 9,830 in 1911.

III.—Commercial Class (Orders 5 and 6).—This Class, engaged in Commercial pursuits, ranges from the merchant to the messenger, and is numerically the smallest in Ireland, its ratio to those specifically occupied being one in every 16. It consists of 111,143 persons, of whom 9,747 are females, who increased by 4,721 during the ten years.

The Fifth Order comprises merchants, auctioneers, accountants, commercial travellers and clerks, bank clerks and persons occupied in insurance. The male commercial clerks, who numbered 18,952 in 1901, have increased to 19,723. Females engaged as commercial clerks, who were 3,437 in 1901, became 7,849 in 1911. Female Typists are included in this Order.

Bankers and bank clerks, who numbered 2,675 in 1901, rose to 3,033 in 1911.

The Sixth Order comprises the persons engaged on railways, roads, rivers and seas, also in storage, in conveying messages, etc., and numbers 62,947 persons, of whom 821 are females. A new occupation, i.e., "Motor Car Driver, Chauffeur, etc.," numbering 1,349 males, has been added to this Order.

IV.—Agricultural Class (Orders 7 and 8).—This is the largest group specifically occupied, furnishing two in every five of those so circumstanced. The number of persons returned as engaged in agriculture, the staple industry of Ireland, was, in 1901, 876,062, as compared with 780,867 (721,669 males and 59,198 females) in 1911,* thus showing a total decrease of 95,195.

* The majority of the persons in Rural Districts who returned themselves as "Labourers," and who are tabulated under the head of "General Labourer" in the Industrial Class, in Order 22, may be assumed to be Agricultural Labourers, although not having returned themselves as such. The total number entered under "General Labourer" in 1901 was 117,863, and in 1911 it was 148,770.

The Seventh Order comprises the persons employed in fields and pastures—the farmers, graziers, shepherds, agricultural labourers, farm servants and gardeners. It consists of 761,791 persons, of whom 59,126 are females. Farmers' sons, grandsons, brothers, and nephews, 15 years of age and upwards, and without a specified occupation, are included; but the corresponding female relatives have, as in previous Censuses, been referred to Order 24.

The Eighth Order comprises 19,076 persons (chiefly men employed about animals, such as veterinary surgeons, horse-dealers, cattle salesmen, drovers, gamekeepers), and shows a decrease of 1,734 as compared with the figures for 1901. It includes 8,538 fishermen, or 1,823 less than the previous Census. It should be noted that numbers of men engaged in fishing fleets are included in some Censuses, and not in others owing to the absence of the fleets at sea.

V.—Industrial Class (Orders 9 to 23).—In point of numbers this class comes next to the Agricultural, and affords a ratio of one in every three of those returned under specified occupations. In it are represented artisans and labourers engaged in the several trades and manufactures; the workers in books, machines, houses, carriages and ships; dealers in food and lodging, and spirituous drinks; persons working in wool, flax, and other fibrous materials. Then follow the workers in dress—the hatter, tailor, milliner, and shoemaker; the workers in various animal, vegetable, and mineral substances as well as undefined dealers, mechanics, and labourers. In 1901 this class numbered 639,413 persons, and 613,397 in 1911.

The Ninth Order comprises the persons working in books and prints. Printers rose from 4,662 to 4,715. There were 311 women returned as being employed in the printing trade in 1911, as against 196 in 1901. Bookbinders (570 males and 1,040 females) are 190 below the number for 1901.

The Tenth Order numbers 14,951 persons, workers in machines and implements, as compared with 10,830 in 1901. Motor mechanics and engineers and electrical apparatus makers account for a great part of the increase.

The Eleventh Order contains 57,944 workers in houses, furniture, and decorations, or 900 less than the number for 1901. Builders, painters and glaziers have increased slightly, while cabinet makers and upholsterers have received an addition of 340 to their numbers during the decade.

In the Twelfth Order the principal trades are coachmakers, saddlers, and bicycle and tricycle makers and dealers. Coachmakers rose from 2,849 to 3,092, this increase being mainly due to the inclusion of those engaged in the making of bodies for motor cars, etc. Saddlers declined from 2,846 to 2,737. The persons returned in the cycle business increased from 739 in 1901 to 1,183 in 1911.

Order Thirteen.—Shipbuilders and Shipwrights have increased their number by about one-third, and now amount to 7,687, as compared with 5,960 ten years previously.

Order Fourteen is principally represented by chemists and druggists, who number 2,314, compared with 1,920 at the previous Census. The manufacture of explosives gives employment to 143 persons.

Order Fifteen comprises 2,276 persons working and dealing in tobacco and pipes, of whom 910 are males and 1,366 females. The total in 1901 was 1,922.

In Order Sixteen, numbering 61,747 persons working and dealing in food and lodgings, we find a decrease of 6,749. Publicans or hotel-keepers, maltsters, brewers, and wine and spirit merchants all show a decrease. The persons working and dealing in food decreased from 50,731 to 46,086. Amongst these the principal, numerically, are butchers, bakers, and grocers. Butchers have about maintained their numbers; but the numbers of grocers and bakers show a decrease, as also do the numbers under the headings "Corn, etc., merchant, dealer," and "Corn-miller." 1,091 males and 155 females are returned as employed in creameries or milk factories.

The Seventeenth Order comprises the persons employed in the production and distribution of textile fabrics. These numbered 109,588 in 1901, which had dropped to 104,663 at the recent Census; the males diminished by only 992 and the females by 3,933. The flax and linen industry, by far the most important textile manufacture in the country, decreased by 2,456 persons, principally being those engaged in the weaving processes. Lace-making, which in 1901 employed 2,099 females, now provides occupation for 3,004. Persons engaged in the Woollen Cloth Manufacture decreased from 5,140 in 1901 to 4,479 in 1911, this decrease being practically confined to the females.

The Eighteenth Order, comprising the workers in dress, contains a large number of both sexes, but the females are more than twice as numerous as the males. The total shows a considerable falling off from 137,804 to 96,054. The most important trades in this order are tailors, boot and shoe makers, milliners, dressmakers, and seamstresses. These, with the exception of tailors, which decreased very slightly, show large reduction in numbers during the decennial period, the most marked being in the case of milliners and seamstresses.

The Nineteenth Order consists of 1,572 workers and dealers in animal substances —grease, gut, bone, etc., skins, hair, and feathers. The principal trades are tallow chandlers, tanners and curriers, and brush and broom makers. Each of these trades shows a falling off.

The Twentieth Order consists of 9,661 workers and dealers in vegetable substances, and comprises oil and colourmen, basket makers, timber merchants, sawyers, coopers, stationers and paper makers. Sawyers and Saw Mill Workers rose from 1,288 to 1,345. Coopers fell from 3,089 to 2,219. There are 413 males and 690 females returned as stationers ; while paper-box and paper-bag making employs 1,384 females, an increase of 204.

The Twenty-first Order consists of 39,749 persons working and dealing in mineral substances. The number of men engaged in mines of all kinds fell very slightly. Of these 668 were coal miners, being a decrease, as compared with the number of that occupation in 1901, of 195.

Workers in stone, clay and road-making decreased. Railway labourers and platelayers rose from 4,116 to 4,261 ; stonecutters and quarriers decreased from 4,156 to 3,126. Persons employed in the iron manufacture rose from 4,617 to 5,016. Blacksmiths number 11,712, showing a falling-off of 721. Workers in tin and zinc fell from 1,489 to 1,124.

The Twenty-second Order contains the persons working and dealing in general or unspecified commodities—such as general shopkeeper,. huckster, manager, manufacturer (undefined), general labourer, etc. In 1901, the persons who returned themselves thus vaguely were 174,377, as compared with 197,943 who in 1911 similarly returned themselves. The number of persons returned as labourers increased from 117,863 in 1901 to 148,770 at the present Census.*

Order Twenty-three contains 648 persons working and dealing in refuse matters ; these are made up chiefly of chimney sweeps and rag gatherers.

VI.—Indefinite and Non-productive Class (Order 24).—This class contains 2,572,929 persons, or 58·60 per cent. of the population, as compared with 2,494,958, or 55·96 per cent. in 1901, an increase of 77,971, of which 59,218 are females. It includes persons without a specific occupation, persons retired from business, those returned by rank, degree, or property, inmates of almshouses, etc., and lunatic asylums, and also children (1,281,509 of the whole class being under 15 years of age).

SOCIAL POSITION OF INHABITANTS OF DUBLIN.

Special statistics representing the social position of the inhabitants of Dublin, have been compiled in a form similar to that presented at the three preceding Censuses, but with a variation in the grouping of the ages for the male and female occupied persons and the wives of males following such occupations rendered necessary for comparative statistical purposes. The children appear under the same age groups as heretofore. These tables (Nos. 71, 72, and 73, pages 106-143), corresponding with Tables Nos. 92, 93, and 94 of previous Censuses, deal with 398,235 persons constituting the population of the Dublin Registration area ; and they vary considerably in their structure from the occupation tables published in the County Abstracts, where the figures opposite each trade represent all persons belonging to it, whether masters, apprentices, or workpeople. In the tables now submitted we have endeavoured to distinguish between employers and employed; but as the Family Return (Form A) seldom afforded information on this point, we were obliged to judge the social status by taking into consideration the place of residence and the general character of the return.

The other important differences of principle in the compilation of the two classes of tables may be thus stated.

The inmates of the two workhouses in the City of Dublin are shown on the line "Workhouse Inmates" in Table 71 (Table 92 in previous Censuses); but in the tables in the book for Dublin City they are dispersed throughout the different orders in which their former occupations entitled them to be classified. On the other hand, inmates of lunatic asylums and persons retired from business have, in these tables, been assigned to their former occupation when stated; whereas in the county tables such were treated as persons without specific occupation. Persons who returned themselves as having no occupation, and who were evidently in a humble position, we assigned to the line "unspecified." Those, likewise, whom we considered to be in a superior position we assigned to the line "Gentleman, Gentlewoman." With regard to students, it should be stated that in Table XX. of the County Tables, persons over fifteen years of age returned as "student" who were, as far as could be judged, receiving superior education, were thus classified. In the tables now under consideration a different plan has been adopted. In college and boarding school returns the pupils of all ages up to 20 years were assigned to the column for children, opposite the line "Gentleman, Gentlewoman," when the circumstances seemed to warrant it; otherwise they were tabulated as children of persons represented by word "Unspecified." A student or scholar (under 20 years of age), living at home, and returned as "Scholar" or "Student," was placed opposite the parents' occupation; but when there was no clue to social position, he or she was registered as "Student." The numbers, therefore, given in Table 71 (Table 92 in previous Censuses) for the City of Dublin are not comparable with those appearing in Table No. XX. of the book for the City of Dublin.

As regards the reading of these tables, which are almost self-explanatory, it will be observed that persons with stated occupations are shown on the left-hand side of the table, while their dependents, wives and children, without specified occupations are placed on the same line on the right-hand side. When the wife or other member of the family is earning, he or she is entered on the left-hand side.

It should not be assumed that the persons represented on the dependent side in the table are in every case actual relatives of the persons tabulated on the occupied side. For example, a person returning herself as wife of a "Commercial Traveller," whose husband may have been absent on Census night, would naturally be placed on the dependent side opposite that occupation, as dependent for support thereon.

The heading "Gentleman, Gentlewoman" comprises persons of rank, property, or respectable position, when the information given was insufficient to warrant their being assigned to some more specific line. Their sons and daughters following no occupation are, when over 20 years of age, also included. We have further attempted to distinguish more clearly the actual social status of the persons tabulated under the vague headings "Gentleman, Gentlewoman," "Merchant," "Shopkeeper" and "Unspecified," by sub-dividing each line, and allocating such cases to either the first or second division according to the locality and the surrounding circumstances of each.

Table 23, pages 22 and 23, shows the number of occupiers of land who combine other pursuits with farming. The number of persons so circumstanced in 1911 amounted to 9,710, while in 1901 it was 10,592.

Table 70, pages 104-109 (Table 91 in previous Censuses), shows the number of males and females in each class, order, and sub-order, in 1901 and 1911.

V.—BIRTHPLACES OF THE PEOPLE.

Statistics regarding the Birthplaces of the persons enumerated in Ireland on Census night, 2nd April, 1911, will be found in Tables 24 to 27, 74 and 75.

It would appear that of the 4,390,219 inhabitants of Ireland, according to this Census, 4,233,182, or 96·43 per cent. were natives of Ireland; 90,237, or 2·06 per cent., were born in England or Wales; 38,486, or 0·87 per cent., were born in Scotland, and 28,171 persons, or 0·64 per cent., were born abroad. Persons born at sea numbered 143.

Of the population of Ireland, according to the Census of 1901, 97·04 per cent. were born in Ireland, 1·73 per cent. in England or Wales, 0·68 per cent. in Scotland, and 0·55 per cent. were born abroad; 148 of the persons enumerated in Ireland in 1901 were born at sea.

In Table 75 will be found, for each county, the per-centage to the population of persons born in England and Wales, Scotland, and abroad.

In the province of Leinster, 87·5 per cent. of the inhabitants enumerated at the recent Census were born therein, and taking the counties in this Province, the highest proportion of the inhabitants of any one county who were born therein was recorded for Wexford, viz., 91·3 per cent., and the lowest for Dublin County, with a per-centage of 64·9.

The natives of Munster were 94·2 per cent. of the population of the province, the corresponding per-centages for the counties ranging from 94·9 for Kerry to 83·8 for Waterford County and County Borough.

Of the inhabitants of the province of Ulster, 93·8 per cent. were born therein; the County or County Borough having the highest proportion of native residents was Donegal, with 92·8 per cent., and the lowest was Belfast County Borough, the proportion to the population being 77·8 per cent.

In the case of Connaught, it has been ascertained that 95·7 per cent. were natives of that province; the highest per-centage of persons born in any of its five counties was in Mayo, viz., 94·7, and the lowest was in Roscommon, in which the natives represented 88·7 of the total number of inhabitants of that county.

Table 74 shows the numbers of persons who resided in the county in which they were born; those who were born in Ireland, but did not reside in their native county; those born in England or Wales, in Scotland, abroad, or at sea.

It will be seen from this Table that the number of persons enumerated, who resided on Census night in some other part of Ireland than the county in which they were born amounted to 558,579, or 12·7 per cent. of the total population of the country, as against 11·2 per cent. in 1901.

The proportion of natives who resided on Census night in other places in Ireland than the county of birth was highest for Wicklow county, viz., 34·5 per cent; the county having the lowest proportion in this respect being Cork with 5·6 per cent.

The highest counties next in order to Wicklow are Meath (29·9 per cent.), Carlow (28·2 per cent.), Kildare (24·8 per cent.), and Armagh (24·6 per cent.), and the counties next in order to Cork which are lowest are Mayo with 6·7 per cent. of its natives residing in other parts of Ireland, Dublin (including the county borough) with 6·9 per cent., Kerry with 7·0 per cent., and Galway with 7·8 per cent.

It will be observed that four of the five highest counties are in Leinster and one in Ulster; and that of the five lowest, 2 were in Munster, 2 in Connaught, and one in Leinster.

The persons at the Census of 1911, returned as being born in England or Wales, numbered 90,237, or 13,260 more than in 1901; those residing in Leinster contributing 7,268, Munster 211, Ulster 5,132, and Connaught 649 to this increase.

The persons born in Scotland numbered 38,486 at the recent Census, showing an increase of 8,385 in the ten years. The province of Leinster shows an increase of 510 on the number returned in 1901 ; in Munster the increase was 1,059 ; in Ulster it was 6,289, and in Connaught the increase, as compared with 1901, was 527.

The total number of persons in Ireland on Census Night who were born in Great Britain amounts to 128,723, of whom 47,153 were in Leinster, 22,632 in Munster, 53,917 in Ulster, and 5,021 in Connaught.

It will be observed from Table 24, that of the 28,171 persons born abroad, 5,585 were born in one or other of the British Colonies, being 1,115 in excess of the number recorded in 1901 ; 3,681 inhabitants of Ireland in 1911 were born in the Indian Empire, showing an increase of 90 as compared with 1901 ; and 18,905 persons enumerated in Ireland in 1911 were born in Foreign Countries, this number being 2,364 over that returned in 1901.

By referring to Table 26, which gives particulars by ages and sexes for the various foreign countries, it will be seen that of the 18,905 residents of Ireland in 1911 who were born in foreign countries, by far the largest number, viz., 12,763 (or nearly 68 per cent. of those born in foreign countries) claimed America as their birthplace; the number for Europe was 5,760 ; 198 were born in Asia ; 182 in Africa ; and only 2 were born in Oceania.

In comparison with 1901, it would appear that in 1911 there is an increase of 2,643 in the inhabitants of Ireland who were born in America and of 19 among those born in Asia ; but there is a decrease in 1911 of 271 in the number of persons born in Europe and of 29 in those born in Africa.

As regards the Occupations of persons born in Foreign Countries, Table 27 shows those particulars, by classes and orders, with the number of persons of each sex who were stated to be under 20 years of age and the number aged 20 years and upwards, while Table 76 shows the birthplaces of such persons, more than forty of whom were of the same occupation.

Of the 5,760 residents of Ireland who were born in European countries, 459 were returned as seamen, 289 as teachers, &c., 238 as fishermen, 227 as drapers, 224 as domestic servants, 174 as monks or nuns, 162 as tailors or tailoresses, 157 as shopkeepers or general dealers, and 135 as pedlars or hawkers.

Information regarding occupations is also shown in Table 76 for the several countries of Europe.

The number of persons born in any European foreign country is highest for Russia according to the Census returns for 1911, as also according to the Census of 1901, the number enumerated in the former year amounting to 1,985 and in the latter to 1,966.

Of the 1,985 persons born in Russia, 210 were drapers, 128 tailors or tailoresses, 124 pedlars or hawkers, 120 shopkeepers or general dealers, 63 commercial travellers, and 43 cabinet-makers or upholsterers.

The 12,673 persons born in America include 439 farmers, 424 domestic servants, 407 farmers' sons, 265 general labourers, 228 agricultural labourers, 227 farm servants, 120 dressmakers, and 119 commercial clerks.

VI.—THE SICK AND INFIRM.

In Tables 77 to 113, information regarding the sick and infirm in Ireland on the night of the 2nd April, 1911, will be found. These statistics are arranged under two headings, viz., the " Temporarily Diseased " and the " Permanently Diseased," the former including those suffering from ordinary cases of illness, the latter heading has reference to those afflicted by permanent and usually incurable conditions, such as blindness, deafness and dumbness, insanity and idiocy. Though no special significance need be attached to this unscientific classification, it is retained for the purposes of the present Census as being useful for comparative purposes, it having been made use of in previous Censuses.

It will be seen by reference to Table 77 that the sick and infirm of all kinds on the Census night of 1911 numbered 67,678, or 1 in 65 of the whole population, which was also the ratio in 1901. Of these, 30,919 were "temporarily diseased," and 36,759 "permanently diseased." Of the temporarily diseased, 10,819 were at their own homes; 6,195 were in infirmaries, and general and special hospitals; and 13,905 in workhouse hospitals.

With the view of ascertaining whether sick persons at their own homes were or were not able to follow their usual occupations, a special return was obtained on Form C (see Appendix).

From Table 79, which shows the results of this inquiry, it appears that of the 10,819 persons sick at their own homes, only 280 were able to carry on their usual employments; thus, for all practical purposes, all were disabled. It is probable, however, that many persons suffering from trifling ailments were not returned as "sick." The sick in hospitals and public institutions are assumed in every case to be unable to follow their usual occupations, and, therefore, no return of this kind was required from them.

THE TEMPORARILY DISEASED.

The 30,919 persons who were returned under this heading in 1911 are equivalent to 7·0 per 1,000 of the total population of Ireland, and include 10,226 in Leinster, 7,795 in Munster, 9,930 in Ulster, and 2,968 in Connaught.

From Table 77, which gives these particulars by provinces, counties, etc., it will be seen that Dublin County Borough has the highest rate for the "temporarily diseased," namely, 14·1 per 1,000 of the population.

No doubt, this high rate is to a large extent due to the hospital accommodation in Dublin, as out of a total of 4,292 persons returned as being sick on the night of the Census, no less than 2,154 were under treatment in the various hospitals.

The county having the lowest rate for the "temporarily sick" was Mayo, the proportion per 1,000 of the population being only 3·9.

Of the intermediate rates the three highest were 9·7 per 1,000 in Kildare, 8·9 in Limerick County and County Borough, and 8·6 in Cork County and County Borough; the three counties having the lowest rates being Cavan, with a rate of 4·2 per 1,000, Longford, 4·5, and Leitrim, 4·8.

Table 78 shows information similar to that given in Table 77, by Unions, or Superintendent Registrars' Districts.

An examination of this Table shows that of the 158 Poor Law Unions, 40 did not reach a rate of 5 per 1,000 of the population; the three Unions having the lowest rates being Stranorlar (2·2), Limavady (2·4) and Ballymahon (2·5); in 109 Unions the rate was between 5 and 10 per 1,000, and in 9 Unions the rate was over 10 per 1,000, the highest being 14·9 per 1,000 of the population for Dublin South Poor Law Union, 13·0 per 1,000 for Cork, and 12·7 per 1,000 for Lisburn.

NATURE OF ILLNESS.

Of the 30,919 persons returned as sick on the night of the recent Census, 166 were cases of enteric fever; 60 of typhus; 227 of measles; 533 of scarlet fever; 153 of whooping-cough; 176 of diphtheria; 1,454 of influenza; 4 of dysentery; 3,086 of tuberculosis; 485 of cancer; 2,703 of rheumatism; 2,798 cases of diseases of the nervous system; 676 cases of diseases of the organs of special sense; 1,238 cases of diseases of the circulatory system; 3,002 cases of diseases of the respiratory system; 40 of diarrhœa; 1,635 cases of other diseases of digestive system; 943 cases of the genito-urinary system; 1,348 cases of diseases of the skin and cellular tissue; 1,587 cases of diseases of the bones and locomotor system; and 2,020 cases of injury caused by accident or otherwise.

In Table 80 will be found, by provinces, counties, etc., the diseases from which the patients in the Infirmaries, General, Special, Military, and Prison Hospitals were suffering on the night of the 2nd April, 1911, while Table 81 gives similar information regarding the patients treated in the Workhouse Hospitals of Ireland on that date.

The number of patients in the Workhouse Hospitals connected with the 158 Unions of Ireland was 13,905, constituting 69 per cent. of the total number of the sick in public institutions, the sick in institutions commonly regarded as hospitals numbering 6,195.

It must be borne in mind that a large proportion of the sick in the Workhouses should not be classed as "sick paupers," the fact being that in country districts and small towns, where there are no special or general hospitals, the sick among the artisan and labouring classes make use of the Union Hospitals in the same manner as similar classes in the great towns use the hospitals supported by voluntary contributions and charitable endowments. In taking into account the accommodation for the sick poor in Ireland, the Union Hospitals should not be lost sight of.

THE PERMANENTLY DISEASED.

THE NUMBER AND CONDITION OF THE BLIND IN IRELAND.

In Tables 82 to 89 of this Report will be found the results of the special inquiry regarding the Blind in Ireland on the night of 2nd April, 1911.

It will be observed from Table 82 that the number of the totally Blind in Ireland on the Census night of 1911 was 4,312, or 59 more than in 1901, and, allowing for the decrease of population during the last decade, the returns show that the proportion of Blind to the population of Ireland is one in 1,018 in 1911, against one in 1,048 in 1901.

The method followed in connection with previous Censuses for procuring further particulars regarding the Blind was adopted on the present occasion. The fact of blindness having been ascertained on Form A, as regards those who were not in public institutions, Special Circulars containing queries relative to this affliction (see Appendix) were issued, and the enumerators directed to ascertain the particulars required. At the time of the Census all institutions having blind inmates were supplied with similar circulars. The answers to the queries were carefully compared with the original returns, and the results are shown in the tables.

To ascertain the true proportion of the Blind properly belonging to the population of each locality, the Blind in public institutions have, in constructing the tables, been distributed according to the localities from which they came.

Table 82, on page 158, shows, by sexes, the number of the Blind at their own homes and in workhouses, together with the proportion of males to females, and the ratio of the Blind to the population in the provinces and counties of Ireland.

The proportion of the sexes among the Blind on the present occasion shows an increase in the number of females compared with the returns of the Census of 1901, the proportion being, according to the returns of 1911, 100 males to 102·2 females; and, according to the 1901 Census, 100 to 99·3; but a decrease in comparison with the preceding four Censuses, the proportion for 1861 being 100 males to 118·4 females; for 1871 the proportion was 100 to 110·0; for 1881 it was 100 to 111·5; and for 1891 the proportion was 100 males to 107·3 females. With the exception of the record for 1901, therefore, the majority of the Blind, according to the Census returns relating to the decades for which statistics of the Blind are available, were of the female sex, the average proportion for these periods being 100 males to 109·1 females.

If the ratios to the populations of the Provinces be compared, it will be found to be highest in Munster, being 1 in every 741, and least in Connaught, being but 1 in every 1,212. Though Munster is relatively much higher than any of the other provinces, it is the only one of them which shows a decrease both in number and ratio to the population, as compared with the statistics of the Blind in 1901.

The religious professions of the 4,312 persons returned as totally Blind are shown in Table 83; and of these it would appear that 3,371 of them were Roman Catholics, or 1 in every 962 of that profession; 538 were Protestant Episcopalians, or 1 in every 1,072; 318 were Presbyterians, or 1 in every 1,385; 41 were Methodists; 40 were persons belonging to other denominations, and in 4 instances information as to religious profession was refused. Dividing the number of the Blind, according to their religious professions, into two classes, viz.:—those who belong to the Roman Catholic Church and those who belong to all other denominations—we find that the proportion is 1 in every 962 of the former, and 1 in every 1,219 of the latter.

An examination of Table 85 shows that 3,300, or 76·5 per cent. of the total number of the Blind, were aged 50 years or upwards; and as many as 641, or 14·9 per cent. of the entire number, were 80 years old and upwards. According to the recent Census the Blind under 20 years of age afforded a ratio of 1 in every 25·5 of the total number of the Blind in the country. As compared with previous Censuses from 1861 (in which year it was recorded that the ratio was 1 in 9·5) there has been a steady decrease in the number of the Blind under 20 years of age at each Census year up to 1911.

From Table 85, which also gives, by ages and sexes, the state of Education and Marriage among the Blind, we learn that 2,836 of the 4,312 persons were educated either previous or subsequent to having lost their sight; and that 1,476 returned as Blind were totally uneducated. As regard the Blind who were returned in 1911 as educated, the proportion of the sexes was 100 males to 98 females; while among the uneducated persons the proportion was 100 males to 111 females. The records for the Census years from 1861 show a continuous improvement in the education of the Blind, for in 1861 the educated Blind formed only 42·8 per cent. of the total number; in 1901 the per-centage was 60·7, while on the present occasion the proportion of educated to total Blind is 65·8 per cent.

We find from Table 84, which sets forth the occupations of the Blind, that of 2,212 Blind persons whose actual or former occupation was specified, "farmer" was given as the occupation of 506 persons—431 males and 75 females; 394 were returned as labourers, 367 being males and 27 females; 253 females as knitters; 190 persons—172 males and 18 females—as basketmakers; and 179 persons—7 males and 172 females—were returned as servants. There were 86 housekeepers, 85 musicians, 48 pensioners, and 36 factory workers. The occupations of 2,100 Blind persons (719 males and 1,381 females), or nearly one-half the total number, were unspecified.

In Table 87 particulars regarding the several institutions for the relief of the Blind are set forth. These institutions are capable of accommodating 767 inmates, and contained on last Census night 599 persons, the number in 1901 being 425. In 1851 there were only 131 inmates in Institutions for the Blind.

The majority of these Institutions are chiefly supported by the voluntary subscriptions of the public, and by payment for inmates by Poor Law Guardians. It will be seen, by referring to the notes at foot of Table 87, that the total amount of accommodation shown in it includes the entire of Simpson's Hospital. Although accommodation for 767 inmates is afforded by these Institutions, still the number of inmates on the Census night was only 599. The number of inmates admitted since the dates on which the several Institutions were founded to the time of the taking of the present Census is 3,927, and since the taking of the preceding Census, 434. In this Table a list of the different subjects taught in each of these Institutions is given.

In Table 88 the number of inmates of the several Institutions for the Blind in Ireland is shown by counties, the inmates of either sex in each institution being assigned to the county whence they came.

The proportion of the sexes among the inmates in Institutions for the Blind was 100 males to 192 females.

Table 82 shows that there were, at the time of the taking of the present Census, 643 pauper inmates of workhouses—274 males and 369 females—totally deprived of sight; and Table 86 gives the number and state of education of such in each workhouse. This Table is divided into three sections, the first of which shows, by sexes, those who were educated, either previous or subsequent to loss of sight, numbering 343 persons—156 males and 187 females; the second, the sexes of the ignorant under 20 years of age, and susceptible of education, who number but 9 persons—4 males and 5 females; and the third, the sexes of the uneducated above 20 years of age, who amount to 291 persons—114 males and 177 females. A comparison may be made with the four preceding Censuses, the corresponding figures for which are given at the foot of this Table. Among the Blind inmates of workhouses the proportion of the educated to the ignorant is one of the former to every 0·87 of the latter; whilst among the entire Blind of the country the proportion is 1 to 0·52.

The manner in which the secondary inquiry, relative to the persons returned on the original Census Forms as Blind, was conducted, has already been described.

There were 5,621 persons returned as Blind upon the original Census Forms, but from the replies to question 2—"Whether totally or partially deprived of sight?"—(asked on the circular used in prosecuting the secondary inquiry)—we ascertained that as many as 1,309 of these—618 males and 691 females—were only partially Blind; excluding these cases we find the number of the totally Blind to be 4,312, or 1 in every 1,018 of the population. In 1901 the number of Blind originally returned was 5,470; but, as a result of the inquiry similar to that made on the present occasion, it was found that the number of those totally deprived of sight was 4,253, and that the proportion to the population was 1 in every 1,048.

In reply to the first question of the secondary inquiry as to "whether the person was born Blind, or became so afterwards," we ascertained that in 174 instances—89 males and 85 females—the total loss of vision was said to have been congenital, but in only 12 of these was the precise cause specified, as may be seen by reference to Table 89, which shows in addition the ages at which the remaining 4,138 persons were totally deprived of sight, also the cause which produced this affliction. In 1901 there were returned 184 cases of congenital Blindness—105 males and 79 females; but, with 9 exceptions, no cause was assigned. The proportion of congenital to acquired cases is 1 of the former to every 22·1 of the latter on the present occasion; this was also the ratio in 1901.

It will also be seen from Table 89 that the causes of the Blindness of 2,192 persons, or a little more than one-half of all those totally deprived of sight, were returned as specified.

Among the latter were 994 cases of Mechanical Injuries (including 77 caused by gunpowder explosions, 18 by gunshot wounds, 18 by unsuccessful operations, 15 by animals, 5 by lightning, and in 861 cases the nature of the injury was not specified); there were 576 cases in which cataract was stated as the cause; 221 cases of diseases of the brain or nervous system; 71 cases of small-pox; 64 cases of ophthalmia; 61 cases of measles; 32 cases of influenza; 32 cases of rheumatism; and 29 cases of scarlet fever, 3 cases of enteric fever, and 24 of "Fever"; 14 cases of trachoma; 14 cases in which the cause was consequent on childbirth; 9 cases of amaurosis; 8 of scurvy; and 7 of iritis; 6 cases of cancer; and 5 of erysipelas.

As compared with 1901, there was an increase of 167 cases in which cataract was given as the cause; cases in which the cause was returned as from diseases of the brain or nervous system numbered 221 in 1911, as in 1901; cases of small-pox were 57 less in 1911 than in 1901; and cases in which ophthalmia was returned as the cause fell from 194 in 1901 to 64 as returned at the recent Census. In the cases of mechanical injuries there was an increase of 353 as compared with 1901.

The numbers for the other causes of Blindness do not appear to vary to any appreciable extent from those given in the General Report of the Census of 1901.

A comparative view of the statistics for 1881, 1891, 1901, and 1911, showing the ages, in quinquennial periods, at which loss of vision occurred, is also given in Table 89. Of the cases, as disclosed by the recent Census, 174 were congenital; 836 became totally blind before they reached twenty years of age; 728 between twenty and forty years; 789 between forty and sixty years of age; and 1,556 after sixty; in 229 instances the age was unspecified. In 1911, as also in 1901, the quinquennial age period at which the greatest number of cases occurred was 65 and under 70 years, 409 (201 males and 208 females) being the number in the former year, and 276 (123 males and 153 females) in the latter.

THE DEAF AND DUMB, AND DUMB NOT DEAF.

In Tables 90 to 103 will be found the results of the special inquiry regarding the Deaf and Dumb in Ireland in 1911, with a comparative view of the main facts as they existed at each Census year from 1871.

It may be observed that the Census of 1851 was the first at which an inquiry was instituted with reference to the Deaf and Dumb in Ireland.

The plan pursued for obtaining the necessary information has been the same as that followed in 1901.

As on former occasions, the " primary inquiry " as to the Deaf and Dumb was carried out through Form A (Family Return). The primary fact of deafness and dumbness having thus been ascertained, special queries were issued with the view of obtaining the information necessary for constructing the detailed tables. The form of these queries is found in the Appendix.

As on preceding Censuses, so also on the present occasion, we have, in the tables, showing the statistics by Counties, distributed throughout their respective homes the pupils in Public Institutions for the " Deaf and Dumb."

The total number of Mutes from all causes in the different Counties is given for each Province in Ireland in Table 90, which includes particulars regarding the " Deaf and Dumb " and the " Dumb not Deaf "—the former numbering 3,145 and the latter 865. Subjoined, for comparative purposes, are the general totals for the four Census periods, 1871-1901.

In the first section of this Table are included the true Deaf and Dumb, those born with impairment of the organ of hearing, and without any other defect. Upon the inquiry instituted on the 2nd April, 1911, there were returned 2,325 as belonging to this class, being 146 more than those registered in 1901. Of the 2,325 persons so afflicted, according to the present returns, 1,280 were males and 1,045 were females.

In the second section of Table 90 have been arranged, by sexes and localities, those who were stated to have become " Deaf and Dumb " from " disease or accident acquired after birth " ; they amount to 725 persons—417 males and 308 females, or 32 less than those returned as such from like causes in 1901.

The third section of this Table includes those persons returned as " Deaf and Dumb " on the original enumeration forms, but respecting the cause of whose muteism, whether congenital or acquired, it was not possible to obtain satisfactory information at the time of making the secondary inquiry. Many of these persons were mendicants or travellers, who had left the locality in which they were enumerated upon the night of the 2nd April, 1911, prior to the time the secondary inquiry was instituted. In 1871 this class numbered 103 ; in 1881, 68 ; in 1891, 53 ; in 1901, 140 ; while upon the present occasion they amount to 95.

With the exception of an increase of 69 in 1911 as compared with 1901, the records of the Censuses from 1871 show a continuous decrease in the number of the Deaf and Dumb from all causes in Ireland, the totals for the five Census years, 1871-1911, being 4,467, 3,993, 3,365, 3,076, and 3,145, respectively.

Of the 3,145 cases, 720 were recorded for the province of Leinster, 808 for Munster, 1,060 for Ulster, and 547 for Connaught. As compared with 1901, Leinster shows a decrease of 38, and Munster of 26 ; while the number for Ulster has increased by 78, and that for Connaught by 56.

Table 90 also includes the "Dumb not Deaf," who at the Census of 1911 numbered 865 persons—494 males and 371 females. In 1901 the number under this head was 895; in 1891, 1,099; in 1881, 1,143; and in 1871, 1,087.

It will be seen by referring to this Table that both the "Deaf and Dumb" and "Dumb not Deaf," combined, number 4,010, being one in every 1,095 of the entire population; and the proportion of the sexes among them is 100 males to 78·6 females. In the province of Leinster there are 887, or one in every 1,310 of its population; in Munster, 1,015, or one in every 1,020; in Ulster 1,339, or one in every 1,181; and in Connaught, 759, or one in every 805. In 1871, the total number of Mutes from all causes returned was 5,554; in 1881, 5,136; in 1891, 4,464; and in 1901, 3,971.

Table 93 shows the number of the Deaf and Dumb, and gives the proportion which the Deaf Mutes, both congenital and acquired cases, bear to the population of each County and Province in Ireland; also the proportion of Males to Females so afflicted. At the foot of this Table will be found the corresponding figures for the whole of Ireland for each decennial period from 1871. An examination of the Table shows that, as regards congenital cases, there was a higher proportion in 1911 than at either of the two preceding Censuses, but smaller than in 1881 or 1871, the ratio to the population in 1871 being one in every 1,520; in 1881, one in 1,602; in 1891, one in 1,833; in 1901, one in 1,922, and in 1911, one in every 1,814 of the population. The County having the highest proportion of congenital Deaf Mutes to the population on the present occasion is Galway, with one in every 1,066; while the lowest is Dublin, the proportion being one in every 3,315 of the population of the County.

In the case of those persons who became Deaf and Dumb through disease or accident, Table 93 also shows that the proportion to the population is one in every 6,055, being somewhat less than in 1901, but greater than in 1891, 1881, or 1871, in which years the proportions were one in 5,890, one in 6,341, one in 6,791, and one in 6,232 respectively. The proportion of the Deaf and Dumb, both congenital and acquired, to the population of Ireland is one in 1,396; in 1901 it was one in 1,450; in 1891 it was one in 1,398; in 1881 it was one in 1,296; and in 1871, one in every 1,222 of the population, showing, with the exception of a slight increase in 1911 as compared with 1901, a continuous decline since the last mentioned year. The County having the highest proportion of the Deaf and Dumb to the population is Galway, with one in every 920; that having the lowest proportion being Wexford, with one in every 2,622 of its entire population.

Table 91 shows, by sexes, the ages of all the individuals specified in Table 90. The quinquennial age-period having the greatest number of Mutes is that from 10 to 15 years.

In Table 92 the Religious Professions of the 4,010 Mutes, specified in Table 90, are shown, by sexes and localities. From this it would appear that 3,087 were Roman Catholics, or one in every 1,050 of that persuasion; 452, or one in every 1,276, were Protestant Episcopalians; 378, or one in every 1,165, were Presbyterians; 38, or one in every 1,642, were Methodists; and 55 were classified under the head of "All other Denominations."

Dividing the Religious Professions in Ireland into two classes, those who belong to the Roman Catholic Church and those who do not, the proportionate number of Mutes is one in 1,050 in the former, and one in 1,243 in the latter.

The Occupations or Social Condition of the 3,145 Deaf and Dumb persons are given in Table 94. Herein the occupations, trades, and handicrafts are shown in alphabetical order. Among those returned are 427 labourers, 281 farmers, 181 tailors or tailoresses, 179 servants, and 108 boot and shoemakers.

Of the deaf and Dumb children having no stated occupations, 58 were children of farmers and 28 of labourers.

Tables 95, 96, and 97 have reference to the number of Deaf Mutes in a family, the absent and the dead Mute members, as well as those enumerated in the Census Returns on the night of the 2nd April, 1911, being included.

Table 96 shows the number of children in the families in which Deaf Mutes were born, and also the number so afflicted in each family. This information has been ascertained regarding 1,749 families.

Table 97 shows the number (so far as could be ascertained) of congenital Deaf Mutes in each family, born of the same parents, also that information on this point was obtained as regards 2,101 families, 1,598 of these having one Deaf Mute each ; of the latter 891 were males, and 707 females.

Table 99 shows the causes of acquired Deaf-dumbness and Dumbness, and the ages at which the former occurred. As already stated, the number of such persons so afflicted, according to the recent Census, was 725. In 1871 this class of mutes numbered 861, in 1881 they had fallen to 762, in 1891 to 742, but in 1901 they had risen to 757. The "Dumb not Deaf," set forth in Table 90, amounted to 865, and of this number as many as 195 were acquired cases. This shows a slight decrease of acquired dumbness compared with the returns of 1901, when the number was 200.

From an examination of the ages in this Table, it will be seen that as life advances the chances of acquiring Deaf-dumbness decrease. Thus of the 725 cases, 436 occurred under five years of age ; 193 between the ages of five and ten years ; 44 between ten and fifteen years ; and only 26 after that period. In 26 instances the age at which Deaf-dumbness was acquired was not stated. It must, however, be recollected that children who have lost their sense of hearing at an early age by accident or disease also lose the faculty of speech either partially or totally ; whilst it seldom happens that those who become deaf at a more advanced age lose it altogether.

Among the causes of acquired muteism were scarlet fever, which produced 140 cases ; meningitis, 58 cases ; paralysis, 41 cases ; measles, 38 cases ; convulsions, 38 cases. Fright was stated to be the cause in 87 instances, and falls in 81. In 215 instances the cause of acquired muteism was either unspecified or ill-defined.

Table 100 gives, by sexes, for each county, the results of the special inquiry into the literary and industrial education of the deaf and dumb in Ireland. When dealing with the uneducated in this Table, there have been excluded all those who, from mental or physical disabilities, might be considered incapable of profiting by the literary or industrial education afforded by the institutions for the instruction of the deaf and dumb.

Subject to this condition, the number of uneducated mutes in Ireland, on the 2nd April, 1911, was 1,600, the males numbering 975 and the females 625. Table 100 also shows that there were 2,299 mutes—1,217 males and 1,082 females—either already educated or undergoing a course of instruction in the institutions for that purpose ; and that the educated were in the proportion of 1 to every 0·7 uneducated. These figures point to a marked improvement in 1911 as compared with previous Censuses. Among the uneducated mutes in 1911, the proportion of males to females is as 100 to 64·1 ; while the corresponding proportion for the educated is 100 to 88·9.

The uneducated are classified according to their ages in quinquennial periods. In each of the age periods referred to there is a noticeable decrease in the number of the uneducated as compared with the preceding Censuses, the figures for which are given at the foot of Table 100.

This decrease in the number of the ignorant is accompanied with a corresponding increase in that of the educated, from 1,746 in 1881, 1,904 in 1891, 2,080 in 1901, to 2,299 in 1911.

The last column of this table shows the proportion which the educated bear to the ignorant, varying from 1 educated to 0·4 uneducated in the province of Leinster, to 1 educated for every 1·4 uneducated in Connaught.

Table 102 shows the particulars regarding the six institutions in existence at the taking of the present Census. They afford accommodation for 295 males and 374 females. In 1871 the number of pupils in institutions amounted to 478, in 1881 to 507, in 1891 to 533, in 1901 to 532, and on the present occasion to 597. The total number educated in these six institutions since their erection is 5,854.

In order that the localities in which these six institutions are situated should not present an undue proportion of muteism, the pupils in such have been distributed through the different counties in which they were born, and the results of this distribution are shown in Table 103.

Of the 597 mutes in these institutions, 10 were natives of other countries. The districts that supplied the greatest absolute number of pupils were the county boroughs of Dublin, Belfast, and Cork, and the counties of Galway and Down.

As regards the proportion of these inmates to the total number of mutes in each locality, the following rank highest :—Dublin County Borough, Meath and Longford, while those with the lowest proportion are Fermanagh, Armagh, and Roscommon.

NUMBER AND CONDITION OF LUNATICS AND IDIOTS IN IRELAND.

The first investigation into the number and condition of Lunatics and Idiots in Ireland was made under the Census Commission of 1841. This, however, only took cognisance of those located in asylums, workhouses, gaols, and hospitals, the number returned on that date being 2,925 lunatics and 333 idiots. In 1851 the scope of the inquiry was extended so as to include the lunatics and idiots at large or in the custody of their friends, which extended inquiry has from that date been instituted at each Census enumeration.

As on previous occasions, Forms D and I (see Appendix) were those used for the purpose of obtaining information as to lunatics and idiots, those not in institutions being returned on Form D and those in institutions on Form I. On Form I, besides the inquiry as to the social condition of the lunatics and idiots in institutions, further information was sought in each case as to the particular form of insanity and the presumed cause thereof.

The results of the present investigation are contained in Tables 104-108. These Tables also exhibit a comparative view of the general results of preceding Censuses.

By referring to Table 104 it will be seen that the lunatics in Ireland on the night of the recent Census numbered 23,994 (12,446 males and 11,548 females), of whom 1,221 were at large, 20,893 were in asylums, and 1,880 were in workhouses ; and that the number of idiots was 4,443 (2,477 males and 1,966 females), 2,823 of whom were at large, 902 in asylums, and 718 in the various workhouses.

In the following statement the number of lunatics and idiots in Ireland at each of the seven Censuses, 1851-1911 (as returned on the Census Forms), is shown.

YEARS.	At Large.	In Asylums.	LUNATICS In Prisons.	In Workhouses.	Total.
1851	4,635	3,436	286	1,623	9,980
1861	7,277	5,016	294	1,511	14,098
1871	6,490	7,551	7	2,457	16,505
1881	5,491	9,443	.	3,479	18,413
1891	4,970	12,261	.	3,957	21,188
1901	3,868	17,350	.	3,832	25,050
1911	4,044	21,795	.	2,598	28,437

It will be observed from the foregoing that the number of the lunatics and idiots in Ireland, as returned on Census Forms in 1911, was 28,437, as compared with 25,050 in 1901, thus showing an increase of 3,387, or 13·5 per cent., that there is an increase in the number returned for each Census year as compared with the preceding, and that the number returned for 1911 is nearly three times that returned for 1851.

In Tables 104 and 105 the inmates of institutions for lunatics and idiots have been distributed according to the localities whence they were admitted.

This has been done in order that the localities in which asylums are situated may not present an undue proportion of lunatics and idiots.

It will be observed from Table 104 that the lunatics and idiots in Ireland, as returned in 1911, are represented by a ratio of one in every 154 of the total population, as against one in 178 in 1901, one in 222 in 1891, one in 281 in 1881, one in 328 in 1871, and one in every 411 of the population in 1861.

In 1851 the ratio was one in every 657 of the population.

Taking the provinces in 1911, it would appear from this Table that the highest proportion to the population is one in every 136 for Leinster; Munster comes next with one in every 138; Connaught follows with one in every 150; the lowest proportion to the population, viz., one in every 197, being recorded for Ulster.

The county or county borough areas having the highest ratios to the population were—Waterford County and County Borough, one in 104; Westmeath, one in 111; Kilkenny, one in 120; Carlow, one in 126, and Monaghan, one in 126. The following had the lowest ratios—Antrim County and Belfast County Borough, one in 250; Down, one in 222; Londonderry County and County Borough, one in 198; Fermanagh, one in 183, and Kerry, one in 181.

Table 105 gives, for each province and county, the religious professions and sexes of lunatics and idiots in Ireland with a general total for each Census year from 1871.

From this Table it will be seen that of the 28,437 lunatics and idiots returned on the Census Forms in 1911 there were 23,074 Roman Catholics, and in 1901 the number was 20,581; 3,196 were Protestant Episcopalians—in 1901 the number was 2,700; there were 1,788 Presbyterians—in 1901 the number was 1,539; Methodists numbered 161—in 1901 the number was 128. Under the head of "All other Denominations" there were 218 persons tabulated in 1911, and in 1901 the number was 102.

Table 108 shows the occupations of lunatics and idiots as returned on the Census Forms.

The occupation which was followed by the largest number of lunatics and idiots in 1911 was that of "labourer," under which heading 6,233 were tabulated, of whom 5,560 were males and 673 females; in 1,166 cases of the former and 151 of the latter the affliction was stated to have been hereditary. Next in numerical order were farmers and their families, amounting to 2,966—2,126 males and 840 females; 602 of the former and 252 of the latter were hereditarily affected. There were 2,408 persons tabulated under the head of "servant"—78 males and 2,330 females; in 13 of the former and 426 of the latter the disease was stated to have been hereditary.

The description of lunacy or idiocy in combination with the presumed cause thereof is given in Table 106. Of the total number of cases (28,437), an examination of this Table reveals the fact that the number in which the cause was stated is 14,483, of which 1,970 were attributed to moral or mental causes, 6,834 to physical causes, and 5,679 were returned as hereditary. Of the moral or mental causes, the largest numbers were attributed to anxiety, regarding which there were 477 cases ; terror, 399 ; grief, 290 ; religious excitement, 278 ; and reverse of fortune, 276 cases. Among the physical causes of lunacy or idiocy, there were 1,347 cases of intemperance ; 1,211 cases of malformation of brain (largely consisting of cases in which the cause was returned as "congenital") ; 626 cases of epilepsy ; 265 cases of injury to head ; 199 cases of sunstroke ; 182 cases in connection with child-bearing ; 149 cases of nervous disease ; 146 cases of cerebral disease ; while under the heading "other physical causes" there were 2,439 cases in which the causes were returned as from bronchitis, pneumonia, kidney disease, liver disease, etc.

The following are the principal diseases by which those enumerated as lunatics and idiots are affected :—

Mania.—In 1901 the persons returned as suffering from this form of disease numbered 11,190, as against 11,053 in 1911. Of the latter 878 cases were stated to have been caused by moral or mental causes, and in 2,868 cases the presumed cause was physical. In 2,470 instances mania was stated to have been hereditary.

Melancholia.—There were 3,861 persons returned in 1901 as suffering from melancholia. In 1911 the number of cases amounted to 5,389, of which 588 were attributed to moral or mental and 1,092 to physical causes, and 1,411 were returned as hereditary.

Monomania.—In 1901 there were 163 cases of this disease returned. In 1911 the number was 604, of which 53 were referred to moral or mental and 88 to physical causes, and 114 cases were stated to be hereditary.

Idiocy.—Under this heading, the number of cases tabulated in 1901 amounted to 5,065, as against 4,343 cases assigned to idiocy in 1911.

Dementia.—The persons returned in 1901 as suffering from this disease numbered 3,552 ; according to the recent Census the number of cases amounted to 3,570, of which 165 were included under the head of moral and mental causes ; 786 under physical causes ; and 545 cases were returned as hereditary.

Dementia with Epilepsy.—The number of cases in 1901 was 145, the number returned in 1911 amounting to 399.

Epilepsy uncomplicated.—In 1901 there were 302 instances of persons returned as suffering from this disease ; in 1911 the number so returned amounted to 496.

Table 107 shows, by ages and sexes, according to description of disease, the state of Marriage and Education among lunatics and idiots.

Of the lunatics and idiots returned in 1911, 22,490, or 79·1 per cent., were unmarried ; 4,246, or 14·9 per cent., were married ; and 1,701, or 6·0 per cent., were widowed.

In 1911, 16,660, or 58·6 per cent., of the lunatics and idiots returned could read and write ; 1,767, or 6·2 per cent., could read only ; and 10,010, or 35·2 per cent., could neither read nor write. In 1901, according to the returns, 52·4 per cent. could read and write ; 7·9 per cent. could read only ; and 39·7 could neither read nor write.

VII.—PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

Under this head are included workhouses, hospitals, public lunatic asylums, prisons, reformatories, orphan asylums, industrial schools, and military barracks.

A summary of the number of persons in each class of institution is contained in Table 11, which shows that, exclusive of military barracks and the Royal Irish Constabulary Depot, the total number of institutions at the date of the Census was 563, inhabited by 96,548 persons, of whom 12,484 consisted of officers of the establishments and their families, and 84,064 were inmates for whom the institutions were primarily intended. Amongst the institutions are 163* workhouses, with 38,395 inmates (including 53 lunatics on the books of the Belfast District Asylum, and 29 on the books of the County Antrim District Asylum, located in the Ballymena Workhouse); 138 hospitals, with 5,199 inmates; 30 public lunatic asylums, with 21,094 inmates; 27 prisons and bridewells, with 2,191 inmates; 5 reformatories, with 668 inmates; 43 orphan asylums, with 2,129 inmates, and 66 certificated industrial schools, with 8,709 inmates

Table 109 shows, by Provinces, Counties, &c., the number of inmates of each class of the principal institutions, and Table 110 shows the proportion of the inmates to every 10,000 of the population.

The number of paupers in workhouses is equal to 87·5 in every 10,000 of the population, against 96·5 in 1901; patients in hospitals are equivalent to 11·8 per 10,000, against 9·6; inmates of public lunatic asylums to 48·0, against 37·6; prisoners in prisons and bridewells to 5·0, against 5·3; and the inmates of other public institutions (exclusive of barracks) to 40·5, against 42·2.

There were relatively more paupers in the workhouses of Leinster than in those of the other provinces, the proportion being 118·0 in every 10,000 of the population. In 1891 and 1901 Munster showed the highest proportion, but the per-centages for all the provinces show a large decrease when compared with 1901. The figures for 1901 were—Munster, 132·3; Leinster, 131·7; Connaught, 61·3; and Ulster, 61·0 in every 10,000 of the population. In 1911 Leinster heads the list, but the proportion is less than last time, being only 118·0; Munster is down to 117·5; Connaught, 58·1; and Ulster, 56·7.

Patients in hospitals were most numerous in Leinster, a fact to be expected from the number of hospitals in Dublin. The respective proportions are—Leinster, 25·4 patients in every 10,000 of the population; Ulster, 8·5; Munster, 7·6; and Connaught, 2·0.

In Leinster, inmates of public lunatic asylums are equivalent to 57·6 in every 10,000 of the population; in Munster, to 51·4; in Connaught, to 47·8; and in Ulster to 38·9.

Prisoners in prisons and bridewells represent 8·2 in every 10,000 of the population in Leinster; 4·9 in Munster; 3·9 in Ulster; and only 1·8 in Connaught. The large convict prisons in Dublin and Maryborough account for some of the excess in Leinster, as compared with the other provinces.

The inmates of other principal institutions (excluding barracks) amount to 76·8 per 10,000 of the population in Leinster; in Munster we find the proportion falling to 35·7; in Connaught to 24·6; and in Ulster to 23·1. The high proportion for Leinster is mainly owing to the number and extent of the charitable institutions situated in the County and City of Dublin.

The military quartered in Ireland on the Census night in 1911 numbered 25,100, or 57·2 to every 10,000 of the population. In the Province of Leinster the proportion was 116·3 to every 10,000 persons; in Munster, 80·7; in Ulster, 18·5; and in Connaught, 5·0. In the year 1901 the military numbered 21,235, or 47·6 to every 10,000 of the population in that year.

PUBLIC AND MILITARY HOSPITALS FOR THE RECEPTION AND TREATMENT OF DISEASES OR ACCIDENTS.

The patients of these institutions, on last Census night, 2nd April, 1911, with reference to the Diseases or Accidents from which they suffered on that occasion, have already been dealt with in this report. The amount of accommodation afforded in them has also been referred to. Table 111 shows the locality of each of these institutions, the date of erection or opening, amount of accommodation, and the number of inmates, and Table 80 shows the diseases or accidents from which the patients suffered. Table 112 shows the occupations of the inmates, and Table 113 their Religious Professions.

INMATES OF WORKHOUSES AND PERSONS IN RECEIPT OF OUT-DOOR RELIEF.

The sick in Workhouse Hospitals on last Census night have been already dealt with in Section VI., " The Sick and Infirm."

In Tables 114 to 116 will be found statistics regarding the religious professions, sexes, ages, conjugal condition, state of education, and occupations of the inmates of workhouses on the night of the 2nd April, 1911.

Table 114 shows that on the night of the Census there were 38,313 inmates (19,886 males and 18,427 females) in the workhouses throughout Ireland, as against 42,932 inmates in 1901. Thus, in 1911, there is a decrease of 4,619, or 10·8 per cent. as compared with 1901. Of the 38,313 inmates of workhouses, 32,661 were Roman Catholics, or one in every 102 of the total Roman Catholic population; 3,033 were Protestant Episcopalians, or one in every 190 of the Protestant Episcopalian population; 2,258 were Presbyterians, or one in every 195 of the total Presbyterian population; there were 146 Methodists, and 215 members of " All other Denominations."

The number of workhouse inmates returned as able to read and write was 22,458, or 58·6 per cent; 2,614, or 6·8 per cent., could read only; and 13,241, or 34·6 per cent., could neither read nor write. In 1901 the illiterate formed 39·6 per cent. of the inmates of workhouses.

Of the total of such inmates, 25,286, or 66·0 per cent., were unmarried; 4,760, or 12·4 per cent., were married, and 8,267, or 21·6 per cent., were widowed.

As may be observed from Table 116, the occupation followed by the largest number of inmates is that of labourer, of whom there were 9,922—9,389 males and 533 females—in workhouses on Census night; the next occupation in numerical order is servant, represented by 8,051—498 males and 7,553 females; there were 1,772 housekeepers tabulated; 913 factory workers; 448 boot and shoemakers; 378 tailors or tailoresses; 353 farmers; 302 dealers; 275 clerks; 243 weavers; 237 carpenters; 209 charwomen, and 206 cab, car, drivers, owners.

Of the 38,313 inmates, the occupations were unspecified in 10,880 instances—males, 4,676, and females, 6,204.

Table 12 contains the statistics regarding Out-door Relief in Ireland. It will be observed that under this heading are included those in receipt of relief at home, the children boarded-out, and the children in certified schools.

According to the returns it would appear that on Saturday, 1st April, 1911, there were 38,871 persons on Out-door Relief, including 36,225 persons who were in receipt of relief at their own homes, 2,544 boarded-out children, and 102 children in certified schools. Of the boarded-out children, 1,006 were sent from the workhouses of the province of Leinster, 825 from Munster, 537 from Ulster, and 176 from Connaught; and of the 102 children in certified schools, 40 were from Leinster, 17 from Ulster, and 45 from Connaught.

As compared with the number of persons in receipt of out-door relief on the 30th March, 1901, namely, 58,365, it would appear that there was a decrease in 1911 of 19,494, or 33·4 per cent.

In 1901 the ratio to the population was one in 76; in 1911 it was one in 113.

In the Province of Leinster the ratio was one in every 62 of the population of the province in 1901, and one in 78 in 1911; in Munster, one in 47 in 1901, and one in 78 in 1911; in Ulster, one in 178 in 1901, and one in 254 in 1911; in Connaught, one in 82 in 1901, and one in 140 in 1911.

Combining in-door and out-door relief, it is found that one in every 44 of the population received relief under one or other of these heads in 1901, and that the corresponding proportion for 1911 is one in 57.

In the Province of Leinster the ratio for indoor and out-door relief fell from one in every 34 of the population in 1901 to one in 41 in 1911; in Munster from one in 29 to one in 41; in Ulster from one in 86 to one in 105; and in Connaught from one in 55 of the population in 1901 to one in every 77 in 1911.

The following Counties or County Boroughs had the highest ratios for all persons receiving relief under the Poor Law System in 1911:—Carlow, with one person in every 32 of the population; Dublin County Borough, with one in 32; Waterford County and County Borough, one in 33; Limerick County and County Borough, one in 35; and Louth County, one in every 38 of the population. The Counties having the lowest ratios were:—Donegal, one relieved person to every 170 of the population; Londonderry County and County Borough, one to 146; Fermanagh, one to 127; Down, one to 116; Leitrim, one to 114; and Monaghan and Tyrone, each, one to 107 of their respective populations.

These figures point to a great improvement in the material condition of the poorer portion of the population, due, no doubt, in a great degree, to the old age pensions.

VIII.—RELIGIOUS PROFESSIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

The Tables coming under this category give information regarding the principal religions for each of the civil provinces, the counties, cities, parliamentary divisions and boroughs, towns with a population of not less than 1,500, dioceses and ecclesiastical provinces.

The Religious Professions of the people have been classified as "Roman Catholics," "Protestant Episcopalians," "Presbyterians," and "Methodists." Persons of all stated religions not coming under any of these four principal religions, those whose religion was unascertained, and those who refused to give information on the subject, have all been included under a fifth heading, "All other Denominations," an analysis of which will be found at the foot of Table 29.

The number of persons coming under each of these five heads for the years 1861, 1871, 1881, 1891, 1901, and 1911, with the proportion they bear to the total population at each Census period, will be found in the following Table:—

Census Periods.	Roman Catholics.		Protestant Episcopalians.		Presbyterians.		Methodists.		All other Denominations.		Total Population

Under the column headed Presbyterians in the above Table are included those who returned themselves as Presbyterians (General Assembly), Presbyterians (not otherwise distinguished), and Established Church of Scotland. Many Presbyterians, however, described themselves as belonging to such bodies as Reformed Presbyterians, United Free Church of Scotland, etc., and these have all been included in the Tables under the heading "All other Denominations." The different sections of Presbyterians (with the exception of Non-subscribing Presbyterians and Unitarians) have been collected from the analysis of " All other Denominations," at the foot of Table 29, and are shown in the following statement:—

Denominations.	Persons.	Males.	Females.
Presbyterians,	440,525	214,411	226,114
Reformed Presbyterians,	5,328	2,532	2,796

An analysis of the religions coming under the head of " All other Denominations " will be found at the foot of Table 29; subjoined, however, is a list of those denominations whose adherents reached the proportion of one in 10,000 of the population of Ireland in 1911:—

Denomination.	Actual No. of Adherents.	No. in 10,000 of the Population.	Denomination.	Actual No. of of Adherents.	No. in 10,000 of the Population.
Congregationalists, or Independents,	9,370	21·34	Christian Brethren,	2,653	6·04
Baptists,	8,227	18·74	Society of Friends,	2,480	5·65
Unitarians,	7,766	17·69	Christians,	2,351	5·36
Reformed Presbyterians,	5,328	12·14	Plymouth Brethren,	1,823	4·15
Brethren,	5,167	11·77	Salvation Army,	1,675	3·82
Jews,	5,148	11·73	Non-subscribing Presbyterians,	1,497	3·41
United Free Church of Scotland,	3,112	7·09	Moravians, or United Brethren,	1,303	2·97

Compared with the numbers returned for 1901, there was an increase during the decade of 39 per cent. amongst Plymouth Brethren, of 38 per cent. amongst Brethren, of 32 per cent. amongst Jews, and of 16 per cent. amongst Baptists.

The Act providing for the taking of the Census did not make it compulsory for persons to answer questions concerning their religion. Taking advantage of this, 2,379 persons refused to give information on the subject, an increase of 1,684 when compared with the corresponding number for 1901.

We proceed to notice the position, absolutely and comparatively, of the principal religious bodies in the chief territorial divisions, beginning with the civil Provinces (see Tables 29, 36, and 121).

In the Province of Leinster there were 990,045 Roman Catholics, representing 85·2 per cent. in a total population of 1,162,044, an increase of 8,277 over the number for 1901, the per-centage, however, remaining the same; 140,182, or 12·1 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians, the ratio being 0·2 per cent. less than that for 1901, and the number showing a decrease of 1,433; 12,866, or 1·1 per cent., Presbyterians, the ratio being 0·1 more than that for 1901, and the number 879 more than the number for 1901; and 8,068, or 0·7 per cent., Methodists, representing an increase of 81 in the number, without any alteration in the per-centage, as compared with the previous Census. The number who came under the head of " All other Denominations " was 10,883, or 0·9 per cent. of the whole population of Leinster. The number for 1911, was 1,401 in excess of that for 1901.

In Munster, in a total population of 1,035,495, there were 973,805, or 94 per cent., Roman Catholics; 50,646, or 4·9 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians; 4,180, or 0·4 per cent., Presbyterians; 4,175, or 0·4 per cent., Methodists; and 2,689, or 0·3 per cent., who came under the head of "All other Denominations." Compared with 1901, the ratio of Roman Catholics rose from 93·6 to 94·0 per cent. of the total; Protestant Episcopalians fell from 5·3 per cent. to 4·9; Presbyterians rose from 0·3 to 0·4; Methodists declined from 0·5 to 0·4 per cent.; and the per-centage of "All other Denominations" remained the same in both years. There was a decrease in the number of Roman Catholics of 34,071, in that of Protestant Episcopalians of 6,025, an increase of 754 in the number of Presbyterians, a decrease of 799 in that of Methodists, and the number of persons belonging to "All other Denominations" showed a falling off of 552.

The total population of Ulster is 1,581,696. Out of this number there were 690,816, or 43·7 per cent., Roman Catholics, a decrease of 8,386 in number and of 0·5 in per-centage compared with 1901; Protestant Episcopalians numbered 366,773, or an increase of 6,400 on the number for 1901, the proportion per cent. being 23·2, as compared with 22·8 for 1901; Presbyterians numbered 421,410, a fall of 4,116 in the ten years, and the rate per cent. has fallen from 26·9 to 26·6; the number of Methodists rose from 47,372 in 1901 to 48,816 in 1911, and the rate per cent. from 3·0 to 3·1. Those who were tabulated under the head of "All other Denominations" numbered 53,881, which is 3,528 in advance of the number for 1901, and represents a per-centage of 3·4, as against 3·2 for 1901.

The population of the Province of Connaught in 1911 was 610,984. Of this number 588,004, or 96·2 per cent., were Roman Catholics, a decrease of 31,811 in the actual number, but an increase of 0·4 in the ratio. In actual numbers Roman Catholics decreased five per cent. in the ten years. Protestant Episcopalians decreased in number from 22,430 in 1901 to 19,010 in 1911, and in relative proportion from 3·5 to 3·1. The number for 1911 is 15 per cent. less than that for 1901. Presbyterians decreased in number from 2,337 to 2,069, and in relative proportion from 0·4 in 1901 to 0·3 in 1911. The number for 1911 is 11 per cent. less than that for 1901. Methodists numbered 1,323 in 1911, as against 1,683 in 1901. The proportion per cent. in the total population was 0·2, compared with 0·3 in 1901. The number for 1911 is 21 per cent. less than that for 1901. The number tabulated under the head "All other Denominations" was 578, as against 667 in 1901. The per-centage was 0·1 in both years, but the number for 1911 was 13 per cent. less than that for 1901.

Sixty-four per cent. of the total number of Protestants in Ireland, 96 per cent. of the Presbyterians, 78 per cent. of the Methodists, and 79 per cent. of those tabulated under the head of "All other Denominations" were inhabitants of Ulster.

The majority of the inhabitants of Leinster, Munster, and Connaught are Roman Catholics, and in the Province of Ulster they are far more numerous than the members of any other body. Reduced to a basis of 1,000, the population of Ulster is composed as follows:—Roman Catholics, 437; Protestant Episcopalians, 232; Presbyterians, 266; Methodists, 31; and "All other Denominations," 34.

The proportions here shown for Protestant Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Methodists, and "All other Denominations" in Ulster are the highest shown under these headings for any of the provinces.

Comparing the per-centages for 1911 with those for 1901, we find that the proportion of Roman Catholics increased in Leinster, Munster, and Connaught, and declined in Ulster; Protestant Episcopalians increased in Ulster, but decreased in all the other Provinces; Presbyterians increased in Leinster and Munster, and decreased in Ulster and Connaught; Methodists increased in Ulster, decreased in Munster and Connaught, and remained the same in Leinster; and "All other Denominations" increased in Leinster and Ulster and declined in Munster and Connaught.

Table 121 deals with the religious professions of the inhabitants of the Counties and County Boroughs. There are six County Boroughs, and these have been separated from the rural portions of the counties, so that the country has been divided into 38 districts. In 28 of these districts Roman Catholics constituted more than 75 per cent. of the 1911 population, there being 2, namely, Donegal and Wicklow, in which the proportion was between 75 and 80 per cent.; 3—the County Borough of Dublin and the Counties of Cavan and Kildare—in which it was between 80 and 85 per cent.; 3—Cork County Borough, Queen's, and Carlow—in which it was between 85 and 90 per cent.; 13 in which it was from 90 to 95 per cent.—Sligo, Leitrim, Cork, Wexford, Louth, Longford, Waterford County Borough, Westmeath, Meath, Tipperary, Kilkenny, King's, and Limerick County Borough; and 7 in which it exceeded 95 per cent.—Waterford, Kerry, Limerick, Galway, Roscommon, Mayo, and Clare. In Clare the ratio for Roman Catholics was 98·14, the number being 102,300 in a total of 104,232. In five districts the proportion of Roman Catholics ranged from 50 to 75 per cent., viz.—Tyrone, Londonderry County Borough, Fermanagh, Dublin County, and Monaghan. In the 5 remaining districts Roman Catholics were less than 50 per cent. of the population. These districts and the respective rates per cent. are—Armagh, 45·33; Londonderry, 41·54; Down, 31·56; Belfast County Borough, 24·10; and Antrim, 20·50.

The highest and lowest proportions, respectively, of Protestant Episcopalians are to be found in Fermanagh and Clare, the per-centage for the former being 34·2 and for the latter 1·6. Protestant Episcopalians exceeded 25 per cent. of the population in three districts—Fermanagh, 34·2 (as before mentioned), Armagh, 32·45, and Belfast County Borough, in which the proportion was 30·54; in five of the districts—Antrim, Dublin, Down, Londonderry, and Tyrone—the per-centage was between 20 and 25; in three it was between 15 and 20, viz.—Kildare, Wicklow, and Londonderry County Borough; in four, viz.—Cavan, Donegal, Monaghan, Dublin County Borough—it was between 10 and 15; and in the remaining 23 it was under 10.

As before stated, 96 per cent. of all the Presbyterians in Ireland are inhabitants of Ulster, but the proportion per cent. in the population reaches 50 in one county only, viz., Antrim, where it is 50·14. The rate for Presbyterians in Ulster is lowest in Fermanagh, where it is 2·05 per cent., and it varies in the other districts as follows:—Cavan, 3·12; Donegal, 8·91; Monaghan, 11·91; Armagh, 15·77; Tyrone, 18·58; Londonderry County Borough, 21·33; Belfast County Borough, 33·74; Londonderry, 34·29; and Down, 37·98.

Outside the Province of Ulster, Presbyterians reached one per cent. of the population in 5 districts only, viz.—Dublin and Louth, and the County Boroughs of Dublin, Limerick, and Cork. The highest per-centage for any of these is 2·55 for the County of Dublin.

The proportion of Methodists reached one per cent. in the following districts:—Wicklow, 1·00; Donegal, 1·01; Dublin, 1·57; Antrim, 1·97; Tyrone, 2·01; Down, 2·18; Londonderry County Borough, 2·90; Armagh, 4·20; Belfast County Borough, 6·15; and Fermanagh, 6·51.

Persons included under the head of "All other Denominations" reach a rate of one per cent in the population of eleven districts only. These and the respective per-centages are:—Waterford County Borough, 1·02; Fermanagh, 1·10; Tyrone, 1·32; Dublin County Borough, 1·82; Londonderry County Borough, 2·03; Dublin County, 2·08; Armagh, 2·25; Londonderry County, 3·35; Down, 5·24; Belfast County Borough, 5·47; and Antrim, 5·67.

Table 122 shows the religious professions of the inhabitants of each Poor Law Union.

The religious professions of the population in each County Parliamentary Division in Ireland in 1901 and 1911 are shown in Table 123; and similar information for Parliamentary Boroughs and Parliamentary Divisions within Boroughs is shown in Table 124. These Boroughs are nine in number, and their aggregate population is 942,444, compared with 892,463 in 1901.

Of the 942,444 inhabitants of these Boroughs in 1911, 558,921, or 59·3 per cent. were Roman Catholics; 179,595, or 19·1 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians; 146,398, or 15·5 per cent., Presbyterians; 28,378, or 3·0 per cent., Methodists; and 29,152, or 3·1 per cent., were tabulated under the head of "All other Denominations." The 1901 per-centages were—Roman Catholics, 59·5; Protestant Episcopalians, 19·2; Presbyterians, 15·3; Methodists, 2·9; and "All other Denomimations," 3·1.

Roman Catholics constitute more than 50 per cent. of the population in eight of the nine boroughs. In the remaining one (Belfast) Presbyterians are predominant, where they form 33·7 per cent. of the population.

Table 125 shows the population, by religious professions, of every town in Ireland of which the population in 1911 was 1,500 and upwards—1,500 being the minimum limit fixed in the Towns' Improvement Act, 17 & 18 Vic., cap. 103. The number of such towns was 139, with an aggregate population of 1,523,246, of whom 947,100, or 62·2 per cent., were Roman Catholics; 290,231, or 19·0 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians; 203,669, or 13·4 per cent., Presbyterians; 41,386, or 2·7 per cent., Methodists; and 40,860, or 2·7 per cent., members of other religious denominations.

There were, in 1901, 137 towns with a population of over 1,500. During the decade five towns rose above this limit and three—Belturbet, Lismore, and Trim—fell below it. In that year the town population was 1,436,071, of whom 898,544, or 62·6 per cent., were Roman Catholics; 273,916, or 19·1 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians; 187,378, or 13·0 per cent., Presbyterians; 38,819, or 2·7 per cent., Methodists; and 37,414, or 2·6 per cent., members of other religious persuasions.

From these figures it may be seen that the proportionate rate per cent. of Roman Catholics to other denominations in the total town population shows a decrease of 0·4, and the corresponding rate for Protestants a decrease of 0·1. The proportion for Presbyterians is 0·4 more than the 1901 per-centage, and that for Methodists remains unaltered.

In 1911 the population of towns with 1,500 inhabitants and over shows a net increase of 87,175 when compared with that of 1901.

Roman Catholics constitute an absolute majority of the inhabitants in 114 out of the 139 towns in the table, and in 4 others,—Cookstown, Limavady, Newcastle (Co. Down), and Whiteabbey, although less than 50 per cent. of the population, are, nevertheless, the largest section. In one town—Portadown—Protestant Episcopalians are in the majority. In 6—Banbridge, Donaghadee, Dromore, Lisburn, Lurgan, and Portrush—they outnumber any other section, although they do not form half the population; and in 14, viz.—Ballymena, Ballymoney, Comber, Newtownards, Antrim, Ballyclare, Ballynahinch, Bangor, Belfast, Carrickfergus, Coleraine, Holywood, Larne, and Killyleagh—the Presbyterians predominate, forming more than 50 per cent. of the population in the first four.

Protestant Episcopalians are more numerous than Presbyterians in all but 19 of the 139 towns. The Province of Ulster furnishes the exceptions, which are—Antrim, Ballyclare, Ballymena, Ballymoney, Ballynahinch, Bangor, Belfast, Bessbrook, Carrickfergus, Castleblayney, Coleraine, Comber, Holywood, Killyleagh, Kilkeel, Larne, Londonderry, Newtownards, and Whiteabbey.

Exclusive of the towns referred to above, the population of Ireland numbered 2,866,973, of whom 2,295,570, or 80·1 per cent., were Roman Catholics; 286,380, or 10·0 per cent., Protestant Episcopalians; 236,856, or 8·3 per cent., Presbyterians; 20,996, or 0·7 per cent., Methodists; and 27,171, or 0·9 per cent., belonged to "All other Denominations." In 1901 the per-centages were:—Roman Catholics, 79·7 per cent.; Protestant Episcopalians, 10·1; Presbyterians, 8·5; Methodists, 0·8; and "All other Denominations," 0·9.

The following Table shows the variations in the relative strength of the principal religions in town and country for the Censuses of 1891, 1901, and 1911.

Religious Denomination.	Towns. 1891.	1901.	1911.	Rural Districts. 1891.	1901.	1911.
Roman Catholics, ...	64·8	62·6	62·2	79·4	79·7	80·1
Protestant Episcopalians,	19·0	19·1	19·0	10·4	10·1	10·0
Presbyterians, ...	11·7	13·0	13·4	8·6	8·5	8·3

The religious professions of the inhabitants of dioceses and ecclesiastical provinces are given in Tables 126-130. The diocesan boundaries observed in the compilation of these tables are those legally recognised prior to the passing of "The Irish Church Act, 1869."

Table 126 gives the religious professions of the inhabitants of each diocese in 1911. The next table shows the dioceses alphabetically arranged. In Table 128 the dioceses have been grouped according to the ancient ecclesiastical provinces, and this table gives the number of adherents of each religion, with their per-centage to the total population, for each Census period from 1871 to 1911. Tables 129 and 130 show the religious professions of the inhabitants of each Roman Catholic Ecclesiastical Province and Diocese, and of each Province and Diocese of the late Established Church (Church of Ireland) respectively.

It can be seen from Table 128 that in 26 of the 32 dioceses the relative strength of the Roman Catholic Church is greater than the average for the whole country, and that in 20 of these 26 dioceses the per-centage exceeded 90, the highest being 98·9 for the diocese of Kilfenora. The six dioceses where the proportion is under that for the whole of Ireland are situated in the Ecclesiastical Province of Armagh, and were—Clogher, 65·0 per cent. ; Armagh, 60·3 per cent.; Derry, 57·3.; Dromore 38·5.; Connor, 24·4 ; and Down, 20·6. With the exception of that for the Diocese of Down, these per-centages are all greater than in 1901.

In five dioceses the per-centage of Protestant Episcopalians is above 20 ; in thirteen it is below 5 ; the highest proportion is 27·7 in the diocese of Dromore; the lowest 1·0 in the diocese of Kilfenora, the mean for Ireland being 13·1.

The average number of Presbyterians in every 100 of the inhabitants of Ireland is 10. In the diocese of Down, where the highest proportion is reached, it is 41·9 ; in Connor it is 39·3 ; in Dromore, 25·6 ; in Derry, 23·4, and in Armagh, 14·3. The rate per cent. does not exceed 10 in any other diocese, and it is less than 1 per cent. in 23.

Methodists reached their highest proportion in the diocese of Down, where they represent 4·5 per cent. of the population of the diocese. The diocese of Down also shows the highest per-centage for "All other Denominations," viz., 6·6.

Dublin is the most populous of the dioceses, and Kilmacduagh the least so. The former has a population of 549,018, and the latter 14,438. The populations of 5 dioceses have increased since 1901, viz.—Dublin, which increased from 520,012 to 549,018 ; Connor, which has risen from 473,682 to 493,306 ; Down, which has increased from 197,584 to 217,728 ; Kildare, which has increased from 68,594 to 70,895 ; and Waterford, which shows a slight increase (from 36,796 to 36,928). If we deduct the number of military and their families stationed at the Curragh in 1911 from the 1911 population, and the number in 1901 from the 1901 population, the diocese of Kildare would be found to have decreased in 1911, when compared with the 1901 population.

Roman Catholics are most numerous in the diocese of Dublin, where they number 434,586 ; persons tabulated under all the other heads are most numerous in the diocese of Connor, their respective numbers being :—Protestant Episcopalians, 133,440 ; Presbyterians, 193,954 ; Methodists, 20,961 ; and "All other Denominations," 24,601.

In eight of the dioceses the per-centage afforded by the number of members of any of the principal denominations in the population differs to the extent of 1·0 from the corresponding figure for 1901. These are :—Clogher, in which the Roman Catholics rose from 63·9 to 65 per cent.; Connor, where Protestant Episcopalians rose from 26·1 to 27·1, and Presbyterians fell from 40·5 to 39·3 ; Down, where Protestant Episcopalians increased from 24·9 to 26·4 ; Raphoe, where Roman Catholics rose from 78·1 to 79·5 per cent.; Dublin, where Protestant Episcopalians fell from 17·4 to 16·4 ; Kildare, where Roman Catholics declined from 85·9 to 82·3, and Protestant Episcopalians rose from 12·2 to 15·7 ; Cashel, where Roman Catholics increased from 95·6 to 96·8, and Protestant Episcopalians fell from 4·0 to 2·9 ; and the diocese of Ross, where Roman Catholics rose from 91·7 to 92·9 per cent. of the population.

EDUCATION OF THE PEOPLE.

Tables 30, 33, 38, 39, 40, 62, 63, and 131 to 141, inclusive, deal with the education of the people and their religious professions. Tables 30, 33, 62, 63, and 131 deal with the state of elementary knowledge, as indicated by the number of persons aged 9 years and upwards who can " read and write," those who are able to " read only," and those who cannot read. Tables 38, 39, 40, and 132 to 141 deal with the state of education as shown by returns from the various educational establishments.

In Censuses prior to 1911 all persons aged 5 years and over who could not read were tabulated as illiterate, but it has been generally considered by authorities on Education that this limit is too low, and that its adoption has had the effect of unreasonably swelling the per-centage of supposed illiterates in the country. In a sparsely-populated, agricultural country like Ireland considerations of health, distance from school, or home circumstances may result in an irregular school attendance in the earlier years. It, therefore, seems unreasonable to stamp any child as illiterate until it has been given the opportunity, at least up to 9 years of age, of learning to read. In the present Census, therefore, the age of 9 has been taken as the starting point, and children under that age have been excluded in arriving at the per-centage of illiteracy.

Taking 9 years as the starting period, as we have done, the results show that of the entire population over that age 87·6 per cent. can read and write, 3·2 per cent. read only, and 9·2 per cent. only are illiterate.

As, however, it was considered desirable to preserve the means of statistical comparison with previous years, the information has also been taken out on the basis of the former standard, and it is satisfactory to note that even on that basis the per-centage of illiteracy, which in 1851 was returned as 46·8, in 1861 as 38·7, in 1871 as 33·4, in 1881 as 25·2, in 1891 as 18·4, and in 1901 as 13·7, has fallen still further to 11·9.

The lowest per-centage of illiteracy is to be found in the Province of Leinster, where it was only 6·8 ; and the highest in Connaught, where it was 15·2 per cent. The lowest per-centage in Leinster is in the County of Dublin (3·4), and the highest (11·0) is in the County Wexford. The lowest per-centage of illiteracy in Connaught is in the County Leitrim, and the highest in the County Galway, the rate for the former being 8·5 per cent., and for the latter 18·8 per cent. of the population 9 years and over.

Table 131 shows the state of elementary education amongst members of the principal religions. It will be seen from a reference to this Table that 11·3 per cent. of the Roman Catholic population aged 9 years and upwards, 4·2 per cent. of the Protestant Episcopalians, 2·7 per cent. of the Presbyterians, 1·6 per cent. of the Methodists, and 2·3 per cent. of those belonging to " All other Denominations," could neither read nor write.

PRIMARY AND SUPERIOR* EDUCATION.

From the Tables which deal with Educational Statistics it is very gratifying to find that education in Ireland shows marked progress during the past decade, as is evidenced by the decline of illiteracy and the increase in the number of persons receiving instruction at the schools and colleges throughout the country.

Taking for comparative purposes the attendance during one week in May of each Census year from 1881 to 1911 inclusive, it appears that in 1881, 699,729, or 13·52 per cent. of the population, were undergoing instruction in Educational Establishments; in 1891, 712,843, or 15·15 per cent.; in 1901, 675,342, or 15·15 per cent.; and in 1911, 704,807, or 16·05 per cent., being the highest per-centage yet recorded, and the improvement, as will be seen from Table 40, exists in all the religious denominations.

* Schools in which a foreign language is taught have been classed as " Superior " upon the assumed likelihood that the presence of a foreign language in the school course argues a higher standard of general instruction than is to be found where such an element is wanting.

In analysing the attendance at the different classes of schools, it is found that while there is an increase in the attendance at schools classed as "Primary," there is a more marked increase in the attendance at "Superior" Schools :—

Primary Schools :—

	1901.	1911.
Males, ...	315,513	325,458
Females, ...	321,264	335,694
	636,777	661,152

Superior (or Intermediate) Schools :—

	1901.		1911.
	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.
Non-resident, ...	17,994	7,891	21,297	8,510
Resident, ...	5,051	4,437	6,263	5,087
	23,045	12,328	27,560	13,597

Colleges of Universities and other Colleges (so far as Returns have been furnished) :—

	1901.		1911.
	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.
Non-resident, ...	1,275	91	976	280
Resident, ...	1,826	.	1,242	.
	3,101	91	2,218	280

The decrease in the numbers in this last class is accounted for by the fact that the figures do not include certain Colleges for which no returns were received. See notes at foot of Table 140.

Superior Establishments have been divided, as in previous Censuses, into (1) Colleges of Universities and other Colleges, and (2) Superior or Intermediate Schools.

Colleges have been taken to be institutions which administer a complete course of professional instruction.

Taking the total numbers under instruction in Irish schools (Primary and Superior), we find that the per-centage to the population was, for Roman Catholics, in 1881, 13·45 ; in 1891, 15·17 ; in 1901, 15·04, and in 1911, 16·15 ; for Protestant Episcopalians, 13·92 in 1881 ; 14·77 in 1891 ; 15·08 in 1901 ; and in 1911, 15·11 ; for Presbyterians, 14·38 per cent. in 1881 ; 16·38 in 1891 ; 16·81 in 1901 ; and 17·30 in 1911 ; for Methodists, 12·08 in 1881 ; 13·81 in 1891 ; 14·37 in 1901 ; and 14·98 in 1911 ; and for "All other Denominations," 7·92 per cent. in 1881 ; 9·55 in 1891 ; 10·55 in 1901 ; and 10·95 in 1911.

Table No. 133 classifies the several establishments in which instruction, whether primary or superior, was administered at the Census dates of 1871, 1881, 1891, 1901, and 1911, and the pupils and students in attendance according to their ages and religious professions, residents and non-residents being separately distinguished.

From this Table it appears that the primary schools in 1871 numbered 9,495, with 615,785 pupils ; in 1881, 9,151, with 675,036 pupils ; in 1891, 9,177, with 685,074 pupils ; in 1901, 9,157, with 636,777 pupils ; and in 1911, 8,649, with 661,152 pupils.

It may be here remarked that while the number of schools has, pursuant to the policy of the amalgamation of small Primary Schools, been considerably reduced, the number of pupils in attendance shows a satisfactory increase.

Their distribution according to religions is as follows :—

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

	Roman Catholics.	Protestant Episcopalians.	Presbyterians.	Methodists.	All other Denominations.
1911, ...	491,988	80,975	72,635	8,497	6,701
1901, ...	471,910	80,300	70,876	7,899	5,792
1891, ...	522,793	81,360	69,545	6,876	4,500
1881, ...	520,818	81,188	64,659	5,123	3,248
1871, ...	464,362	82,673	68,750

In 1871, 587 establishments, with 24,170 students; in 1881, 504, with 24,693 students; in 1891, 490, with 27,769 students; in 1901, 510, with 38,565 students; and in 1911, 507, with 43,655 students, were tabulated under the head of superior schools and colleges.

The following is the distribution of the students according to religions:—

SUPERIOR SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

	Roman Catholics.	Protestant Episcopalians.	Presbyterians.	Methodists.	All other Denominations.
1911, ...	31,742	6,220	3,580	848	747
1901, ...	25,647	7,335	3,638	1,011	934
1891, ...	15,430	7,280	3,342	787	930
1881, ...	12,064	7,854	3,063	775	937
1871, ...	12,274	7,628	4,268

Of the several groups into which we have divided the Primary Schools, those under the National Board come first in importance. This is by far the largest group and in 1911 contained 95·9 per cent. of all the pupils attending Primary Schools. In the last decade the number of schools under the National Board has been reduced by 322, although the number of pupils in attendance in 1911 shows the substantial increase of 32,133 as compared with 1901, made up of 24,932 Roman Catholics, 3,160 Protestant Episcopalians, 2,238 Presbyterians, 712 Methodists, and 1,091 belonging to " All other Denominations."

Comparing 1911 with previous Censuses back to 1871, a considerable increase appears in the number of Roman Catholic children attending schools under the National Board, but a much greater increase is noticeable in the case of Protestant Episcopalians, Methodists, and " All other Denominations."

This fact must be borne in mind in considering the second of our groups, Church Education Society and Parochial Schools. The number of pupils in attendance at these schools shows a steady decrease of over 50 per cent. in every decade since 1871.

The third group—Schools under Christian Brothers and other Roman Catholic Communities, not in connection with the National Board—continues also to decline both in the number of schools and in the number of pupils. This, however, can be largely accounted for by the fact that the great majority of the " Monastic and Convent " Primary Schools formerly returned in this group are now connected with the National Board; and, furthermore, that, owing, no doubt, to the influence of the Intermediate Education system in promoting the study of Languages, many of the Christian Brothers' Schools are now classed by us as " Superior Schools." This is made manifest by bringing into view the attendance at all the Schools of the Christian Brothers classed by us as " Primary " and " Superior " Schools respectively.

	No. of Pupils in Primary Schools.	No. of Pupils in Superior Schools.	Total Pupils.
1911, ...	7,227	14,900	22,127
1901, ...	11,299	10,160	21,459
1891, ...	18,545	2,837	21,382
1881, ...	22,099	.	22.099
1871, ...	24,166	.	24,166

Schools under " Other Societies or Boards " form the fourth group, and include all primary establishments under corporate government other than that of the National Board, the Church Education Society, or the Christian Brothers.

The number of these schools has been reduced during the last decade from 250 to 200, while the number of pupils shows a reduction of 982.

The number of primary schools classified under this group in 1871, 1881, 1891, 1901, and 1911 is as follows :—

	1871.	1881.	1891.	1901.	1911.

As regards Industrial Schools, though there were 66 Certificated Schools in the year ended the 31st December, 1910, we have only given 58 above. We ascertained, however, that the inmates of the remaining 8 attended other primary schools.

In 1871 the number of Orphanages returned as separate primary schools was 36; in 1881, 30; in 1891, 30; in 1901, 26; and in 1911, 23.

In the sixth group, Private Elementary Schools, the number of schools and pupils in attendance thereat continues to decrease, there being 48 schools in 1911, with 783 pupils, as compared with 85 schools, with 1,794 pupils, in 1901.

Superior Establishments have been divided, as in previous Censuses, into two broad classes—(1) Colleges of Universities and other Colleges, and (2) Superior Schools. Colleges have, as before stated, been taken to be institutions which administer a complete course of professional instruction. Eighteen Colleges furnished Returns, a summary of which constitutes the figures for 1911 in Group 8 of Table 133.

In the seventh group—" Superior Schools "—are included many high class establishments, popularly known as Colleges, together with all schools, both public and private, in which a fair per-centage of the pupils were engaged in the study of foreign languages.

Although the number of establishments of this class has not varied much since 1881, there has been a steady increase in the number of pupils, the number having doubled since 1881, the number of superior schools at that date being 488, with 20,405 pupils, while in 1911 we have 489 schools, with 40,841 pupils.

An analysis of the second class of Superior Establishments, shows :—

(1) 24 Ecclesiastical or Diocesan schools under Roman Catholic government, with 1,927 pupils in 1911, as compared with 22 in 1901, with 1,525 pupils.

(2) 34 schools and colleges under Religious Orders of Men, such as Jesuits, Dominicans, Vincentians, Augustinians, Carmelites, Marists, Oblates, Fathers of the Holy Ghost, &c., with 3,008 pupils, there being only 30, with 2,717 pupils, in 1901.

(3) 107 Monastic and Convent Schools (5 of which are essentially male schools), with 7,645 pupils, as compared with 108 in 1901, and 7,456 pupils.

(4) 53 Christian Brothers' Schools, with 14,900 pupils, as compared with 38 in 1901, and 10,160 pupils.

(5) 58 other Intermediate Schools, almost exclusively Protestant, including Royal and Diocesan schools, schools upon the foundation of Erasmus Smith and such like. 3,509 pupils were in attendance in 1911, as compared with 2,653 in 1901, when there were 55 such schools.

(6) 189 Private Establishments, with 7,555 pupils, as compared with 210 in 1901, and 8,051 pupils.

(7) 11 Training Colleges, with 1,276 students, as compared with 5 in 1901, and 731 students.

As in previous Censuses, schools in which the instruction did not include a foreign language were classed in the present Census as " Primary," and those in which a foreign language was taught as " Superior." In the latter class we did not include essentially primary schools in which a few scholars were learning languages, but only those in which these subjects of study entered appreciably into the school course, 20 per cent. or over of the pupils being engaged thereon.

The number of pupils and students who were engaged in the higher studies, Latin, Greek, Modern Languages, and Mathematics whether in superior or in primary schools, is shown according to religious professions, by Counties and Provinces, in Tables 134 and 139. In the latter Table will also be found the number of students in Ireland engaged in the study of Irish, which shows a remarkable increase during the past decade, the total number having increased nearly five-fold since 1901.

This increase is shared in by all the religious denominations, as will be seen from the following figures :—

	Roman Catholics.	Protestant Episcopalians.	Presbyterians.	Methodists	All other Denominations.	Total.
1911, ...	165,806	749	167	29	24	166,775
1901, ...	35,924	165	25	4	2	36,120
Increase, ...	129,882	584	142	25	22	130,655

A comparison of the number studying Irish in each Province in 1901 and 1911 may be of interest :—

	Leinster.	Munster.	Ulster.	Connaught.
1911, ...	35,191	66,052	24,778	40,754
1901, ...	8,794	14,323	3,801	9,202

The attendance at school for the year ended 31st March, 1911, in so far as returns have been received, is dealt with in Tables 135, 136, 137, 138, and 141.

The attendance has been divided into the following ten periods :—Under 5 days ; 5 and under 20 ; 20 and under 40 ; 40 and under 60 ; 60 and under 80 ; 80 and under 100 ; 100 and under 150 ; 150 and under 200 ; 200 and under 300 ; and, lastly, 300 days and upwards.

From these summaries the following results have been deduced :—

Although the total number of pupils in attendance shows a decrease on the three previous Censuses, it is gratifying to note that the number in attendance 100 days and upwards has increased, the figures taken in two groups being as follows :—

	No. in 1911.	No. in 1901.	No. in 1891.	No. in 1881.
Under 100 days, ...	331,764	393,639	450,759	552,907
100 days and upwards, ...	603,059	577,285	602,401	547,201

In Table 137 the attendance is shown for five different classes of schools, the only class which shows an increase in the attendance being the schools under the "Christian Brothers and other Roman Catholic Communities." This class shows an increase of 5,674 pupils.

Coming to the ages of the pupils, and their proportion to the total population at the same age periods, we find from Table 138 that, in 1911, 19·9 per cent. of children under 6 years of age were attending school, as compared with 20·3 in 1901 ; 78·9 per cent. from 6 to 14, as compared with 70·8 in 1901 ; 29·9 per cent. from 14 to 15, as compared with 24·1 in 1901 ; and 10·2 per cent. from 15 to 18, as compared with 8·8 in 1901.

Of all the children attending Primary National Schools 78·3 per cent. were between the ages of 6 and 14, this being the highest per-centage, except in the schools of the Christian Brothers and other Roman Catholic communities, where the percentage reached 85·2.

Table 141 furnishes an important comparison for seven Censuses. From it we find that the number between 5 and 15 years of age, inclusive, attending school in the 1911 Census week was 636,504 (the highest figure yet recorded), being an increase on 1901 of 33,611. The steady decline in the number and proportion per cent. not attending school is well maintained this Census, there being a decrease of 87,158, or 7 per cent., as compared with 1901.

In Table 132 Civic Districts are comprised of towns of 2,000 inhabitants and upwards. It will be seen from the accompanying general statement that the numbers attending the primary and superior schools, both in the Rural and Civic Districts, show a decided increase as compared with 1901 :—

		1881.	1891.	1901.	1911.
Rural Districts, ...	Primary Schools,	497,253	498,483	425,161	434,238

	Total,	699,729	712,843	675,342	704,336

Table 140 is compiled on a different basis to any of the other school tables—being a summary of all pupils in attendance during any day or days of the fortnight ended 11th May, 1911.

Compared with 1901, 1891, and 1881, this Table shows the following general results :—

X.—IRISH-SPEAKING POPULATION.

In each of the County Books in connection with the Census of 1911, particulars regarding the Irish-speaking population are given in Tables 36 and 37, by sexes and ages, in the District Electoral Divisions and Urban and Rural County Districts, as also for each County, County Borough, Rural County District and Urban County District, with the comparative statistics of 1901 for the latter areas.

The information regarding District Electoral Divisions appears for the first time in the Census reports of 1911, and has been tabulated in response to representations made to us that, in connection with the teaching of Irish in National Schools, it was necessary to arrive at the particulars of smaller areas than those formerly dealt with.

Table 142 shows, by Provinces, Counties, and County Boroughs, the number and proportion per cent. of the Irish-speaking population in 1891, 1901, and 1911.

It will be seen from this Table that the total number of persons who could speak Irish fell from 680,245 in 1891 to 641,142 in 1901 and to 582,446 in 1911, the proportion per cent. of the population in these years being represented by 14·5, 14·4 and 13·3, respectively.

In 1901, 20,953 persons were returned as speaking Irish only, and in 1911 the number so returned was 16,870, or 4,083 less than in 1901.

With respect to those returned as speaking Irish only, it may be observed that there were decreases in three provinces; thus in Munster the number fell from 4,387 in 1901 to 2,766 in 1911; in Connaught from 12,103 to 9,367; and in Leinster there were 7 so returned in 1901, as against 3 in 1911; but in Ulster the number increased from 4,456 in 1901 to 4,737 in 1911. With respect to those able to speak Irish and English, the number fell in Munster from 271,881 in 1901 to 225,928 in 1911; in Connaught from 233,477 to 207,720; but in Leinster the number rose from 26,429 in 1901 to 40,225 in 1911, and in Ulster from 88,402 to 91,703.

In so far as comparison can be made with 1901, as regards the ages of speakers of Irish, it would appear that there was an increase of 3,462 in those under 10 years of age, and of 29,707 in those of 10 and under 18 years of age, but a decrease of 28,722 in the number of speakers of Irish of 18 and under 30 years of age, and of 63,143 in the number aged 30 years and upwards. There was thus an increase of 33,169 in the speakers of Irish under 18 years of age, but a decrease of 91,865 in the number of those 18 years and upwards, representing a net decrease of 58,696 in 1911, as compared with 1901.

In connection with this decrease it must be borne in mind that 346,024 natives of Ireland left the country for permanent settlement abroad during the ten years ending with 1910, and that of these, 288,196, or 83·3 per cent. of the total, were between 15 and 35 years of age. (See remarks on Emigration, commencing on next page.)

The counties in which over 20 per cent. of the population in 1911 were returned as being able to speak the Irish language, are shown in the following statement:—

County.	Number.	Per-centage of Population.
Galway, ...	98,523	54·1
Mayo, ...	88,601	46·1
Waterford, ...	21,692	38·4
Kerry, ...	60,719	38·0
Clare, ...	36,704	35·2
Donegal, ...	59,313	35·2
Cork, ...	77,205	23·8
Sligo, ...	15,927	20·1

From this it will be seen that in eight counties over 20 per cent. of the population in 1911 could speak the Irish language; four of those counties being in the province of Munster, three in Connaught, and one in Ulster.

From Table 142 it will be seen that in no county in Ireland in 1911 was the proportion less than one per cent. of the population. In 1901 there were five counties which had less than one per cent. of Irish speakers.

The highest county per-centage of persons who could speak Irish in the Province of Leinster is that for Louth, viz., 5·9 per cent. of the population, the per-centage in 1901 being 4·9. The per-centage for Kilkenny was 4·4; for Dublin County Borough, 3·9; for Meath, 3·8; for Westmeath, 3·5; and for Dublin County, 3·4. With the exception of Kilkenny, all the counties of Leinster show increases in 1911, both absolutely and relatively, as compared with the preceding Census returns.

In the Province of Munster, excluding counties already mentioned as having over 20 per cent. of Irish speakers, Cork County Borough has 8·7 per cent.; Limerick County, 10·4 per cent.; Limerick County Borough, 6·8 per cent.; Tipperary County, 6·6 per cent.; and Waterford County Borough, 7·7 per cent. Limerick County Borough and Tipperary County are the only county borough or county areas in the province of Munster which show an increase in the number of speakers of Irish in 1911.

With the exception of Donegal, there is not any county in Ulster which had, in 1911, 20 per cent. of its population able to speak Irish—the nearest approaches being Monaghan, Tyrone, Londonderry County Borough, Cavan, Fermanagh, Armagh, Londonderry County, and Belfast County Borough, in which the per-centages were, respectively, 7·6, 5·3, 4·7, 3·3, 2·5, 2·3, 2·1, and 2·0. With the exception of Armagh, Cavan and Donegal, all the county or county borough areas in Ulster exhibit an increase in the decennial period in the number of their Irish speakers. Although the number of Irish speakers in the county of Donegal has decreased by 1,364, the proportion to the population has increased from 34·9 per cent. in 1901 to 35·2 per cent. in 1911.

There were two counties in the Province of Connaught in which not 20 per cent. of the population could speak Irish, viz. :—Leitrim and Roscommon, in which the per-centages were 6·2 and 10·8 respectively. The Irish speakers in Leitrim have relatively increased since 1901, but there is slight decrease in the number.

XI.—EMIGRATION.

Tables regarding emigration during the past decade have been compiled from Returns presented to Parliament by the Registrar-General.

According to these Returns the number of natives of Ireland who left the country during the ten years ended 31st March, 1911, with the intention of permanently settling elsewhere, amounted to 345,159—171,875 males and 173,284 females. During the previous decade the number was 430,993 (200,125 males and 230,868 females), and the total number for the sixty years, from 1st May, 1851 (when the collection of these Returns was commenced) to the 31st March, 1911, was 4,191,552—2,178,296 males and 2,013,256 females.

The following statement shows, by ages, the number of Irish emigrants during the ten calendar years 1901-1910 :—

Ages.	Number.	Per-centage.
Under 15 years,	30,880	8·9
15 years and under 25,	204,824	59·2
25 years and under 35,	83,372	24·1
35 years and under 45,	16,708	4·8
45 years and upwards,	10,171	3·0
Ages unspecified,	69	..

From the foregoing it will be observed that 83·3 per cent. of the emigrants were between the ages of 15 and 35 ; the number at this age-period amounting to 288,196 out of a total of 346,024 ; 30,880, or 8·9 per cent., were under 15 years of age ; 26,879, or 7·8 per cent., were persons 35 years and upwards ; and in 69 instances the ages of the emigrants could not be ascertained.

Table 144 shows the number of emigrants from each county in Ireland from the 1st of April, 1891, to the 31st of March, 1911. The number of emigrants during these twenty years was equal to an average annual rate of 8·6 per 1,000 of the mean population ; the rate for the Province of Leinster being 3·9 ; Munster, 13·2 ; Ulster, 6·1 ; and Connaught, 15·3 per 1,000.

In the following statement the counties are arranged according to the highest average annual rate of emigration per 1,000 of the population, during the twenty years ended 31st March, 1911 :—

County.	Province.	Average Annual Rate.	County.	Province.	Average Annual Rate.
1. Kerry,	Munster,	18·3	17. Carlow,	Leinster,	6·6
2. Mayo,	Connaught,	17·4	18. Monaghan,	Ulster,	6·2
3. Galway,	do.	16·1	19. Armagh,	do.	6·0
4. Cork,	Munster,	14·7	20. Londonderry,	do.	6·0
5. Clare,	do.	13·9	21. Queen's County,	Leinster,	5·9
6. Roscommon,	Connaught,	13·3	22. King's County,	do.	5·8
7. Sligo,	do.	13·3	23. Meath,	do.	5·6
8. Leitrim,	do.	12·9	24. Down,	Ulster,	5·6
9. Cavan,	Ulster,	10·7	25. Kilkenny,	Leinster,	5·1
10. Longford,	Leinster,	10·6	26. Westmeath,	do.	4·8
11. Tipperary,	Munster,	9·7	27. Antrim,	Ulster,	4·5
12. Waterford,	do.	9·5	28. Louth,	Leinster,	4·4
13. Limerick,	do.	8·6	29. Kildare,	do.	3·5
14. Tyrone,	Ulster,	7·5	30. Wexford,	do.	3·2
15. Donegal,	do.	7·3	31. Wicklow,	do.	2·8
16. Fermanagh,	do.	6·7	32. Dublin,	do.	2·3

It will be observed from the above that in all of the five counties constituting the Province of Connaught, and in three of the six counties in Munster, the rate exceeded 12 per 1,000; that the Counties of Kerry, Mayo, and Galway had the highest rates (18·3, 17·4, and 16·1, respectively), and the counties of Dublin, Wicklow, and Wexford, the lowest, 2·3, 2·8, and 3·2, respectively.

Beginning with the year 1876, Tables showing the destinations of the emigrants have been included in the Emigration Statistics of Ireland, and from the Returns for the ten years, 1901-10, we learn that of the 346,024 emigrants during that period 308,880, or 89·3 per cent., went to the colonies or foreign countries, and 37,144, or 10·7 per cent., to Great Britain. Of the former number 274,465, or 79·3 per cent. of the total emigrants from Ireland, went to the United States of America; 24,927, or 7·2 per cent., to Canada; 2,936, or 0·8 per cent., to South Africa; 4,802, or 1·4 per cent., to Australia; 1,214, or 0·4 per cent., to New Zealand; and 536, or 0·2 per cent., to other countries; and of those who left for Great Britain, 22,612, or 6·5 per cent. of all the emigrants, went to England or Wales, and 14,532, or 4·2 per cent., to Scotland.

Information regarding Prepaid Passages, as published in the Registrar-General's Reports on Emigration, was first obtained in the year 1904.

In the seven years ending with 1910, 226,432 natives of Ireland emigrated; these include 162,580 steerage passengers to the United States, of whom 57,575, or 35·4 per cent., had their passages paid for in America.

XII.—MISCELLANEOUS TABLES.

In Table 14 will be found, for each Province, the marriages, births, and deaths registered in Ireland during the ten years ended 31st march, 1911, as compiled from the Registrar-General's Reports. The number of marriages registered in Ireland during the decade was 227,628, equivalent to an average annual rate of 5·1 per 1,000, which, although showing an increase of 0·3 per 1,000 as compared with the preceding decennial period, is still much below the corresponding rates for the other portions of the United Kingdom. The births registered in the ten years numbered 1,023,211, being equal to an average annual rate of 23·1 per 1,000 of the population; and the deaths, 764,811, or 17·3 per 1,000 of the population.

A general summary of the results of our inquiry as regards area, population, number and classes of houses, families, occupations, religious professions, and education by provinces, counties, and cities, in 1911, is given in Table 145. These subjects have been already dealt with under their respective heads, and do not call for further reference. Following the precedent of the preceding Censuses, we have also given in this Table columns showing the number of heads of families and their children, together with the number of visitors and servants residing with them on the Census night.

In Table 146 we have shown, by provinces and counties, the area in statute acres, the number of county and borough Parliamentary divisions, county electoral divisions, municipal boroughs, urban districts, etc., county districts, district electoral divisions, parishes, and townlands in Ireland. The population is shown separately in our tables for each of these divisions, together with those mentioned in the following table, and we may add that the number of townlands quoted is exclusive of a large number of islands which are also shown separately in Table 7 of our County Books.

Table 147 shows the number of Registration and Poor Law Areas and Census Enumeration Districts in Ireland, together with the number of places for which the population is separately returned—the last amounting to over 70,000.

With regard to the constitution of the Superintendent Registrars' and Registrars' Districts, Poor Law Unions, and Dispensary Districts, an explanatory note is attached to this table.

XIII.—SPECIAL INQUIRY AS TO AGRICULTURAL HOLDINGS.

Following the course pursued in previous Censuses, a special inquiry regarding Agricultural Holdings was instituted in connection with the Census of 1911. These Holdings are classified according to Rateable Valuation, with the Population, Houses, Out-offices, and Farm-steadings in each class, also the number of Holdings according to size in statute acres.

The results will be found in Tables 148 to 164 of this Report, which give the particulars above referred to for the whole of Ireland, by provinces, counties, and poor law unions.

The enumerators' returns from which these Tables were derived were furnished on Forms M.1, M.2, and M.3. On Form M.1 the enumerator was required to furnish the particulars of the holdings in each townland of his enumeration district, M.2 containing a summary for each District Electoral Division of the particulars set forth in his M.1 returns, while the return on M.3 form was prepared with a view to provide for those cases where an occupier of land, resident within the enumerator's district, held two or more farms, or had a farm which extended into two or more adjoining townlands.

On the present occasion, instead of combining two or more farms belonging to one individual and reckoning the result as one holding, the holdings so circumstanced were accounted for as separate holdings.

The holdings are grouped into twelve classes, graduated from the class in which the rateable valuation does not exceed £4 to that in which the rateable value exceeds £300.

It may be observed that the class of holding above £4 but not exceeding £10 in value, as given in previous Census Reports, has been divided into two classes in the 1911 Tables, viz., holdings above £4 but not exceeding £7, and holdings over £7 but not exceeding £10 in value.

In 1911, according to the enumerators' returns, there were 535,675 Agricultural Holdings in Ireland, with a rateable valuation of £10,038,865, and covering an area of 18,779,810 statute acres, or more than nine-tenths of the total area of the country.

The number of families residing on these holdings was 522,433, representing 2,490,946 persons, the houses inhabited by them numbering 520,250.

In 1901 the number of families residing on agricultural holdings throughout the country was 543,840; the population, 2,664,204; and the number of inhabited houses, 541,192. Thus, there is a decrease in 1911 of 21,407 in the number of families, of 173,258 in the population, and of 20,942 in the number of inhabited houses, as compared with 1901.

Of the 535,675 Holdings, 161,096 (or 30·1 per cent.) did not exceed £4 in value; 86,530 (or 16·2 per cent.) were valued between £4 and £7; 61,180 (or 11·4 per cent.) between £7 and £10; 64,506 (or 12·0 per cent.) between £10 and £15; 40,295 (or 7·5 per cent.) between £15 and £20; 44,490 (or 8·3 per cent.) between £20 and £30; 23,425 (or 4·4 per cent.) between £30 and £40; 14,135 (or 2·6 per cent.) between £40 and £50; 25,946 (or 4·9 per cent.) between £50 and £100; 10,124 (or 1·9 per cent.) between £100 and £200; 2,171 (or 0·4 per cent.) between £200 and £300; and 1,777 (or 0·3 per cent. of all the holdings) exceeded £300 in rateable valuation.

As regards the distribution by provinces, Leinster has 114,127 holdings; Munster, 126,248; Ulster, 179,388; and Connaught, 115,912.

Of the Leinster holdings, 61·1 per cent. did not exceed £15 in value, 31·2 per cent. of these holdings not exceeding £4 in value. In the province of Munster the holdings not exceeding £15 in rateable valuation formed 62·8 per cent. of the total number of holdings in the province, and of these, 30·7 per cent. were holdings not exceeding £4 in value. In Ulster the proportion of holdings under £15 in value was 69·3 per cent., the holdings not exceeding £4 in value being represented by 23·5 per cent. The holdings not exceeding £15 in value for Connaught were equivalent to no less than 86·1 per cent. of the total number of holdings in that province, the per-centage of holdings not exceeding £4 in value being 38·4.

Table 155 shows the per-centage of holdings in each of twelve classes by counties as well as by provinces, while Table 160 gives for the same areas similar information regarding two groups of holdings, viz., those not exceeding £15 and those above £15 in value.

Turning to the distribution of holdings with reference to size, it would appear that of the 535,675 holdings in Ireland, 50,220 (or 9·4 per cent.) did not exceed one acre ; 53,793 (or 10·0 per cent.) were between 1 and 5 acres in extent ; 75,102 (or 14·0 per cent.) were between 5 and 10 acres ; 64,754 (or 12·1 per cent.) were between 10 and 15 acres ; 58,123 (or 10·9 per cent.) were between 15 and 20 acres ; 71,109 (or 13·3 per cent.) were between 20 and 30 acres ; 72,522 (or 13·5 per cent.) were between 30 and 50 acres ; 56,868 (or 10·6 per cent.) were between 50 and 100 acres ; 23,110 (or 4·3 per cent.) were between 100 and 200 acres ; 8,198 (or 1·5 per cent.) were between 200 and 500 acres, and 1,876 (or 0·4 per cent.) were above 500 acres in extent.

Tables 151 and 152 give, by counties and provinces, for 1911, the number and per-centage, respectively, of holdings in each class, according to size.

It will be seen from Table 160 that of the total population of Ireland in 1911, 56·7 per cent. resided on agricultural holdings, 33·4 per cent. being on holdings not exceeding £15 in rateable value and 23·3 per cent. on holdings exceeding £15.

In the province of Leinster the population of agricultural holdings not exceeding £15 in value formed 20·4 per cent. of the population of that province ; Munster, 32·8 per cent. ; Ulster, 29·1 per cent. ; and Connaught, 70·5 per cent. of its population.

As regards holdings exceeding £15 in value, 22·8 per cent. of the population of Leinster resided thereon ; the corresponding per-centage for Munster being 29·0 ; for Ulster, 23·3 ; and for Connaught, 14·8. Of the total number of persons in Ireland in 1911, 43·3 per cent. did not reside on agricultural holdings. In Leinster the proportion of such non-residents was 56·8 per cent. of the total population of the province ; for Munster the per-centage was 38·2 ; for Ulster, 47·6 ; and for Connaught, 14·7. Table 160 also shows this information by counties.

Regarding the house accommodation on these holdings, it is pleasing to record that the improvement in the better-class houses so pronounced in 1901 as compared with previous Census periods, is much more marked in 1911, as may be seen from the following statement :—

Houses by Classes.	Number of Houses.			Per-centage in each Class.
	1911.	1901.	1891.	1911.	1901.	1891.
1st Class, ...	31,442	28,456	27,399	6·1	5·3	4·8
2nd Class ...	333,861	299,130	274,056	64·2	55·3	47·7
3rd Class, ...	151,075	205,923	255,584	29·0	38·0	44·6
4th Class, ...	3,872	7,683	16,891	0·7	1·4	2·9
Total, ...	520,250	541,192	573,930	100·0	100·0	100·0

It will be observed from this statement that the fourth or lowest class of houses, commonly known as mud cabins, which fell from 16,891 in 1891 to 7,683 in 1901, further fell to 3,872 in 1911, or only 0·7 per cent. of the total number of inhabited houses on agricultural holdings.

XIV.—PARTICULARS AS TO MARRIAGES.

From the particulars as to duration of Marriage, and number of children born alive, and number living on Census night, required for the first time to be supplied in the Householder's form at the Census of 1911, a series of Tables has been compiled for the whole of Ireland; for the six County Boroughs; for the Dublin Registration Area (Dublin County Borough and the Urban Districts of Rathmines and Rathgar, Pembroke, Blackrock and Kingstown); and for the County Borough of Belfast.

Each series of Tables is in eleven sections, and deals with the following durations of married life: (A) Under one year; (B) one and under two years; (C) two and under three years; (D) three and under four years; (E) four and under five years; (F) five and under ten years; (G) ten and under fifteen years; (H) fifteen and under twenty years; (I) twenty and under twenty-five years; (J) twenty-five and under thirty years; and (K) thirty and under thirty-five years. A Summary (L) gives totals for all the durations dealt with.

The ages of husbands are arranged into nine groups, comprising all ages, and those of wives into seven groups, ending with the age-period of 45 and under 50 years at marriage. The marriages dealt with have reference only to cases in which the husband and wife were returned on the same family form on Census night, 2nd April, 1911.

For the whole of Ireland the number of families or married couples under consideration, as shown in the Summary Table (165 L), was 471,950; the number of their children born alive being 1,931,411, and the number of such who had died before the date of the Census, 313,693. The average number of children born alive was, therefore, 4·09 to the family, those who died being represented by 0·66.

Regarding marriages under one year in duration, as shown in Table 165 (A), the number returned for Ireland was 13,978, and the number of children born alive was 976, the latter necessarily having reference to only about a quarter of these marriages.

Table 165 (B) shows that the number of marriages of one and under two years' duration was 17,724, and that the children born alive was 8,868, or 0·50 to a family. The average number of children for wives under 20 years of age at marriage was 0·58; for those 20 and under 25 years, 0·55; for those 25 and under 30 years, 0·52; for those 30 and under 35 years, 0·46; for those 35 and under 40 years, 0·31; for those 40 and under 45 years, 0·15; and for wives 45 to 50 years of age at marriage, the average was 0·08.

In Table 165 (C) 19,187 families and 17,600 children born alive are shown for couples married between 2 and 3 years, at all the ages specified, giving the number of children to a family as 0·92, the average for wives whose ages at marriage were under 20 years being 1·07; those from 20 to 25 years of age were represented by 1·04; wives from 25 to 30 years of age by 1·00; those from 30 to 35 by 0·85; those from 35 to 40 years of age by 0·62; those from 40 to 45 years of age by 0·25; and wives 45 and under 50 years of age, by 0·20.

Referring to Table 165 (D), it will be seen that there were 19,556 families in which the period of married life at the date of the Census was 3 and under 4 years, the children born alive numbering 26,675. Thus the children to a family averaged 1·36. With reference to wives whose ages at marriage were under 20 years, it has been ascertained that the average number of children born alive was 1·53; that it was 1·55 for wives aged between 20 and 25 years; 1·46 for wives between 25 and 30 years; 1·28 for those between 30 and 35 years; 0·90 for those between 35 and 40 years; 0·36 for those between 40 and 45 years; and 0·17 for wives between 45 and 50 years of age at marriage.

The married couples in Ireland in 1911, the duration of whose marriages was 4 but under 5 years, particulars of which are given in Table 165 (E), numbered 18,790, and their children, 33,370, the average number of children to a married couple represented thereby being 1·78.

The average number of children born alive to wives whose ages at marriage were under 20 years, from 20 to 25 years, from 25 to 30, from 30 to 35, from 35 to 40, from 40 to 45, and from 45 to 50 years, amounted to 2·00, 1·96, 1·89, 1·68, 1·23, 0·53, and 0·23, respectively.

Table 165 (F) shows that the number of families dealt with, in which the duration of marriage was 5 and under 10 years, was 91,085, and the number of children, 255,500, the average number of the latter to every family being 2·81. As to the wives who were under 20 years of age at marriage it will be found that the average number of children was 3·20; in the case of wives from 20 to 25 years of age the average was 3·12; for wives from 25 to 30 years of age it was 3·01; for wives from 30 to 35 years, 2·58; for those from 35 to 40 years, 1·68; for those from 40 to 45 years, 0·79; and for wives from 45 to 50 years of age it was 0·40.

In the case of the marriages which had lasted at the date of the Census between 10 and 15 years, Table 165 (G) gives particulars regarding 81,253 married couples and 338,609 children, these latter averaging 4·17 to a family. The average for wives whose marriage ages were under 20 years was 4·94; wives whose ages were between 20 and 25 years were represented by 4·80; those between 25 and 30 by 4·35; those between 30 and 35 by 3·52; those between 35 and 40 by 2·13; those between 40 and 45 by 1·11; and the wives whose ages at marriage were between 45 and 50 years were represented by an average of 0·42 children.

Turning to Table 165 (H), dealing with marriages 15 and under 20 years in duration, it will be seen that the families and children regarding whom information is set forth numbered 67,378 and 350,240, respectively, the average number of children to a family being 5·20. In the case of wives appertaining to this duration, and married at any age under 20 years, the children averaged 6·47, the averages for the remaining age-periods being as follows:—20 and under 25 years, 6·09 children; 25 and under 30 years, 5·29; 30 and under 35 years, 3·95; 35 and under 40 years, 2·51; 40 and under 45 years 1·41; and 45 and under 50 years, 0·46.

Table 165 (I) gives particulars regarding 57,403 married couples and 337,156 children born alive, the duration of the marriage to which this table refers being 20 and under 25 years, resulting in an average of 5·87 for every family. There is an average of 7·56 children for women under 20 years of age at marriage; of 7·15 for those 20 and under 25 years; of 5·77 for those between 25 and 30 years; 4·38 for those between 30 and 35 years; 3·05 for those between 35 and 40 years; 1·81 for those between 40 and 45 years; and 0·60 for those whose age at marriage was between 45 and 50 years.

Referring to Table 165 (J) it will be observed that for the duration of marriage (25 and under 30 years) details as to 45,327 families and 290,932 children are given, from which figures it has been ascertained that the children averaged 6·42 to every family, the corresponding figures for wives at the ages at marriage as specified in the Table being as follows:—Under 20 years 8·33 children; 20 and under 25 years, 7·50; 25 and under 30 years, 6·28; 30 and under 35 years, 4·84; 35 and under 40 years, 3·80; 40 and under 45 years, 2·08; and 45 and under 50 years, 0·55.

The last duration in the series for which information is given is 30 and under 35 years. Table 165 (K) contains this information, and has reference to 40,269 families and 271,485 children who were returned as being born alive, which latter number is in the proportion of 6·74 to every family. In the families where the wives were under 20 years of age at marriage the average number of children was 8·68; from 20 to 25 years of age at marriage the average was 7·88 children; from 25 to 30 years of age it was 6·68; from 30 to 35 years it was 5·45; from 35 to 40 years the average was 3·84; from 40 to 45 years of age at marriage the average was 2·00 children; and from 45 to 50 years of age the average was 0·66.

As already stated, the remaining Tables (166-168) relating to marriages deal with the aggregate of the six County Boroughs of Ireland, the Dublin Registration Area, and Belfast County Borough, respectively.

In the following statement the general results for these areas are set forth; also the corresponding figures for the whole of Ireland:—

AREAS.	No. of Families dealt with.	No. of Children Born Alive.	No. of Children Living.	No. of Children who have Died.	Average No. to a Family.
					Children Born Alive.	Children Living.	Children who have Died.
Six County Boroughs,	105,618	405,619	311,763	93,856	3·84	2·95	0·89
Dublin Registration Area,	46,252	170,773	130,382	40,391	3·69	2·82	0·87
Belfast County Borough,	49,260	183,061	144,039	39,022	3·72	2·93	0·79
Whole of Ireland, ...	471,950	1,931,411	1,617,718	313,693	4·09	3·43	0·66

From this it will be seen that the average size of family for Ireland as a whole is higher, and that the number of deaths of children to a family is lower, than that for either the six County Boroughs, Dublin Registration Area, or Belfast County Borough. If a comparison be made between the six County Boroughs and the remainder of Ireland, as derived from the above statement, it will be found that the average number of children for the latter is 4·17 to a family; and the average number of such who died is 0·60 per family; the corresponding proportions for the six County Boroughs being 3·84 and 0·89, respectively.

CONCLUSION.

In our several County Books, Provincial Summaries, and in this Report, we have dealt with the Area, Houses (and Out-offices), Tenements of less than 5 Rooms, with the number of Occupants, Population, Valuation, Conjugal Condition, Ages, Occupation, Social Condition, Birthplaces, Religious Profession, Education, Schools, Agricultural Statistics, Agricultural Holdings in relation to Population, &c.; Emigration; the Blind, the Deaf and Dumb, the Lunatic and Idiotic; the Sick and Infirm; the Irish-speaking Population; Duration of Marriages and Size of Families, several of which heads are not included amongst the subjects for inquiry in the Census of the other portions of the United Kingdom.

In connection with many of these matters, it has been necessary for us to seek assistance from other Departments, who have most kindly and cordially given us every facility in their power. In a special manner we wish to thank the Commissioner of Valuation and the Officer in Charge of the Ordnance Survey Department for their co-operation with regard to Valuations and Boundaries, and the help afforded by the loan of their original Books. We desire also to specially thank the Inspector-General of the Royal Irish Constabulary, the Chief Commissioner of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, the Resident Commissioner of the Board of National Education, and the Secretary of the General Post Office, for the several facilities afforded by them.

We desire also to thank the District Inspectors of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and the Inspectors of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, who acted most efficiently as Superintendents of Enumeration. Our acknowledgments are also due to the men of both forces, who performed the duties of Enumerators as regards the general population; and to the Chief Resident Officers of Public Institutions, who, under the provisions of the Census Act, furnished the returns relating to the inmates of their respective establishments.

In conclusion, we desire to express our appreciation of the assistance given in the preparations for taking the Census, and at all stages of the work, by the Senior Superintendent, Mr. George A. Newnham, and, during the work, by Mr. James T. Dewar and Mr. Edmond Geary, Superintendents, and Messrs Michael G. Dowling, Patrick McGuinness, John W. Gentleman, Richard F. Russell, Assistant Superintendents; and by Mr. William Valentine, who had charge of the Accounts; as well as the several other officials, each of whom, in his own Department, showed zeal and efficiency in the progress and conclusion of the work the final report on which we now submit for your Excellency's approval.

We have the honour to remain,

Your Excellency's very faithful Servants,

WILLIAM J. THOMPSON,
Registrar-General,
EDWARD O'FARRELL,
DANIEL S. DOYLE,
Commissioners.

NOTE.—The Census of 1821 is the first that affords a means of comparison with those of subsequent decades.
The Navy and Military serving in Ireland are included in the Population Tables in 1861 and later, but not in previous Censuses.
There were 25,100 Military returned as serving in Ireland in 1911.

* See note on page 4.

NOTE TO TABLE 8.

NOTE.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described :—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, Its extent, as shown by the number of rooms ; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows, and 3rd, its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e., their actual state.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses principally built of mud or other perishable material, having only one room and window ; in the third a better description of house, varying from one to four rooms and windows ; in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having from five to nine rooms and windows, and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding.

The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz. :—

First Class accommodation, consisting of 1st class houses occupied by one family.

Second Class accommodation, consisting of 2nd class houses occupied by one family, or of 1st class houses occupied by two or three families.

Third Class accommodation, comprising 3rd class houses with one family each, or second class houses with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.

Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

* NOTE.—Some of these Divisions, &c., extend into more than one Administrative County.

(a) The University of Dublin, which returns 2 Members to Parliament, is technically a "Borough"; but being in that sense an abstraction of law, and without the incidents of boundary, area, or population, cannot be tabulated as a Borough for Census purposes.

(b) Including the City of Belfast. (c) Exclusive of the City of Belfast (part of).

TABLE 147.—Showing the AREA, the NUMBER of COUNTIES, SUPERINTENDENT REGISTRARS' and REGISTRARS' DISTRICTS, POOR LAW UNIONS, DISPENSARY DISTRICTS, and DISTRICT ELECTORAL DIVISIONS, and of CENSUS ENUMERATION DISTRICTS in IRELAND; together with the NUMBER of PLACES for which the POPULATION for 1911 is separately stated.

IRELAND, . . .	20,371,125	39	158	828	158	741	3,673	3,608	650	70,365

(a) The area given in this Table is exclusive of the extent under the larger rivers, lakes, and tideways. See note (a) at foot of Table 3.

NOTE.—The Superintendent Registrars' Districts in Ireland, formed under the 26th Vict., cap. 11, and the 26th and 27th Vict., cap. 90, are co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions of the same names.

The Registrars' Districts, formed under 26 Vict., cap. 11, and 26 & 27 Vict., Cap. 90, are Sub-divisions of the Unions or Superintendent Registrars' Districts, and, in general are co-extensive with the Dispensary Districts of the same names formed under the "Medical Charities Act." The latter districts consist of groups of District Electoral Divisions, each being under a Committee of Management subject to the control of the Local Government Board. In many of the larger Towns and in some other Districts there are two or more Medical Officers, a defined portion of the Dispensary District being assigned to each. In these cases (the Area, Population, &c., rendering such course desirable) each portion of a district in charge of a separate Medical Officer (with one or two exceptions) has, under the authority of the Registration Acts, been constituted a "Registrar's District." Hence, in the year 1911, although the number of "Dispensary Districts" was only 741, the number of "Registrars' Districts" was 828.

In each Registrar's District the Dispensary Medical Officer is ex-officio the Registrar of Births, Deaths, and Roman Catholic Marriages (under the 26 Vict., cap. 11), and 26th and 27th Vict., cap 90); and in the event of his refusing, the appointment is vested in the Board of Guardians. In each Superintendent Registrar's District there is a Superintendent Registrar (the Clerk of the Union), through whom quarterly returns of all the Births, Deaths, and Roman Catholic Marriages in each District are transmitted to the General Register Office. Returns of Protestant Marriages are transmitted through Registrars appointed by the Lord Lieutenant, under the 7 & 8 Vict., cap. 81. The latter officers have power to celebrate and register marriages in the local Register Office without any religious ceremony. Their Districts also are conterminate with the Poor Law Unions, except in the case of Dublin where the Unions of Dublin North and South form one Marriage Registrar's District.

NOTE.—The plan of classification in the above Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described :—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, Its extent, as shown by the number of rooms ; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows ; and 3rd, its solidity or durability, as shown by the materials of its walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e., their actual state.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses principally built of mud or other perishable material, having only one room and window ; in the third, a better description of house, varying from one to four rooms and windows ; in the second, what might be considered a good farm-house, having from five to nine rooms and windows ; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding.

of each CLASS on each of TWELVE CLASSES of AGRICULTURAL HOLDINGS in 1911.

APPENDIX TO GENERAL REPORT.

COPY OF CENSUS ACT AND OF THE INSTRUCTIONS, FORMS, &c., USED IN TAKING THE CENSUS OF IRELAND FOR THE YEAR 1911.

CENSUS (IRELAND) ACT, 1910.—10 EDWARD 7 & 1 GEORGE 5, CHAPTER 11.

An Act for taking the Census for Ireland in the year nineteen hundred and eleven.
[26th July, 1910.]

A.D. 1910.

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Census to be taken in 1911.

1. A census for Ireland shall be taken in the year nineteen hundred and eleven in the manner hereinafter directed, and the census day shall be Sunday the second day of April in that year.

Enumerators and their duties.

2.—(1.) Such officers and men of the police force of Dublin metropolis and of the Royal Irish Constabulary as the Lord Lieutenant may direct, together with such other persons as the Lord Lieutenant may appoint to assist therein, shall act as and be enumerators for the purposes of this Act.

(2.) Every enumerator shall, upon the Monday following the census day, and such one or more next consecutive days as the Lord Lieutenant may fix, visit every house within the district assigned to him between the hours of half-past eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon, and take an account in writing, according to such instructions as may be given to him by the Chief or Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant, of the number of persons who abode therein on the night of the census day, and of the sex, age, religious profession, birthplace, and occupation of all such persons; and, in the case of any person who so abode being married, of the duration of marriage and the number of children born of the marriage and the number of such children living.

(3.) Every enumerator shall take an account of the number of inhabited houses and of uninhabited houses and of houses then building within his district and of the number of rooms occupied by any occupier who is in occupation of less than five rooms; and shall also furnish such particulars as may be directed as to the counties, boroughs, towns, districts, and other areas for electoral or administrative purposes in which the houses are situate.

(4.) The enumerators shall also take an account of all such further particulars as they may be directed to inquire into by such instructions as are authorised to be issued under this Act.

(5.) Every enumerator may ask all such questions of all persons within his district respecting themselves or the persons constituting their respective families, and respecting such further particulars, as may be necessary for the purpose of taking the said accounts.

Enumeration in public and charitable institutions.

3. The governor, master, or chief resident officer of every prison, workhouse, barrack, hospital, or lunatic asylum, and of every public or charitable institution which may be determined upon by the Lord Lieutenant shall act as and be the enumerator of the inmates thereof, and shall conform to such instructions as may be sent to him by the authority of the Lord Lieutenant for obtaining the returns required by this Act, so far as may be practicable, with respect to such inmates, but the initial letters only of the Christian names and surnames of such inmates shall be stated in any such return.

Provision as to houseless persons.

4. The Chief Secretary shall obtain returns of the particulars required by this Act with respect to all houseless persons, and all persons who during the night of the census day were travelling or on shipboard or for any other reason were not abiding on that night in any house of which account is to be taken by the enumerators, and shall include such returns in the abstract to be laid before Parliament.

Forms and instructions.

5.—(1). The Chief or Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant shall prepare and issue such forms and instructions as he may think necessary for the taking of the census, and the census shall be taken by means of and in the manner prescribed by those forms and instructions, and no question shall be put for the purpose of obtaining information other than the information required by those forms and instructions.

(2.) Subject to such modifications as are required by or in pursuance of this Act, the forms and instructions issued under this section shall be to the like effect and contain the like matters and particulars only as the forms and instructions issued under the Census (Ireland) Act, 1900. 63 & 64 Vict., c. 6.

(3). The expenses incurred with the approval of the Treasury for the purposes of the Census shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

Certificates of accounts and abstract of returns.

6.—(1.) Every enumerator shall sign and certify the account taken by him, and make a statutory declaration, to the effect that the said account has been truly and faithfully taken by him, and that, to the best of his knowledge, the same is correct, so far as may be known, and shall deliver the same to such officer of the said police force, or of the Royal Irish Constabulary, or other person, as may be appointed by the Lord Lieutenant to receive the same from him.

(2.) The accounts shall be examined, corrected, certified, and transmitted in such manner and within such time as the Lord Lieutenant may direct, and the same shall be digested and reduced into order, under the direction of the Chief or Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant, by the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths and Marriages in Ireland, and by such other persons as the Lord Lieutenant may appoint for that purpose.

(3.) An abstract of the accounts taken under this Act shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament within twelve months after the census day, if Parliament be then sitting, or, if Parliament be not then sitting, within the first fourteen days of the session then next ensuing.

Penalties.

7.—(1.) If any enumerator makes wilful default in the performance of any of his duties under this Act, he shall for each offence be liable on conviction under the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(2.) If any person refuses to answer or wilfully gives a false answer to any question necessary for obtaining the information required to be obtained under this Act, he shall for each offence be liable on conviction under the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds: Provided that no person shall be subject to any such penalty for refusing to state his religious profession.

52 & 53 Vict. c. 52.

(3.) If any person employed in taking the census communicates without lawful authority any information acquired in the course of his employment, he shall be guilty of a breach of official trust within the meaning of the Official Secrets Act, 1889, and that Act shall apply accordingly.

Certificate of population.

8.—A certificate from the General Register Office, purporting to be signed by the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths and Marriages in Ireland, shall be admitted in any court of law as evidence of the population, at the census taken under this Act, of any county, borough, town, district or other area to which it refers, and the said Registrar-General shall be bound, if possible, to deliver such certificate to any person on payment of a fee of one shilling.

Short title.

9. This Act may be cited as the Census (Ireland) Act, 1910.

CENSUS OF IRELAND 1911.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SUPERINTENDENTS OF ENUMERATION.

Census Office, Charlemont House,
Dublin,
13*th January*, 1911.

1. Under the provisions of the 10th Edw. 7 and 1st Geo. 5, cap. 11—a copy of which the Superintendent of Enumeration has already received, with "Circular No. 3" of the 2nd January—the Royal Irish Constabulary and the Dublin Metropolitan Police are to act as the Enumerators for the Census of 1911.

2. As stated in "Circular No. 3," the CENSUS is to be taken by Townlands, District Electoral Divisions, Poor Law Unions, Parishes, Baronies, Parliamentary Divisions, and Counties, and also by Streets, Towns, or Villages, Urban Districts, Cities, and Parliamentary Boroughs.

3. Each Constabulary district is a CENSUS District, under the superintendence of the District-Inspector, or, in his absence, of the Head-Constable in charge. In the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, Officers have been appointed to act as Superintendents of Enumeration for the respective Police Divisions.

4. The Superintendent will be supplied with a complete set of Ordnance Survey Maps of his District, referred to in the Registrar-General's communication of the 2nd November last.

I. ENUMERATION DISTRICTS.

5. The Superintendent having, in accordance with "Circular No. 3," selected his staff of Enumerators, as given on "Form P 1," and having made a return on "Form P 2" of the townlands, &c., allotted to each Enumerator, and having also furnished on "Form Q" an estimate from which the probable number of Forms likely to be required for the purpose of taking the Census in his district may be ascertained, shall, as directed in Circular No. 3, carefully preserve, without opening them for the present, any parcels marked "Private," which may be forwarded to him.

6. The Superintendent is to open these parcels on the date fixed in "Invoice No. 3" (11th March), and ascertain whether the Forms, &c., mentioned therein have reached him; and if not, he is at once to report the deficiencies to the Census Office. He shall then distribute the Forms, &c., to the Enumerators, and, if the supply at his disposal is insufficient, he is at once to apply for an additional number on a "Requisition for Forms" (Form U), furnished for the purpose.

7. Should any change of Enumerators or alteration in the distribution of the townlands or streets, &c., become necessary before the commencement of the work of enumeration, or during its progress, a Report thereon is to be forwarded to the Census Office.

8. If the Superintendent considers that he has not at his command a sufficient force of Enumerators for his District, he is at once to communicate with his superior officer, and with the Secretary to the Census Commissioners on the subject.

II. DUTIES OF ENUMERATORS.

9. The duties of the Enumerators are defined in the "Instructions to Enumerators," copies of which are sent herewith. The Superintendent is to see that these Instructions are properly understood and carefully attended to by the Enumerators, special attention being drawn to paragraphs 3, 4, and 10. Paragraph 3 gives the hours laid down for visiting in the Census Act—viz., "between the hours of half-past eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon." Paragraph 4 directs that "The Enumerator shall only ask such questions as may be absolutely necessary to obtain the information required to answer the queries on the papers;" that "direct answers shall be accepted, and if these be clear and explicit no cross-examination shall take place." Paragraph 10 deals with "Houseless Persons," who should be enumerated as stated therein.

III.—FINANCE.

[Supplemental Instructions regarding Finance will be issued.]

IV.—FORWARDING THE RETURNS TO THE CENSUS OFFICE.

10. The Superintendent is to see that the Enumerator's Summaries (Form O 1) are furnished to him with the least possible delay, and he is to send each by post, to the Census Office, immediately on its receipt.

11. As soon as the remaining Returns of an Enumerator's District (except those on Forms "L 1," "L 2," and "L 3," also "L 4," if any, regarding which further instructions will be issued) have been received and examined by the Superintendent (who shall also see that their correctness has been duly declared), they are to be carefully packed in brown paper, well secured with strong cord, and at once transmitted to the Census Office, with one of the labels supplied for the purpose pasted on each parcel and accompanied by a "Superintendent's Invoice of Returns" (Form S)—a duplicate of which is to be forwarded by post to the Census Office.

12. The Returns for Each Enumerator's District (except the Forms "O 1" and "L 1," "L 2," "L 3," and "L 4") should be transmitted to the Census Office in a Separate Packet by Letter Post. These packets should be of a size convenient for handling and not more than three inches in depth. If the Returns for any one Enumerator's District would exceed moderate dimensions and weight, they must be divided and sent in two or more packages. The Postage is to be left unpaid.

13. Census Forms of every description, which have not been used, are to be returned to the Census Office at the close of the Enumeration, as directed on the "Superintendent's Invoice of Unused Forms" (Form T), which Invoice is to be sent in a separate envelope.

V.—INCORRECT RETURNS—PROSECUTIONS.

14. Should any instance occur in which, to an Enumerator's knowledge, the Forms have been incorrectly filled in any particular whatever, he is, without delay, to make a detailed report of the circumstances to his Superintendent, who is to forward it to the Census Office, stating whether he considers, under the circumstances, a prosecution would be advisable; but in no case is a prosecution to be undertaken under the provisions of the Census Act, 10 Edw. 7 and 1 Geo. 5, cap. 11, without express authority from the Census Commissioners.

VI.—PENALTY FOR WILFUL DEFAULT OR NEGLECT.

15. The Superintendent's attention is directed to the following extracts from the Census Act:—

> "7.—(1.) If any enumerator makes wilful default in the performance of any of his duties under this Act, he shall, for each offence, be liable on conviction under the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds.
>
> (3.) "If any person employed in taking the Census communicates without lawful authority any information acquired in the course of his employment, he shall be guilty of a breach of official trust within the meaning of the Official Secrets Act, 1889, and that Act shall apply accordingly."

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS TO SUPERINTENDENTS OF ENUMERATION.

(FINANCE AND STATIONERY.)

Census Office, Charlemont House, Dublin,
27*th January*, 1911.

I.—EXPENSES OF ROYAL IRISH CONSTABULARY ACTING AS CENSUS SUPERINTENDENTS AND ENUMERATORS TO BE ADVANCED FROM CONSTABULARY FUNDS AND CHARGED IN DISTRICT INSPECTORS' ACCOUNTS TO THE ADVANCE ACCOUNT WITH THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S OFFICE, IRELAND.

The expenses, save for stationery, of the Superintendents and Enumerators are to be advanced, in the first instance, by the several District Inspectors of Constabulary and charged to the Advance Account as above, in like manner as were, until the establishment of the Board of Agriculture and Technical Instruction (Ireland), the expenses of Enumerators of Agricultural Statistics. The accounts and vouchers should be forwarded to the R. I. Constabulary Office, with the Monthly Accounts in which the charges appear, and, when audited there, will be sent to the Census Commissioners for repayment to the R. I. Constabulary Vote of the total amount advanced.

II.—ESTIMATES OF PROBABLE EXPENSES NOT REQUIRED.

Estimates of probable expenditure on this duty will not be required, but County and District Inspectors must exercise the strictest supervision over the expenses of the Enumerators so as to insure that the work shall be performed both with expedition and with due regard to economy. The accounts will be rigorously examined at the R. I. Constabulary Office, and unauthorised, or excessive, charges disallowed.

III.—ENUMERATORS TO RECEIVE SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCES AND MARCHING MONEY (IF CLAIMS ARISE) ACCORDING TO CONSTABULARY REGULATIONS.

The Enumerators will receive, for actual and necessary absence from station, the Subsistence Allowances set forth in R.I.C. Finance Code Sec. 235 (d and e), but subject to the limitations in MS. Circular of 30th May, 1901. They will also be entitled to Marching Money, should such become payable, under the conditions laid down in Finance Code Secs. 276 and 277. Absence for the night should be shown separately in Form No. 1 in the column provided for the purpose.

IV.—Car-hire, etc., allowable where necessary.

Car-hire and railway fare will be granted when allowed by Constabulary Regulations; as also horse and boat hire where unavoidable, but the services of the Coast Guard Boats should be procured if possible. All such payments should be vouched on Form No. 2.

V.—Expenses of Postage, Carriage of Parcels, and Interpreters.

The Superintendents and Enumerators will be allowed the expenses of postage and carriage of parcels where necessarily incurred, but the postage on all communications addressed to the Census Office should be left unpaid. (See paragraph 12 on page 5 of the Instructions to Superintendents of Enumerators.) When interpreters are indispensable, an allowance of 1s. 6d. per day will be made for them, but in those districts where the Irish language prevails, the Superintendents are, if possible, to appoint Enumerators acquainted with that language, so as to avoid, as far as practicable, the necessity for employing interpreters. Any expense incurred by a Superintendent for foregoing shall appear on the Pay List (Form of Account, No. 1) of the Headquarter Station of the District, and his receipt be taken thereon for same. Receipts for the expenses mentioned in this paragraph are in all cases (save in that of Superintendents) to be taken on the Enumerator's Voucher (Form of Account No. 2), and these receipts are, subsequently, to be attached to the Enumerator's Pay Sheet (Form of Account No. 1) for the subdistrict in which the expenses were incurred. Vouchers to be placed in front of Form No. 1.

VI.—Prompt Settlement of Claims.

All claims for car-hire, rail fare, interpreter's pay, &c., should be promptly made on the termination of the Census duty, so that, as far as possible, the entire expense of the Census can be charged in the same month's accounts.

VII.—Accounts to be Approved by County Inspectors.

The accounts and vouchers for this duty are to be examined and approved by County Inspectors, like those chargeable to Advance Accounts with other public departments. Each County Inspector will prepare, on Form No. 4, a County Abstract of the charges in his county, which Abstract is to be placed in front of the District Accounts, which are then to be sent forward to the R.I.C. Office, with the Monthly Accounts in same manner, mutatis mutandis, as the expenses of Enumerators of Agricultural Statistics, and showing in column 2 the number of Enumerators employed in each district.

VIII.—$\overset{\text{Forms H}}{\text{Census}}$ to be prepared showing all Absences on this Duty.

As a means of check, and in support of the charges for Subsistence Allowances in Form No. 1, a separate form $\overset{\text{H}}{\text{Census}}$ is to be prepared by each Enumerator, showing in detail all absences on Enumeration Duty, with the Subsistence Allowance and Marching Money, if any, opposite in each case where such have become due under Constabulary regulations. In addition to the information provided for in this Form H, the number of houses visited on each occasion of absence should be stated in column No. 6. This form should be certified by the Sergeant in charge, and need not be prepared, or furnished, in duplicate. Before entering the Enumerator's claim in the District Abstract (Form No. 3), which he certifies, the District Inspector should examine the Form $\overset{\text{H}}{\text{Census}}$ to see that on each occasion of absence for 8 hours, or over, the exercise of due diligence in the performance of the duty is evidenced by the distance marched and the number of houses visited. Where such does not appear, the District Inspector should query the items, and annex his queries, with the replies of the Enumerators, in front of the Forms $\overset{\text{H}}{\text{Census}}$ to which they refer, together with his own reasons for the decision he has arrived at on the point in question. The Forms $\overset{\text{H}}{\text{Census}}$ are not to be annexed to the Census Office Forms 1, 2, 3, and 4, but submitted to the R.I.C. Office separately with these accounts, filed in similar order.

IX.—Stationery for Superintendents and Enumerators.

The following Stationery will be supplied by the Census Commissioners for the use of the Superintendents and Enumerators:—

For each Superintendent.

1 Box Pens.
1 Quire Plain Foolscap.
6 Sheets Blotting Paper.
1 Pencil.
5 Quires Strong Brown Wrapping Paper.
1 Ball Twine (to tie up Returns).
3 Balls Strong Twine (to make up parcels).
1 Stick Sealing Wax (for sealing parcels).

For each Enumerator.

½ Quire Ruled Foolscap.
6 Sheets Blotting Paper.
1 Box Pens.
3 Pencils.
1 Excise Ink Bottle.

All applications for additional forms (finance or otherwise), portfolios, &c., should be made through the Superintendent of Enumeration for the District, direct to the Census Commissioners, Charlemont House, Dublin.

An allowance of 4d. will be made to the Head Constable, or Sergeant, in charge of each R.I.C. Station, to supply ink for the Enumerators.

All the Ink Bottles in good order at the termination of the duty should be collected, without expense to the public, at each District Headquarters, carefully packed, and forwarded by the District Inspector, marked "Glass with care," to the Secretary, Census Commissioners, Charlemont House, Dublin. Carriage should not be prepaid. An advice of the despatch of the parcel stating the number of bottles therein, should be forwarded by the District Inspector to the Census Office.

X.—Questions regarding the rendering, &c., of Accounts of Superintendents and Enumerators to be addressed, in first instance, to the Inspector-General, R.I.C.

All questions regarding the expenses of Superintendents and Enumerators, the rendering of accounts, &c., should be addressed, in first instance, to the Inspector-General, R.I.C., who will, if necessary, refer the points to the Census Commissioners for decision.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ENUMERATORS.

Census Office, Charlemont House,
Dublin, 13*th January*, 1911.

1. The Enumerator, when supplied by his Superintendent with the Census Forms, is to make himself fully acquainted with the nature of the various questions asked, and to carefully examine the Pattern Tables and the Instructions on the Forms, especially those on "Form A," the Family Return. Upon receiving the lists of townlands or streets in his Enumeration District, he is to proceed to ascertain its extent and boundaries, and should he have any difficulty as to boundaries, he is to refer to the Ordnance Maps in his Superintendent's office.

2. On Monday, the 20th of March, or sooner if authorised by his Superintendent, the Enumerator is to commence visiting the houses in his District, and before the night of Saturday, the 1st of April, leave a "FORM A" for every Distinct Family in each house, and at the same time proceed to fill "FORM B 1" and "FORM B 2," as described at page 6 of these Instructions. Where a family (including visitors and servants) consists of more than fifteen persons, the Enumerator is to leave two or more copies of "FORM A," as the case may require. The Enumerator will observe that the entries in the spaces for the "No.——" in the endorsement of "FORM A" and in the upper right-hand corner of that Form are to correspond with the number of the house in the first column of "FORM B 1."

3. The Enumerator will carefully observe that according to the Census Act visits to the houses in his District on Census business must be made "between the hours of half-past eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon."

4. The Enumerator shall only ask such questions as may be absolutely necessary to obtain the information required to answer the queries on the papers. Direct answers shall be accepted, and if these be clear and explicit no cross-examination shall take place.

5. Before leaving the "A" Forms, the Enumerator is to write on the back of each the name of the County, Poor Law Union, District Electoral Division, Barony, Parish, Townland, Town, Street, &c., for which spaces have been left.

FORM A.—THE FAMILY RETURN.

6. Each of the following classes is to be regarded as a Distinct Family :—

(a) A man and his wife—or a man and his wife and children living together, and having no other person residing with them—or a family such as either of the foregoing, with their relatives, servants, boarders, and visitors residing with them.

(b.) All persons occupying the same house in common, and boarding at the same table, and their servants.

(c.) A person living alone, whether occupying the whole or a part of a house, with servants, if any.

(d.) Two or more lodgers boarding together distinct from the family, and their servants, if any.

7. On Monday, the 3rd of April, the Enumerator is again to commence visiting the houses in his Enumeration District, and is to continue at this branch of his duty from day to day until he shall have collected all the "A" Forms from every family within his district. On this occasion he is to see that each column in the Form has been filled, and if it has not, he is then to have the required information inserted. In case the column for "Religious Profession" has not been filled, and the Head of the Family declines to fill it, the Enumerator is to state this fact by writing in the column "Information refused." Should the vague term "Protestant" have been entered, in any instance, in the column for "Religious Profession," the Enumerator is to inquire courteously the precise "Name of the particular Church, Denomination, or Body," to which the person belongs, and ask that it may be inserted as suggested in the remarks at the head of the column; should there, however, be any disinclination to afford this information, he shall not press inquiry into the matter, but note on the Form that the giving of further information was declined. When all the proper entries have been made in the return, it should be signed by the Head of the Family, or by some person authorised in his or her behalf. The Enumerator is then to attach his signature to the Return.

8. In case of a head of a family who cannot write, the Enumerator is to assist such person to fill the Form, and is then to require him or her to attach a mark thus (×), which he is to witness, having first read all the particulars entered on the Form, for the approval of the head of the family.

9. The Enumerator is to take care that no person or family within his District be omitted from the Returns, and in order further to guard against such omission he is to have with him a supply of blank copies of "Form A." Should any person have gone away from a house before full particulars were obtained, the sex and probable age of such should be learned, and stated as of a "Person unknown."

10. In the case of "houseless persons" who are not enumerated elsewhere, the Enumerator will have a "Form A" filled for each family or person so circumstanced—column 2 of "Form N" being filled "Houseless."

11. Persons travelling, or out all night, are to be enumerated at the house or hotel at which they arrive on Monday, the 3rd of April; and as Clubs, Hotels, Inns, Lodging and Boarding-houses, &c., change their inmates frequently, the Enumerator is to visit these establishments as soon as possible after 8.30 a.m. on the 3rd of April. The owner, master, or steward of any such establishment, with his family and servants, if any, is to be returned on a separate "Form A" as a distinct family. Each temporary resident, or traveller, who is accompanied by any member of his family, or by a servant, is, with such persons, to be regarded as a Distinct Family, and entered on a separate "Form A."

12. Special Forms (described further on) for enumerating persons in Barracks, Workhouses, Hospitals, Lunatic Asylums, Prisons, &c., are to be delivered to the Barrack-Masters, Masters, Governors, or Keepers of such Institutions, respectively—they being appointed by the Census Act, Enumerators of the inmates of all such buildings or institutions; but the Officers of Public Institutions and their families, together with the porters and nurses (unless when paupers in workhouses) are to be enumerated on "Form A." The Military, also Members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and Dublin Metropolitan Police Force, if residing in barracks, are to be enumerated on "Form H," the Barrack Return;—but their respective families are to be enumerated on "Form A."

13. The occupants of ships, vessels, or boats, in seaports, and persons engaged in river, lake, or canal navigation, are to be enumerated according to the same rule as those residing in houses. The Enumerators for localities in which seamen or boatmen are to be found are to collect the Returns of these classes early on the 3rd of April, lest their vessels might sail before such Returns are obtained. For further instructions, see " Form B 3, Shipping Return," at page 8.

14. In Towns having Municipal Wards, the name of the Ward, as well as that of the Street in which each family resides, is to be entered on " Form A." ; the " Ward " name is to be entered in the space for " Barony," the pen being drawn through the latter word, and the word " Ward " substituted. In all cases where a village contains twenty or more houses, the Enumeration Returns for it are to be made up into a separate file or files, as the case may require. (See paragraph 54, page 15.) When a village does not contain twenty houses it is not to be noticed separately as a Town, but the houses, &c., are to be treated as others dispersed over a townland.

15. In case of a Townland or Island, which is uninhabited, or which has no house or out-office thereon, at the date of the Census, an Enumerator's Abstract, " Form N," for it is to be marked " Nil," and forwarded with the returns for the District.

Form B 1 and Form B 2—House and Building Returns.

16. Before or on the 20th of March, the Enumerator is to commence filling " Form B 1 " and " Form B 2," which are to contain the required particulars relating to each house and out-office in each townland, street, &c., in his Enumeration District. (See paragraphs 14 and 54.) He will be most careful to give strict attention to the instructions at the head of each column, especially those relating to inhabited houses. In towns where dwelling-houses are numbered, the houses in each street are to be entered on " Form B 1," in the same order, but in small towns, villages, and townlands, where the houses are not numbered, they are to be entered according to the order in which they are visited by the Enumerator.

17. Every dwelling which has a distinct outer door shall be considered as One House, although it may be occupied by several families living in separate apartments, or what are known as tenements, under the same roof. In counting the number of rooms in a house, each apartment is to be reckoned as one room, the particulars being obtained either by observation, or through the information afforded by the occupants ; thus, a cabin, within which there is no partition wall, is to be regarded as a house with one room ; if one end of a cabin is partitioned off, and a means of communication maintained by an inner doorway, it is to be considered as a house having two rooms ; and if a dwelling is divided by partitions into three portions, it is to be considered as a house having three rooms ; and so on. If one room is occupied by more than one family, the names of the heads of families so occupying it should be bracketted together in column 13, thus :—$\left.\begin{array}{l}\text{John Jones}\\ \text{Peter Murray}\end{array}\right\}$ and the figure 1 entered in col. 14, opposite the middle of the bracket.

18. Wherever a school is held in any part of a house, the exact name of the school is to be given in column 3 of " Form B 1."

19. Uninhabited houses and houses in progress of building at the time of the enumeration are also to be returned on " Form B 1."

20. Out-offices, viz. :—Barns, stables, coach-houses, cowhouses, &c., are to be returned on " Form B 2 " ; but if an individual or a family live in part of an out-office, that portion is to be considered as an inhabited house, and entered as such on " From B 1," according to the number of rooms occupied by such individual or family, and the remainder entered on " Form B 2 " in the proper column.

21. On the occasion of his second visit, when collecting " Form A," the Enumerator will be able to verify the particulars in " Form B 1 " and " Form B 2," and to correct any errors which, on examination, he may find to exist. He shall also, when requisite, fill, or have filled, " Form C " for the sick. (See par. 29.)

22. To assist the Enumerator in filling " Form B 1," the Pattern Table on the opposite page has been prepared.

Form B 3—Shipping Return.

23. The instructions with respect to " Form A " and " Form C " are applicable to the enumeration of the crews and passengers of ships and boats of every kind. " Form B 3, Shipping Return," is analogous to " Form B 1," for Houses and Buildings."

24. Previous to the night of Sunday, the 2nd of April, the Enumerator is to leave one or more copies of " Form A " with the person in charge of each vessel. Upon these forms are to be entered collectively the names, &c., of the Captain, Crew, and Passengers ; but when the captain, master, or any person on board is accompanied by his wife or family, he and his wife or family are to be enumerated on a separate " Form A." When leaving these Forms, the Enumerator is to make the necessary entries respecting the vessel and its occupants in " Form B 3, Shipping Return," which entries he can verify and complete when subsequently collecting the " A " Forms.

25. When leaving " Form A," the Enumerator is to enter the Registered Number of the vessel upon the back of the Form ; but where vessels or boats have no such number, he is to enumerate them consecutively, making the endorsement on " Form A " correspond with the number for the vessel in the first column of " Form B 3, Shipping Return."

26. On Monday, the 27th March, the Enumerator is to commence to fill " Form B 3, Shipping Return " ; he is to cause " Form A " to be filled for all those vessels going to sea on the 1st or 2nd of April which would not in the ordinary course reach their destination before the morning of the 3rd of April ; but where a vessel remains in port up to the morning of the 3rd of April, only those persons who slept on board on the previous night, and those not enumerated elsewhere who arrive on the morning of the 3rd are to be entered upon the " A " Form for it, as other persons belonging to the ship will have been enumerated on shore. Vessels seeking temporary shelter from stress of weather in any harbour or roadstead are to be enumerated if they happen to be there on the night of the 2nd of April. The captains or stewards of mail and packet boats plying daily or weekly between any Irish port and other ports in the United Kingdom or foreign countries, are to be supplied with a sufficient number of copies of "Form A," on which to enumerate the passengers (not enumerated elsewhere), who may arrive during the night of the 2nd of April or on the morning of the 3rd of April. The crews are to be enumerated immediately after their arrival in port.

27. The Enumerator is to be careful not to enter British Colonists as "Foreigners" on "Form B 3."

28. All ships, coasting vessels, and fishing or other boats, which arrive in port on the 3rd of April or during any part of the following week, are to be enumerated in the same manner as vessels in port on the night of the 2nd of April; provided such ships or boats shall not have been previously enumerated at any other port of Great Britain or Ireland; to ascertain which special inquiry is to be made.

Form C—Return of the Sick at their Own Homes.

29. When collecting "Form A," the Enumerator is to inquire as to all persons labouring under sickness; and in each house or family where any individual was ill on the 2nd of April he is to present "Form C," with a respectful request to have it filled by the Head of the Family, if possible, at the moment. Should he not succeed in getting this Form filled at the time of his visit, he is to leave it, and—having made a mark thus (×) in the 17th Column of "Form B 1," in order to guide him in collecting "Form C" afterwards—is to call for it again as soon as convenient. When the inmates cannot fill up "Form C," he is to do so for them. It is to be distinctly understood that sick persons are also to be enumerated on "Form A," &c.

Form D—Return of Lunatics and Idiots not in Institutions.

30. It is expected that the local knowledge of the Enumerators with regard to Lunatics and Idiots, not in Institutions, will enable them to fill this Form with accuracy, especially as regards mendicants and vagrants who are thus afflicted. Where Idiots or Lunatics are in the custody of their friends, the inquiries necessary to fill this Form are to be made with the greatest delicacy. All these persons will, of course, have been enumerated upon "Form A," &c., at their respective places of abode on the night of Sunday, the 2nd of April.

Form E.—Workhouse Return.

31. The Enumerator is to leave the requisite number of these Forms at each Workhouse and Auxiliary Workhouse within his district, before the 2nd of April, and at the same time to call the attention of the Masters of these Institutions to the sections of the Act of Parliament printed at Foot of the Form. See also paragraph 12 on page 5, and Instructions as to "Form I," on page 10, paragraph 36.

Form F.—Hospital Return.

32. The required supply of these Forms is to be left at all such Public and Charitable Institutions as General and Fever Hospitals, Infirmaries, Lying-in, and other special Hospitals, and wherever persons are admitted for indoor treatment, except in the case of Workhouse Hospitals, the inmates of which are to be enumerated on "Form E" only. The resident officers of all such Institutions, together with resident pupils, nurses, and servants, are to be returned on "Form A," by the resident head of the establishment. Each officer whose wife or family resides with him, shall, with his wife or family, be returned on a separate "Form A." —See also Instructions as to "Form I."

33. The Enumerator when leaving these Forms (F) is to inform the Chief Resident Officer that the column "How long affected" refers only to the "Disease" for which the patient is under treatment, and not to the time the "Deaf and Dumb," the "Dumb only" or the "Blind" have been afflicted with these infirmities.

Form G.—College and Boarding-School Return.

34. Universities, Colleges, Seminaries, Boarding-Schools, Institutions for the Deaf and Dumb, the Blind; Model, Industrial, and Reformatory Schools, and all educational establishments in which pupils reside—are to be supplied with "Form G," and also, when necessary, with "Form C." The principals or proprietors of such establishments are, with their families, to be returned on "Form A."

Form H.—Barrack Return.

35. This Form is intended for barracks, or other buildings where military, police, or constabulary may be stationed at the time. Where Hospitals exist within the precincts of these establishments, the Barrack-Master is to be supplied with the necessary number of copies of "Form F"; but soldiers in such hospitals are also to be accounted for on "Form H." The families of all officers, non-commissioned officers, soldiers, and policeman who reside in Barrack are to be enumerated on "Form A," and a note added that the Head of the Family is returned on "Form H." When necessary these families are to be supplied with "Form C." Permanent officials residing in Barracks, such as Barrack-Masters, Barrack-Sergeants, Canteen-Keepers, &c., with their servants, are to be supplied with "Form A" and "Form C." Such persons are not to be entered on "Form H."

Form I.—Return of Lunatics and Idiots in Institutions.

36. All Lunatic Asylums of both a public and private nature are to be supplied with these Forms; and as Lunatics are frequently inmates of other Institutions, one or more copies of this Form are also to be left, where necessary, with the Governor or other person appointed under the Act 10 Edw. 7 & 1 Geo. 5, cap. 11, to act as Enumerator for such Institution. Such forms when filled are to be attached to the ordinary Returns for these Institutions.

Form K.—Prison Return.

37. These Forms are intended for all Prisons, Bridewells, Penitentiaries, and Police Stations; such establishments are likewise to be supplied with "Form F" for their Hospitals (if any), but the persons enumerated on these latter are also to be entered on "Form K." The officers and servants of these establishments, with their families, are to be enumerated on "Form A."

The Deaf and Dumb and the Blind in Public Institutions and Schools.

38. When the Returns for "Public Institutions" and Schools (Forms E to K) have been collected, the Enumerator shall immediately examine them, and in each case in which it appears that a Deaf and Dumb or Blind person is an inmate of any Institution or School, he is to enter the name, or the initials of the name, as the case may be, of the afflicted person on one of the Forms containing questions relative to the Deaf and Dumb or the Blind, and leave it with the Chief Resident Officer of the establishment in which the person was enumerated, with a request that answers to the questions thereon may be inserted. The Enumerator is subsequently to collect these Forms and deliver them, with his other Returns, to his Superintendent.

FORMS "L 1," "L 2," "L 3," AND "L 4"—COLLEGE AND SCHOOL RETURNS.

39. " Form L 1 " is to contain the number of students or pupils on the books of each College or Boarding-School on any day or days of the fortnight ending the 13th May, 1911. " Form L 2 " is for the purpose of ascertaining the number of scholars (except those returned on " Form L 1") of all ages and classes attending School, or receiving instruction, as day or evening scholars, at Public and Private Educational Establishments, and at Literary Institutions of every description throughout Ireland, during the period above referred to. The Heads of such Institutions are to be respectfully requested to fill this Form, and their attention is to be directed to the circumstance, that it is not all the names on the Roll of the School which are required, but only the names of those Pupils in attendance during any part of the period specified. " Form L 3 " is intended for a return of the scholars on the Roll of each College, Boarding, and Day School, and their actual daily attendance during each month of the year ending the 31st March, 1911. " Form L 4 " is for the number of students on the Books of the Universities and University and Professional Colleges in Ireland. Further instructions on this subject will be forwarded with the " L " Forms.

FORMS " M 1," " M 2," AND " M 3 "—LAND CENSUS.

40. These Forms are for the purpose of ascertaining the number of Agricultural Holdings, the area and valuation of each, the number of Houses and Out-Offices, and the resident population on the night of 2nd April, 1911.

41. In filling " Form M 1 " the names of all the Landholders in the townland, whether resident or non-resident, are first to be inserted according to the size of their holdings, and the area and valuation of each holding are then to be entered. The Enumerator is to refer to " Form B 1 " for the same townland, from column 18 of which he will ascertain the names of all Landholders on whose holdings houses are situated. He is then to enter in column 5 of " Form M 1 " the number or numbers of the house or houses on the holding, as given in column 1 of " Form B 1," and proceed carefully to fill in all the information regarding such house or houses, and the inmates thereof, required in the remaining columns of " Form M 1," according to the instructions at the head of each column.

42. In those cases where there is no house on the holding, the Enumerator, after entering the name of the Landholder and the area and valuation of the holding, is to make a stroke (——) in each of the remaining columns. The area of land not occupied, or under towns, waste, &c., is to be entered after the last holding enumerated in the townland, as " Unallotted." (See Pattern Table on next page.)

43. " Form M 2 " is for a Summary of the particulars given on " Form M 1 " for the Townlands in each Electoral Division, or portion of an Electoral Division, in the Enumerator's District.

44. " Form M 3 " is intended to provide for those cases where an occupier of land, resident within the Enumerator's District, holds two or more farms, or has a farm which extends into two or more adjoining Townlands; the Enumerator is to show on this Form the Townland where each farm, or portion of a farm, is situated, giving the required particulars. He is to be careful to add the word " adjoin " in those cases where it applies, as directed in the Instructions on the Form. (See also Pattern Table on " Form M 3.")

FORM N—ENUMERATOR'S ABSTRACT.

45. One or more of these Abstracts shall be prepared for each townland or street, or portion of a townland or street, as the case may require, the necessary information being extracted by the Enumerator from the " B 1 " Return and the various Enumeration Returns, care being taken that in those cases where according to the instructions any persons are entered in more than one Return, they are not entered twice in these Abstracts. These Forms are also to be used for the purpose of making Abstracts of the Shipping Returns.

FORM O 1—ENUMERATOR'S SUMMARY OF HOUSES AND PERSONS.

46. When all the Abstracts have been filled, as above directed, the Enumerator is to make a summary of them upon " Form O 1," the " ENUMERATOR'S SUMMARY OF HOUSES AND PERSONS," entering the names of the several Townlands or Streets, or parts thereof, in his District, in the order in which they are arranged on " Form P 2." In case one " Form O 1 " is insufficient, two or more are to be used—carrying the total of the first forward to the second, and so on, and the fact that the summary consists of more than one Form should be clearly noted.

47. In compiling the Abstracts and Summary, the Enumerator is to be careful to see that the tot of the number of Males and of Females entered under the head of " Religious Profession " agrees with the total number of each sex as entered under the head of " Persons."

48. Having completed this " Summary," the Enumerator is to immediately transmit it to the Superintendent of his district.

FORM O 2—ENUMERATOR'S SUMMARY OF HOUSES BY CLASSES.

49. The number of inhabited houses of each class returned in " Form B 1 " should be entered in this Form in the columns provided for the purpose, in accordance with the number of families residing in them. The total number of houses in the four classes given in the Form must agree with the total number of inhabited houses. The information required for filling the columns headed " No. of Dwelling Houses " should be taken from " Form N," and the total number of out-offices should be entered from " Form B 2." Where an Enumerator's District extends into more than one District Electoral Division, or where it is partly civic* and partly rural, a separate summary should be made for each portion. These summaries should be forwarded with the General Returns.

FORM P 2—RETURN OF THE TOWNLANDS, &c., IN EACH ENUMERATOR'S DISTRICT.

50. " Form P 2 " is to be filled in duplicate according to the instructions on the Form, and one copy returned to this Office. The duplicate is to be preserved by the Enumerator.

FORM P 3—STATEMENT SHOWING DIFFERENCES BETWEEN NUMBER OF HOUSES AND POPULATION IN 1901 AND 1911.

51. The Enumerator is to enter on this Form all material differences between the figures for houses and population in 1901 and 1911, and to forward a Nil Return if there are no such differences. Further instructions are given in a Special Circular (No. 4), and a specimen report is given on the back of the Form.

FORM R.—STATUTORY DECLARATION BY THE ENUMERATORS.

52. Each Form, except those for the Public Institutions referred to below, should be signed by the Enumerator; but it having been represented that it might be difficult to find magistrates willing to give so much time as would be necessary to receive a Statutory Declaration for each Return separately, the "Statutory Declaration Return, Form R," has been prepared, which is to include in one Declaration all the Returns from each Enumerator except those on Forms "L 1," "L 2," "L 3," and "L 4." One of the Declaration Returns, when accurately filled up by the Enumerator, is to be declared by him before a Justice of the Peace, and transmitted to his Superintendent. Returns from Public Institutions, the inmates of which are to be enumerated by the officers of the Institutions specified in the Census Act, are not to be included in the Declaration Return, "Form R," and the Enumerator, when collecting them, is to see that they have been duly declared as directed by the Act. The Enumerator will observe that the Returns for Colleges and Boarding Schools and the other Institutions to be enumerated on "Form G"—see par. 34—do not come under the head: they are to be included in his Declaration Return. The Statutory Declarations should be made before a Justice of the Peace; but NOT at Petty Sessions. They are exempt from Stamp Duty, under the 54 and 55 Vic., cap. 39.

MAKING UP THE RETURNS.

53. The Forms "A," "E," "F," "G," "H," "I," and "K," being for the direct enumeration of the people, are to be stitched together at the left-hand upper corner in files by townlands or streets, or portions thereof, as the case may be, with "Form N," "Form B 1," and "Form B 2" in front, in the order here given, so that the abstract "Form N" will be the first form of the file.

54. When a townland or street is situated in two Parliamentary Divisions, or in more than one District Electoral Division or Parish, or is partly within and partly without a Parliamentary Borough, City, Urban District, Town or Village, a separate return should be made for each portion.

55. The "A" Returns for persons on board ships should be stitched together in a separate file with "Form B 3" and "Form N" in front, as directed above for Townlands, &c.

56. Forms "C," "D," and "O 2" are to be made up in files by Enumerators' districts; also the Returns (if any) containing answers to questions relative to the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind in Public Institutions and Schools.

57. The Returns on "Form M. 1" are to be arranged according to District Electoral Divisions, those for each District Electoral Division, or portion of a District Electoral Division in the Enumerator's District, being kept in a separate file, and the Summary "Form M 2" placed in front of the file. The Returns on "Form M 3" for the Enumerator's District are to be made up in one file.

58. When the above-mentioned Forms have been made up in the manner directed, they are to be delivered to the Superintendent of the District, who is alone authorised to inspect them, previous to their transmission to the Census Office.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

59. If the Enumerator finds at any time that he requires an additional supply of printed Forms, and that he cannot conveniently procure them from his Superintendent, or from any other Enumerator in his neighbourhood, he is, in order to save time, to apply for them direct by post to "The Secretary, Census Office, Charlemont House, Dublin," stating the Name and Letter, and the number of each Form required; also the Post Town to which they are to be forwarded. The postage is to be left unpaid.

60. All unused Forms remaining in the hands of the Enumerator, on the completion of the enumeration, are to be returned to the Superintendent for transmission to the Census Office.

61. The Census Commissioners are confident that in carrying the foregoing Instructions into effect the Enumerators will observe the greatest civility, and ask for the necessary information in a respectful manner, carefully observing the instructions in paragraph No. 4. Many people, at first view, regard Census inquiries with suspicion, in proportion to their want of knowledge of the results sought to be arrived at, and there are comparatively few so fully acquainted with the objects of a Census as to enable them to understand what advantage it can be to the State to possess minute information as to the social condition of any member of the community; yet it is information of this character, when properly classified, which forms the best guide to the Legislator and the Philanthropist in their efforts to elevate the condition of mankind.

62. If the Enumerator finds his progress obstructed by difficulties of any kind, he is to state them to the more enlightened and influential persons in his District, and respectfully solicit their aid in removing them.

63. Should any instance occur in which, to the Enumerator's knowledge, the Forms have been incorrectly filled in any particular whatever, he is, without delay, to make a detailed report of the circumstances to the Superintendent of his District, who will forward it to the Census Office, stating whether he considers, under the circumstances, a prosecution would be advisable; but in no case is a prosecution to be undertaken under the provisions of the Census Act 10 Edw. 7 and 1 Geo. 5, cap. 11, without express authority from the Census Commissioners.

64. The Enumerator will note the following extracts from the Census (Ireland) Act, 1910:—

> Sec. 7.—(1.) "If any Enumerator makes wilful default in the performance of any of his duties under this Act, he shall for each offence be liable, on conviction, under the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds."
>

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS TO ENUMERATORS.

Form L 1—College and Boarding School Return.
Form L 2—Return of Scholars attending (Day) Schools.
Form L 3—Return of Children on School Roll.

1. In accordance with paragraph 39 of the "Instructions to Enumerators," the above Forms are now forwarded, and, as soon as possible after their receipt, "Form L 1" is to be left at every Educational Establishment in which any portion of the Students or Pupils reside, whether a College, Seminary, Boarding-School, Model School, Orphanage, Reformatory, Industrial, Workhouse, or other School, and "Form L 3" at any of these establishments where a Daily Roll of Attendance is kept.

2. "Form L 2" and "Form L 3" are to be left at every other School within each Enumerator's District.

3. A copy of the accompanying Circular to the Principals, &c., is to be left at each Educational Establishment when the Enumerator is leaving the Forms.

4. The Enumerator will apprise the Principals or Teachers in the several Establishments that the Returns upon Forms "L 1" and "L 2" will be called for in a fortnight after the 13th of May; and, at the expiration of that period, the Enumerator will apply for the Returns, and forward them to his District Inspector for immediate transmission to this Office.

5. When collecting the Returns, the Enumerator will see that the headings, &c., are properly filled, and that the name of the District Electoral Division in which a School is situated corresponds with that in his "P 2" Return.

6. The Enumerator will further apprise Principals and Teachers that the "Form L 3" is to be called for not later than the 1st of July. These Returns, when collected, are also to be forwarded through the District Inspector to the Census Office.

7. The Enumerator will include in one Statutory Declaration Return (Form R) all the Schools in his District, giving the names of the Schools in the 3rd column and altering the word "Localities" to "Schools" in the heading, also the declaration at foot of Form R to suit the circumstances of the case. The Enumerator will further proceed in the manner shown in paragraph 52 of the "Instructions to Enumerators."

Census Office, Charlemont House, Dublin,
April, 1911.

The Census Commissioners beg to inform the Commissioners and Directors of Educational Boards and Institutions, the Principals, Managers and Teachers of Colleges and Schools, the Clergy of all Denominations, and others interested in the condition and progress of Instruction, whether public or private, that the Educational Census of Ireland will be taken for the Fortnight ending the 13*th of May next*, and is intended to comprise the Students or Pupils who actually attended upon any day or days during that period.

In Schools where a Roll is kept, a Return of the children on the Roll, and of their actual daily attendance during each month for the Year ended the 31*st March*, 1911, will be required, not later than the 1*st July*, 1911, according to the practice adopted at the last five Decennial Censuses.

The Principals of Colleges and Boarding Schools, and Masters of all Schools, are requested to furnish these Statistics as accurately as circumstances will admit, and in compliance with the instructions on the Forms. The Commissioners look forward with confidence to the assistance of every one connected with Education in Ireland in the procurement of the fullest and most trustworthy Returns.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1911.

Circular No. 3.

2nd January, 1911.

Sir,—1. I am directed by the Census Commissioners to enclose herewith a Copy of the Census Act for Ireland, 10 Edw. 7 & 1 Geo. 5, cap 11, from section 2 of which you will perceive that the collection of the Census Returns will commence on Monday, the third day of April next, and that Officers and Men of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and of the Police Force of Dublin Metropolis, are to act as Enumerators.

2. You will, therefore, from time to time, have delivered to you Parcels—marked " Private "—containing Forms of various kinds, which are to be carefully preserved in your house or in the adjoining Barracks, and are not to be opened until you receive further instructions. All other parcels will, of course, be immediately opened by you. As the very large number of Forms to be forwarded might cause great inconvenience if their transmission was not commenced at an early period, the necessity of now addressing you on this subject is manifest.

3. I am further directed to forward to you herewith some copies of Form P 1, upon which you will state the Names and Stations of the various Members of the Force in your District whom you recommend on account of their intelligence and local knowledge for appointment as Enumerators in connection with the forthcoming Census; also Copies of Form P 2, on which you will enter the names of the Townlands, &c., allotted to each Enumerator. The Census is to be taken by Townlands, District Electoral Divisions, Poor Law Unions, Parishes, Baronies, Parliamentary Divisions, and Counties, and also by Streets, Towns or Villages, Urban Districts, Cities, and Parliamentary Boroughs. Sets of Form P 1 and Form P 2 are to be filled in duplicate; one set is to be returned to this Office on or before the 16th day of February, and the other is to be retained by you for Census purposes.

4. As Special Forms will be required for enumerating the various classes of the community, I am also directed to request you to state on Form Q, enclosed, the number of Houses and of Families in your District, also the number of Colleges and Boarding Schools, Barracks, Workhouses, Hospitals, Lunatic Asylums, Prisons, and other Establishments of a public nature within your District, with the probable number of inmates, as nearly as can be estimated, in order that a sufficient supply of the appropriate Forms may be sent to you.

5. If the sea touches your District in any part, or if Navigable Lakes, Rivers, or Canals occur in it, you will also state, as far as is in your power, on Form Q, the Number of Ships or Boats usually within your District.

6. Form Q should be filled up and forwarded to this Office at your earliest convenience.

7. Suitable envelopes for all communications with the Census Office and with your Enumerators are forwarded herewith, and a further supply, as well as additional Copies of Forms P 1, P 2, and Q will be sent, if necessary.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1911.

Circular No. 4.

Census Office, Charlemont House, Dublin,
4th January, 1911.

Sir,

I beg to state that much inconvenience and delay were caused in connection with previous Censuses owing to the necessity, in many instances, on the revision of the County Books, of making local inquiries through the Police regarding discrepancies between the returns furnished for townlands and small towns, and the figures published for the preceding Census.

Although in many cases these discrepancies were caused by decreases or increases in the population, it was ascertained that they were principally owing to houses which properly belonged to one townland having been included in the return for an adjoining townland; to the rural portion of a townland having been included in a town situated in it; or to small towns, or portions of them, having been included in the townlands on which they stood.

Under these circumstances the Census Commissioners request that you will be so good as to have the houses and population of the townlands and towns in your District, as given in Table VII. of enclosed County Book, noted, in the Sub-Districts in which they are situated, on Form P 2, a supply of which has been already sent.

When the enumeration for 1911 has been completed, the inhabited houses and population for that period should be similarly entered by the Enumerator, who should furnish on the Form P 3, which will afterwards be supplied for the purpose, an explanation of any material discrepancy which may be discovered between the figures for 1901 and 1911. If there is no such discrepancy, a Return marked "nil" should be forwarded.

The figures for 1911 are only to be entered on the duplicate Form P 2, which is to be retained by the Enumerator.

A supply of this Circular is enclosed in order that a copy may be filed in each Sub-District for the information of the Enumerators, as well as in your office.

10 Edw. 7 and 1 Geo. 5, cap. 11.

NOTICE is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the 10 Edw. 7 and 1 Geo. 5, cap. 11, An Account of the Population of Ireland on the Night of Sunday, the 2nd April next, will be taken by the Royal Irish Constabulary and Dublin Metropolitan Police and such other competent persons as the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland may appoint; and that on the Monday following the Census Day, or as soon after as possible, such Enumerators will visit each house within their respective districts, "between the hours of half-past eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon," and take an account in writing of "the Sex, Age, Religious Profession, Birthplace, and Occupation," of its inmates, and in the case of married persons "the duration of marriage and the number of children born of the marriage and the number of such children living"; and will also take an account of the number of "inhabited Houses, and of uninhabited Houses, and of Houses then building" in their respective districts; "and of the number of rooms occupied by any occupier who is in occupation of less than five Rooms"; and of all such further particulars as they may, subject to the provisions of the Act, be instructed by the Chief or Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant to inquire into.

Under Section 5 of the above recited Statute printed Forms have been prepared "for the taking of the Census," and the Enumerators have been instructed to leave the "Family Return," Form A, with the Head of each Family prior to the date fixed for taking the Census. Special Forms have been constructed for the use of the various Public Institutions.

As the Enumerators have been directed to collect the "Family" and other Returns on Monday, the 3rd April, or as soon after as possible, Heads of Families and others are particularly requested to fill up the forms immediately after the night of the Census, and as the value of the inquiry depends on the manner in which the Householders' and other Schedules are filled up, the Heading of each Column, also the Instructions and Pattern Tables, should be carefully read over before filling the Forms.

Section 2 authorizes and empowers every Enumerator to ask "all such questions of all persons within his District respecting themselves or the persons constituting their respective families, and respecting such further particulars as may be necessary for the purpose of taking the said accounts," and by Section 7 (subject to the provisions therein) any person who "refuses to answer or wilfully gives a false answer to any question necessary for obtaining the information required to be obtained" under the Act, is liable to a penalty of Five Pounds.

Under Section 7 any Enumerator who "makes wilful default in the performance of any of his duties" under the Act, is liable to a Fine not exceeding Five Pounds, and any person employed in taking the Census who, without lawful authority, communicates any information acquired in the course of his employment, is "guilty of a breach of official trust within the meaning of the Official Secrets Act, 1889," and is liable to prosecution therefor under the provisions of that Act.

The Commissioners desire to express the hope that the Heads of Families and others by whom particulars may be furnished will co-operate with them in their efforts to obtain full and accurate information in connection with this great Social Inquiry. The facts will be published in general abstracts only, and strict care will be taken that the Returns are not used for the gratification of curiosity.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1911.

Circular No. 9.

Census Office, Charlemont House, Dublin,
1st April, 1911.

SIR,

I am directed by the Census Commissioners to call your particular attention to paragraph No. 14 of the "Instructions to Enumerators" as to making a separate file for each Town or Village of 20 houses or upwards, instead of including them with the townland or townlands on which they are situated, as was done in very many instances with regard to small towns in 1901.

In examining the "P 2" Returns of the present Census, it has been found in some cases that small towns have been included with the townland population, instead of being shown separately; and I am to request that special care may be taken that, if there is a small town on the townland, two files be made, and if it extends into two townlands, three files, and so on.

The particulars of each file should be entered on a separate line of the Forms "O 1" and "O 2" and in the case of the latter (Form "O 2,") a separate summary should be made for each Electoral Division, or portion of an Electoral Division, care being taken not to include Towns of 2,000 inhabitants and upwards, and Towns having Town Commissioners or other Local Government, in the same summary ("Form O 2") with the rural portions of the Enumerator's District.

I am also directed to call your particular attention to paragraphs 53 to 58 of the above instructions as to "Making up the Returns," and to paragraphs 10 to 12 of the "Instructions to Superintendents" as to "Forwarding the Returns."

A supply of this Circular is enclosed in order that a copy may be filed in each Sub-District for the information of the Enumerators, as well as in your office.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE COLUMN HEADED "RANK, PROFESSION, OR OCCUPATION."

A person following more Distinct Occupations than one, should insert each of them in the order of their importance.

1. The Titles of Peers and other Persons of Rank to be inserted as well as any important office they may hold.

2. Members of Parliament, Magistrates, Aldermen, and other important public Officers, to state their profession or occupation, if any, after their official rank or title.

3. All persons serving in the Army and Navy to state their rank, and the branch of the service to which they belong. Officers to state whether on the Active or the Retired List; Pensioners from the Army and Navy to state the service to which they belong.

4. All persons in the Civil Service to state their rank, and the department or branch to which they belong; those retired or superannuated to be distinguished.

5. Ministers of Religion.—Clergymen of every religious denomination are requested to describe themselves according to their clerical rank or position, and to state distinctly the Religious Body to which they belong.

6. Legal Profession.—Barristers to state whether they are in actual practice. The designation Solicitor to be confined to those whose names are actually on the Roll. Clerks in Solicitors' offices should state whether they are Solicitor's Managing, Articled, or General Clerk. Officers of any Court, to state the name of the Office, and the name of the Court.

7. Members of the Medical Profession to state whether they practise as Physician, Surgeon, Dentist, Oculist, General Practitioner, Apothecary, Medical Assistant, &c., or are "not practising." They should also state the University or other Society of which they are Graduates, Fellows, or Licentiates.

8. Professors, Teachers, Public Writers, Authors, and Scientific Men, to state the particular branch of Science or Literature which they follow; Artists, the art which they cultivate. Graduates should enter their degrees in this column.

9. Students of Theology, Law, or Medicine, and Undergraduates of any University, to be so returned.

10. Scholars.—Children or young persons attending a School or receiving regular instruction at home to be returned as Scholars.

11. Farmers.—This term is to be applied only to the occupiers of land. Sons or Daughters employed at home or on the farm may be returned—"Farmer's Son," "Farmer's Daughter." Persons employed on the farm and sleeping in the Farmer's house should be described as Farm Servants.

12. Agricultural Labourers, Shepherds, and others employed on Farms, but not living in the Farmer's house, should be described as Agricultural Labourers, Shepherds, &c.

13. Persons engaged in Commerce, as Merchants, Brokers, Agents, &c., to state in all cases the particular branch of Commerce in which they are engaged, or the commodity in which they chiefly deal.—Examples:—"Corn Merchant," "Member of————Stock Exchange," "Tea Agent." Commercial Clerk, Commercial Traveller, Shopman—always to add in what branch of business.

14. In Trades, Manufactures, or other Business, Masters should, in all cases, be distinguished. Example: "Carpenter—Master."

15. Workers in Manufactures, and generally in the Mechanical Arts, should distinctly state the particular branch of work, and the material, if they are not implied in the names, as in Brass founder, Iron moulder. Where the trade is much sub-divided, both trade and branch are to be returned thus—"Watchmaker—Finisher,"; "Printer—Compositor."

16. Miners should state the description of Mine in which they work.—Examples: "Coal Miner," "Lead Miner," "Copper Miner," &c. The term Miner should never be used alone.

17. Engineers.—Civil Engineers, and Mining Engineers, to be so described. Workmen employed in works or factories are to be distinctly described.—Examples: "Engine Smith at Factory," "Engine Fitter at Works." Engine Drivers, Stokers, and Firemen to be described in connection with the manufactory, railway, steam-vessel, &c., in which they are employed.—Examples: "Railway Engine Driver," "Stoker in Linen Factory." "Engineer" alone is not to be used.

18. Artisans and Mechanics should invariably state the particular branch of mechanical art or business in which they are employed.

19. Weaver.—"Silk," "Wool," "Worsted," "Cotton," &c., should always be written before this general term, so as to express distinctly the material which he weaves; thus, "Cotton Weaver."

20. Domestic Servants should be described according to the nature of their service, adding in all cases "Domestic Servant."—Examples: "Coachman—Domestic Servant," "Gardener—Domestic Servant," "Cook—Domestic Servant."

21. Labourers, Porters, to be described according to the nature of their employment.—Examples: "Railway Porter," "Bricklayer's Labourer," "Labourer in Iron Works," "General Labourer,"—see also Instruction No. 12. The term Labourer should never be used alone.

22. Persons ordinarily engaged in some industry, but Out of Employment at the time of the Census, should be so described; as "Bricklayer, unemployed,"; "Carpenter, unemployed."

23. Persons following no Profession, Trade, or Calling, and holding no public office, but deriving their incomes chiefly from land, houses, dividends, interest of money, annuities, &c., should describe themselves accordingly. The indefinite terms, Gentlemen, Esquire, are not to be used. Persons who have retired from business to be entered thus—"Retired Farmer," "Retired Grocer."

24. Women and Children.—The occupation of those who are regularly employed from home, or who follow any business at home, is to be distinctly recorded, but no entry should be made in the case of those solely engaged in domestic duties at home. See also Instruction No. 10.

Note.—For Examples of the mode of filling up this Return, see Pattern Tables on another part of this Form.

Extracts from the Census (Ireland) Act, 1910, 10 Edw. VII. and 1 Geo. V., cap. 11.

Sec. 2. (5.) "Every Enumerator may ask all such questions of all persons within his district respecting themselves or the persons constituting their respective families, and respecting such further particulars as may be necessary for the purpose of taking the said accounts."

Sec. 7. (2.) "If any person refuses to answer or wilfully gives a false answer to any question necessary for obtaining the information required to be obtained under this Act, he shall for each offence be liable on conviction under the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds; Provided that no person shall be subject to any such penalty for refusing to state his religious profession."

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

HEADS OF FAMILIES are requested to insert the particulars specified on the other side, in compliance with the Census (Ireland) Act, 1910, 10 Edw. VII., and 1 Geo. V., c. 11.

If a House be let or sub-let to Separate Families, or to Lodgers (not Boarders), each HEAD OF A FAMILY OR LODGER must make a return for his portion of the house upon a SEPARATE FORM.

Hotel and Lodging-house Keepers, and Stewards of Clubs, are to give a Return of all Persons who arrive at their Establishments on Monday, the 3rd of April, and who had not been Enumerated elsewhere.

This Paper will be CALLED FOR ON Monday, April 3rd, or as soon after as possible, between the hours of half-past eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon, by the appointed Enumerator, and it is desirable that the required particulars be written in the proper columns by the Morning of that Day, in order that his progress may not be delayed. The Enumerator will assist such Persons as may not be able to fill the Form themselves.

No question shall be put by the Enumerator for the purpose of obtaining information other than the information required by the Forms and instructions issued under the authority of the Census Act.

The facts will be published in General Abstracts only, and strict care will be taken that the Returns are not used for the gratification of curiosity, or for any other object than that of rendering the Census as complete as possible. If any person employed in taking the Census communicates without lawful authority any information acquired in the course of his employment, he is liable to punishment under the Official Secrets Act, 1889.

Attention is directed to the Extracts from the Census Act printed on this Form; and also to the Directions at head of each column.

The great importance to Medical and Statistical Science of the information required by the questions asked in this Form will, it is hoped, induce the Heads of Families to afford the Enumerators every facility in the execution of their duty, by either filling the Return themselves, or giving correct information to enable the Enumerators to do so.

The alleviation of human suffering arising from Bodily Infirmity is a work in which every Member of the Community should naturally feel an interest, and one important step in this direction is to ascertain the extent and character of the evils to be contended with; it is confidently hoped that towards this most desirable object this Return will materially assist.

The Medical Attendants on the Sick are earnestly requested to aid the Heads of Families and the Enumerators in filling up this Table, by supplying the proper Names of the Diseases.

The Census Returns will be considered as strictly confidential, and will be used solely in compiling General Statistical Tables, in which numbers and classes only shall appear.
